Claire Cutler, Thomas Dietz, 2017-03-31 This edited volume provides critical reflections on the interplay between politics and law in an increasingly transnationalized global political economy. It focuses specifically on the emergence and operation of new forms of governance that are developing through a variety of transnational contractual practices, institutions, and laws in multiple sectors and areas of economic activity. Interdisciplinary in nature, the volume includes contributions from law, political science, sociology, and international politics, with the focus on the political foundations of transnational contract being both original and path breaking. Placing power at the center of the analysis, the volume reveals the heterogeneous landscape of contemporary law making and the different kinds of politics giving rise to this form of global ordering. As the contributors note, this new form of governance requires a different type of political theory and legal theory, with the volume advancing understanding of the analytical, theoretical, and normative dimensions of private transnational governance by contract making a valuable contribution to new theory in law and politics. It will be of great interest to students and academics in law, political science, international relations, international political economy, and sociology, as well as international commercial arbitration lawyers, trade and investment lawyers, and legal firms.
