Yugoslavia's Bloody Collapse Causes Course And Consequences:

Yugoslavia's Bloody Collapse Christopher Bennett,1997 An incisive and revealing history of how Yugoslavia plunged into violence in the 1990s Over the past two years the entire world watched in horror as one of Europe's most stable countries plunged into an orgy of violence and bloodshed that has invoked comparisons to the Holocaust Aside from empty threats and diplomatic hand wringing the West has done little to stop the ethnic cleansing the sieges and the brutality that has characterized the conflict in the former Yugoslavia Contrary to common wisdom the hyper violent disintegration of the former Yugoslavia is not simply and exclusively the product of inherent and irrational ethnic animosities and centuries of strife In this engaging book journalist Christopher Bennett traces the turning point to the 1987 struggle within the Serbian Communist party which was between adherents of a Serb nationalist ideology embodied by Slobodan Milosevic and the other Yugoslavs who clung to the vision of a multinational state As soon as Milosevic gained the upper hand he ruthlessly purged his rivals and launched a massive campaign of media indoctrination to stir up Serb nationalism This new nationalism which has repelled the world since 1991 is primarily Milosevic's creation and not merely the result of historical enmity As a student at two different Yugoslav universities in the 1980's Bennett witnessed firsthand many of the critical events which contributed to Yugoslavia's destruction He renders an incisive and accessible history covering the period from Tito's dictatorship to the present day

Haunted Histories and Troubled Pasts Amanda Howell, Stephanie Green, 2024-04-18 Haunted Histories and Troubled Pasts speaks to how a transnational array of recent screen entertainments participate through horror in public discourses of history the social and creative work of reshaping popular understanding of our world through the lens of the past Contemporary film and television and popular screen cultures more generally are distinguished by their many and varied engagements with history including participation in worldwide movements to reconcile past losses and injuries with present legacies The chapters in this collection address themselves to 21st century screen horror's participation in this widespread fascination with and concern for the historical its recurrent reimagining of the relation between the past and present which is part of its inheritance from the Gothic They are concerned with the historical work of horror's spectral occupations its visceral threats of violence and its capacity for exploring repressed social identities as well as the ruptures and impositions of colonization and nationhood Trauma is a key theme in this book examined through themes of war and genocide ghostly invasions institutionalized abuse apocalyptic threat and environmental destruction These persistent fearful reimaginings of the past can take many lurid sometimes tritely generic forms Together these chapters explore and reflect upon horror's ability to speak through them to the unspoken of history to push the boundaries and probe the fault lines and ideological impositions of received historical narratives while reminding us that history and the historical imagination persist as sites of contention

Charting a New Diplomatic Course Cecil V. Crabb, Jr., Leila S. Saredine, Glenn J. Antizzo, 2001-08-01 America's victory in the Cold War is a milestone in the nation's diplomatic experience The disintegration of the Soviet Union and the defeat of communism have made containment policy the foundation of U S foreign relations for almost a half century obsolete and policymakers and political scientists alike struggle to decide what new strategy should guide the country's involvement on the international stage In this pathbreaking work Cecil V Crabb Jr Leila E Sarriddine and Glenn J Antizzo identify and analyze six distinct approaches to America's diplomatic course after the Cold War addressing perhaps the most important question of our time what should U S foreign policy be in the twenty first century First the authors examine the familiar doctrine of American isolationism and consider an alternative approach conservative neo isolationism which encourages policymakers to use careful discrimination but decisive action in assuming commitments abroad Liberal neo isolationism a third possible course resists active interventionist strategies because of the dangers they pose to congressional power and America's democratic system At the opposite end of the spectrum are conservative interventionism the belief that America must maintain a strong military arsenal and engage in preventative diplomacy liberal interventionism the conviction that America has a responsibility to actively promote the cause of democracy and defend human rights beyond its own borders and pragmatic interventionism an approach taken by the Clinton Administration that relies on a cost benefit analysis of policy as problems arise Elegantly written and authoritatively researched Charting a New Diplomatic Course provides a much needed frame of reference for anyone interested in America's future in international affairs Deliberate force a case study in effective air campaigning...

, Ethnic Conflict in Asymmetric Federations Gorana Grgić, 2016-12-19 In the last years of their existence the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics USSR and the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia SFRY found themselves facing a similar and very grim state of affairs After their disintegration the former Yugoslav republics spiralled into a set of ethnic conflicts that did not leave a single one of them unscathed and in the ex Soviet space conflicts were far more limited This book offers an in depth analysis of the difference in state collapses and ensuing conflicts in the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia by focusing on their asymmetric ethnofederal structure and the different dynamics of ethnic mobilization that the federal units experienced Moreover it explores the links between identity politics and international relations as the latter has been a latecomer in research on ethnonationalism and ethnic conflict Finally it contributes to the literature on the democratization conflict nexus by proposing that the sequencing of ethnic mobilization and political liberalization has significant effects on the likelihood of conflict This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of Post Soviet politics Balkan politics ethnic conflict peace and conflict studies federalism and more broadly to comparative politics and international relations The Balkans Since the Second World War R. J. Crampton, 2014-07-15 Since the collapse of Eastern European communism the Balkans have been more prominent in world affairs than at any time since before the First World War Crises in the area have led NATO to fire its first ever shots in anger whilst international forces have been deployed on a scale and in a manner unprecedented in Europe since World War Two An understanding of why this happened is impossible without some knowledge of the history of the area before the fall of communism of how the communists came to power and how they used their authority thereafter Covering the communist states of Albania Bulgaria Romania and Yugoslavia and including Greece Richard Crampton provides a highly readable introduction to that history one as the variety of responses that appeared in South East European writings on the West The second section analyses the transitions that took place in representation during the 1990s Here contributors explore both the harsh denigration of the Balkans which came to dominate western discourse after the initial euphoria of 1989 and the emerging tradition of contesting Western balkanism in South East European cultural production Through this dual emphasis the volume exposes the representational practices that help to maintain a deeply divided Europe and challenges the economic and political injustices that result Despite the rise to prominence of postcolonial theory with its awareness of global inequality the current crises in many parts of South East Europe have received scant attention in literary and cultural studies The Balkans and the West addresses this deficiency Ranging in focus from Serbian cinema to Romanian travel literature from Western economic writings to Yugoslav fiction and from public discourse in Albania to NATO's vast propaganda machine the essays offer wide insight into representation and power in the contemporary European context The Statesman's Yearbook 2006 B.

included to present a more rounded picture of press coverage Building Democracy in the Yugoslav Successor States Sabrina P. Ramet, Christine M. Hassenstab, Ola Listhaug, 2017-05-15 Building democracy in societies that have known only authoritarian rule for half a century is complicated Taking the post Yugoslav region as its case study this volume shows how success with democratisation depends on various factors including establishing the rule of law the consolidation of free media and society's acceptance of ethnic religious and sexual minorities Surveying the seven successor states the authors argue that Slovenia is in a class by itself as the most successful with Croatia and Serbia not far behind The other states Bosnia Herzegovina Macedonia Montenegro and Kosovo are all struggling with problems of corruption poverty and unemployment The authors treat the issue of values as a policy problem in its own right debating the extent to which values have been transformed by changes in education and the media how churches and women's organisations have entered into the policy debate and whether governments have embraced a programme designed to effect changes in values
