YOKO Learns to Read

This book is about a cat named Yoko who was from Japan. Yoko reads her favorite three books from Japan. The teacher puts a leaf for each book on the wall. Yoko realizes that all of her friends have more leaves on the wall. She gets upset because she only knows how to read these three books. She really wants to add more leaves to the wall. Her mother talks to the teacher and Yoko ends up learning how to read books in English. She gets to add more leaves to the wall and she is so proud of herself.

Being a cookie sampler takes Mac's mind off his troubles with fractions. Yoko is practicing gestures and facial expressions in anticipation of the school play tryouts. Maya is Ms. Choi's helper in the after school Make and Take Club for younger crafters. Lacey is taking care of the little community library that Gram built and searching for the next mystery to solve. When two of Ms. Choi's glitter pens go missing, Maya turns to Lacey for help. The clues and evidence point to a suspect, but are they jumping to conclusions? When a classmate jumps to conclusions and shares false information about Julian's cookies, the Cayuga Island Kids join forces to set the facts straight. When the kids research explorers for a school project, they uncover misinformation that blurs the truth and makes the reasons for being a fact detective crystal clear. As the fall leaves turn color, the Cayuga Island Kids come to realize that sorting through clues and evidence just like research means making sure information is factual and not just a fraction of the truth. Young readers will cheer for the Cayuga Island Kids as they embark on this latest adventure involving faulty assumptions, missing facts, flour bugs, and chocolate chip cookies. 20 Irresistible Reading-Response Projects Based on Favorite Picture Books Sherry Girard, 2002-05. Adorable Reproducible Patterns With Engaging Writing Prompts. Invite kids to create meaningful responses to literature with these engaging hands-on art and writing projects. First, children enjoy a well-loved story together, then create their own response page that includes a colorful art activity and a ready-to-personalize sentence frame. Later, pages can be bound into a class collaborative book. You'll find discussion questions to use before and after reading, step-by-step instructions for each project, reproducible patterns, cross-curricular links, related reading, and more.
