Our Groove on Kermit Ernest Campbell, 2005 A critical work on the African American vernacular tradition and its expression in contemporary Hip hop Abandoning the Black Hero John C. Charles, 2012-12-15

Abandoning the Black Hero John C. Charles, 2012-12-15 Abandoning the Black Hero is the first book to examine the postwar African American white life novel novels with white protagonists written by African Americans These fascinating works have been understudied despite having been written by such defining figures in the tradition as Richard Wright Zora Neale Hurston James Baldwin Ann Petry and Chester Himes as well as lesser known but formerly best selling authors Willard Motley and Frank Yerby John C Charles argues that these fictions have been overlooked because they deviate from two critical suppositions that black literature is always about black life and that when it represents whiteness it must attack white supremacy The authors are however quite sympathetic in the treatment of their white protagonists which Charles contends should be read not as a failure of racial pride but instead as a strategy for claiming creative freedom expansive moral authority and critical agency In an era when Negro writers were expected to protest their sympathetic treatment of white suffering grants these authors a degree of racial privacy previously unavailable to them White writers after all have the privilege of racial privacy because they are never pressured to write only about white life Charles reveals that the freedom to abandon the Negro problem encouraged these authors to explore a range of new genres and themes generating a strikingly diverse body of novels that significantly revise our understanding of mid twentieth century black writing

Dreaming Out Loud Horace Porter, 2015-04-15 Dreaming Out Loud brings together essays by many of the most well known and respected African American writers of the twentieth and twenty first centuries discussing various aspects of the vocation craft and art of writing fiction Though many of the writers included here are also accomplished poets essayists and playwrights this collection and the essays it contains remains focused on the novel as a genre and an art form Some essays explore the challenges of being an African American writer in the United States broadly addressing aesthetic and racial prejudice in American publishing and literature and its changing face over the decades Others are more specific and personal recounting how the authors came to be a reader and writer in a culture that did not always encourage them to do so Some are more general and focus on practice and craft while still other essays offer detailed behind the scenes accounts of how famous novels such as Native Son Invisible Man The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman and The Color Purple came to life Ranging from the Harlem Renaissance through the Civil Rights movement and into the twenty first century this anthology explores what it has meant to be an African American novelist over the past hundred years Found within are essays by twenty one African American novelists including Nobel Prize winner Toni Morrison National Book Award winners Ralph Ellison and Charles Johnson Pulitzer Prize winners Alice Walker and James Alan McPherson and well known canonical writers such as W E B Du Bois James Weldon Johnson Langston Hughes Richard Wright Zora Neale Hurston and Margaret Walker Dreaming Out Loud seeks to inspire writers and readers alike while offering a fascinating and important portrait of novelists at work in their own words

Come Back in September Darryl Pinckney, 2022-10-25 Critic and writer Darryl Pinckney recalls his friendship and apprenticeship with Elizabeth Hardwick and Barbara Epstein and the introduction they offered him to the New York literary world Darryl Pinckney arrived at Columbia University in New York City in the early 1970s and had the opportunity to enroll in Elizabeth Hardwick s creative writing class at Barnard It changed his life When the semester was over he continued to visit her and he became close to both Hardwick and Barbara Epstein Hardwick s best friend and neighbor and a fellow founder of The New York Review of Books Pinckney was drawn into a New York literary world where he encountered some of the fascinating contributors to the Review among them Susan Sontag Robert Lowell and Mary McCarthy Yet the intellectual and artistic freedom that Pinckney observed on West Sixty seventh Street could conflict with the demands of his politically minded family and their sense of the unavoidable lessons of black history In addition through his peers and former classmates such as Felice Rosser Jim Jarmusch Jean Michel Basquiat Lucy Sante Howard Brookner and Nan Goldin Pinckney witnessed the coming together of the New Wave scene in the East Village He experienced the avant garde life at the same time as he was discovering the sexual freedom brought by gay liberation It was his time for hope In Come Back in September through his memories of the city and of Hardwick we see the emergence and evolution of Pinckney himself as a writer The several lives of Chester Himes ,1997 The Writings of Chester Himes are colored by a fascinating blend of hatred and tenderness of hard boiled realism and generous idealism His life was complex his relationships complicated How did this gifted son of a respectable southern black family become a juvenile delinquent How did he acquire self esteem and a new sense of identity by writing short stories while in the Ohio state penitentiary Drawn from his letters notebooks memoirs and fiction this straightforward account of Himes s varied episodic life attempts to trace the origins of his significant literary gift It details the socioeconomic familial and cultural background that fed his ambivalent views on race in America His Deep South childhood his adolescence in the Midwest his young manhood in prison his years as a menial laborer his struggle as an author in California and New York City and finally his glory days as an expatriate and celebrity in France and Spain are plumbed deeply for their effects upon his creative urges and his works In his native country Himes is recalled more as the author of successful detective novels such as Cotton Comes to Harlem than as a practitioner of the art of fiction In France and Spain his adopted countries he is regarded as a literary master This critical biography is the bittersweet story of a troubled man who found salvation in writing A Companion to Crime Fiction Charles J. Rzepka, Lee Horsley, 2020-07-13 A Companion to Crime Fiction presents the definitive guide to this popular genre from its origins in the eighteenth century to the present day A collection of forty seven newly commissioned essays from a team of leading scholars across the globe make this Companion the definitive guide to crime fiction Follows the development of the genre from its origins in the eighteenth century through to its phenomenal present day popularity Features full length critical essays on the most significant authors and film makers from Arthur Conan Doyle and Dashiell Hammett to Alfred Hitchcock and Martin Scorsese exploring the ways in which they have shaped and influenced the field Includes extensive references to the most up to date scholarship and a comprehensive bibliography Dreams for Dead Bodies Michelle Robinson, 2016-02-02 Explores U S detective fiction s deep engagement with the shifting dynamics of race and labor in America Maghrebs in Motion Suzanne Gauch, 2016 Exploring films made in Tunisia Morocco and Algeria from 1985 to 2009 Suzanne Gauch illustrates how late post independence and early twenty first century North African cinema prefigured many of the transformations in perception and relation that stunned both participants and onlookers during the remarkable uprisings of the 2011 Arab Spring Through multifaceted examinations of key films by nine filmmakers Farida Benlyazid Mohamed Chouikh Nacer Khemir Nabil Ayouch Ly s Salem Nadia El Fani Tariq Teguia Faouzi Bensa di and Nejib Belkadhi Gauch delineates the shifting relation of politics to film in the era of neoliberal globalization Each work she argues taps the power inherent in cinema to destabilize patterns of perception and judgment while taking film s role as popular entertainment in new directions Highlighting how each film taps into the mobility at the core of cinema to break through the boundaries that have long circumscribed filmmaking from North Africa Gauch shows how this cinema continues to forge and reflect unexpected trajectories for itself and its audiences

Reading Race Norman K Denzin, 2002-03-29 In this insightful book one of America's leading commentators on culture and society turns his gaze upon cinematic race relations examining the relationship between film race and culture Acute richly illustrated and timely the book deepens our understanding of the politics of race and the symbolic complexity of segregation and discrimination

The Black Cultural Front Brian Dolinar, 2012-04-27 This book examines the formation of a black cultural front by looking at the works of poet Langston Hughes novelist Chester Himes and cartoonist Ollie Harrington While none of these writers were card carrying members of the Communist Party they all participated in the Left during their careers Interestingly they all turned to creating popular culture in order to reach the black masses who were captivated by movies radio newspapers and detective novels There are chapters on Hughes's Simple stories Himes's detective fiction and Harrington's Bootsie cartoons Collectively the experience of these three figures contributes to the story of a long movement for African American freedom that flourished during the 1930s 1940s and 1950s Yet this book also stresses the impact that McCarthyism had on dismantling the Black Left and how it affected each individual involved Each was radicalized at a different moment and for different reasons

Sitting Inside: Buddhist Practice in America's Prisons Scott Whitney, 2017-02-06 The book has two audiences prison inmates who want to start practicing Buddhism and volunteers from American sanghas who want to work with prison dharma groups The book discusses the basics of meditation compassion and precept practice within the correctional facility context Whitney discusses some of the history of Buddhist involvement in American prisons as well as the history of constitutional interpretations of religious freedom as applied to inmates The book is meant to be as practical as possible and it emphasizes Buddhism in action through the precepts peacemaking and sangha building inside and out

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods Ebony, 1998-04 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Prison Writing in 20th-Century America H. Bruce Franklin, 1998-06-01 Harrowing in their frank detail and desperate tone the selections in this anthology pack an emotional wallop Should be required reading for anyone concerned about the violence in our society and the high rate of recidivism Publishers Weekly Includes work by Jack London Nelson Algren Chester Himes Jack Henry Abbott Robert Lowell Malcolm X Mumia Abu Jamal and Piri Thomas Fourth City Doran Larson, 2014-02-01 At 2 26 million incarcerated Americans not only outnumber the nation's fourth largest city they make up a national constituency bound by a shared condition Fourth City Essays from the Prison in America presents more than seventy essays from twenty seven states written by incarcerated Americans chronicling their experience inside In essays as moving as they are eloquent the authors speak out against a national prison complex that fails so badly at the task of rehabilitation that 60% of the 650 000 Americans released each year return to prison These essays document the authors efforts at self help the institutional resistance such efforts meet at nearly every turn and the impact in money and lives that this resistance has on the public Directly confronting the images of prisons and prisoners manufactured by popular media so called reality TV and for profit local and national news sources Fourth City recognizes American prisoners as our primary frontline witnesses to the dysfunction of the largest prison system on earth Filled with deeply personal stories of coping survival resistance and transformation Fourth City should be read by every American who believes that law should achieve order in the cause of justice rather than at its cost Romance and Rights Alex Lubin, 2009-09-18 Romance and Rights The Politics of Interracial Intimacy 1945 1954 studies the meaning of interracial romance love and sex in the ten years after World War II How was interracial romance treated in popular culture by civil rights leaders African American soldiers and white segregationists Previous studies focus on the period beginning in 1967 when the Supreme Court overturned the last state anti miscegenation law Loving v Virginia Lubin's study however suggests that we cannot fully understand contemporary debates about hybridity or mixed race identity without first comprehending how WWII changed the terrain The book focuses on the years immediately after the war when ideologies of race gender and sexuality were being reformulated and solidified in both the academy and the public Lubin shows that interracial romance particularly between blacks and whites was a testing ground for both the general American public and the American government The government wanted interracial relationships to be treated primarily as private affairs to keep attention off contradictions between its outward aura of cultural freedom and the realities of Jim Crow politics and anti miscegenation laws Activists however wanted interracial intimacy treated as a public act one that could be used symbolically to promote equal rights and expanded opportunities These contradictory impulses helped shape our current perceptions about interracial romances and their broader significance in American culture Romance and Rights ends in 1954 the year of the Brown v Board of Education decision before the civil rights movement became well organized By closely examining postwar popular culture African American literature NAACP manuscripts miscegenation laws and segregationist protest letters among other resources the author analyzes postwar attitudes towards interracial romance showing how complex and often contradictory those attitudes could be

Writers and Missionaries Adam Shatz, 2023-05-09 Through a close reading of the lives and works of some of the greatest intellectuals of recent times Adam Shatz asks do writers have an ethical imperative to question injustice How can one remain a dispassionate thinker when involved in the cut and thrust of politics And in an age of horror and crisis what does it mean to be a committed writer Shatz interrogates the major figures of twentieth and twenty first century thought and finds within their lives and work the roots of our present intellectual and geopolitical situation Charting the role of the committed intellectual through the work of Jean Paul Sartre on the Algerian War and Edward Said's lifelong solidarity with the Palestinian people to Fouad Ajami's role as the native informant for pro intervention cause in the lead up to the invasion of Iraq alongside philosophers and critics Roland Barthes Jacques Derrida and Claude Lvi Strauss and the novelists Michel Houellebecq and Richard Wright each struggled to reconcile their writing and their politics their thought and their commitments Writers and Missionaries is an erudite and incisive work of intellectual elucidation and biographical enquiry that demands that we interrogate anew the relation of thought and action in the struggle for a more just world
