Contemporary Studies in Environment and Tourism Recep Efe, Munir Ozturk, 2017-05-11 The tourism industry is striving hard to create attractive worlds for its customers Both as a necessity and as a challenge this field is overwhelmed by the imagination economy but raises several questions about tourists providing opportunities to move deeper into the understanding of complexities involved in relationships among tourists tourism sites and their historical structure and environmental sustainability As a result of this a serious academic interest in tourism has developed over recent decades as a complex aspect of investigation into humans and their environment This volume brings together case studies from different parts of the world focusing on tourism and its interactions with the environment It provides a general outline of theoretical issues and their practicality in different industrialising countries from both the East and the West The book will appeal to researchers involved in tourism studies and environmental interactions as well as academicians and tourism agencies Special Interest Tourism Sheela Agarwal, Graham Busby, Rong

Huang, 2018-01-24 Special interest tourism is growing rapidly due to a discerning and heterogeneous travel market and the demand for more focused activity or interest based tourism experiences This book approaches the topic from the perspective of both supply and demand and addresses the complexities now inherent in this area of tourism It presents a contextualised overview of contemporary academic research concepts principles and industry based practice insights and also considers the future of special interest tourism in light of the emergence of ethical consumerism Sometimes referred to as niche or contemporary tourism this book provides a complete introduction to the study of special interest tourism for students

Constructions of Self and Other in Yoga, Travel, and Tourism Lori G. Beaman, Sonia Sikka, 2016-08-01 This volume considers the phenomenon of yoga travel as an instance of a broader genre of spiritual travel involving journeys to places elsewhere which are imagined to offer the possibility of profound personal transformation These imaginings are tied up in a continued exoticization of the East but they are not limited to that Contributors identify various themes such as authenticity suffering space material markers and the idea of the spiritual tracing how these ideas manifest in conceptions and fetishizations of elsewhere To deepen its analysis of this phenomenon the book incorporates a wide range of disciplines including architecture sociology anthropology philosophy women s studies religious studies and history While the book s primary focus is yoga and yoga travel contributors offer up an array of other case studies Chapters delve into the complex questions of agency and authenticity that accompany the concept of spiritual travel and ideas of elsewhere

Thanatourism and Cinematic Representations of Risk Rodanthe Tzanelli, 2016-04-14 In today s world the need to eliminate natural and human made disasters has been at the forefront of national and international socio political agendas The management of risks such as terrorism labour strikes protests and environmental degradation has become pivotal for countries that depend on their economy s tourist sector Indeed there is fear that the end of tourism might be nigh due to inadequate institutional foresight Yet in designing relevant policies to tackle this arts such as that of filmmaking have yet to receive due consideration This book adopts an unorthodox approach to debates about the end of tourism Through twenty first century cinematic narratives of symbolically interconnected risks it considers how art envisages the future of humanity s well being These risks include migration as an infectious disease alien incursions as racialized labour mobilities cyborg rebellion as the fear of post colonial otherness and zombie anthropophagy as the replacement of rooted identities by nomadic lifestyles Such filmic scenarios articulate the futuristic survival of community as the triumph of the technological human over otherness and provide a means to debate societal risks that weave identity politics into unequal mobilities This book will appeal to researchers and students interested in mobilities theory tourism and travel theory film studies and aesthetics globalisation studies race labour and migration

places in East and Southwest Asia Asia has been the most dynamic region for tourism development in recent decades and tourism research from this region has grown significantly to better understand this phenomenon The primary focus is on the Chinese realm of mainland China and Taiwan East Asia has been the most dynamic region for tourism development in the world in recent decades driven by the growth of both outbound and domestic travel and tourism among mainland Chinese This reflects the phenomenal change in prosperity that the People's Republic of China has experienced since the 1970s as well as the human drive to travel and explore their world Tourism research has also grown significantly in the Asian continent in recent years Much of this scholarship is focused on developing the Asian economies to move them from their developing world status Tourism Places in Asia Destinations Stakeholders and Consumption highlights the progress of tourism scholarship in Asia in other areas especially in the way places are impacted by impacts tourists and the tourism industry The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Tourism Geographies

Meaningful Pasts Russell Johnston, Michael Ripmeester, 2024-01-31 In Meaningful Pasts Russell Johnston and Michael Ripmeester explore two strands of identity making among residents of the Niagara region in Ontario Canada First they describe the region's official narratives most of which celebrate the achievements of white settlers with a mix of storytelling rituals and monuments. Despite their presence in local lore and landmarks these official narratives did not resonate with the nearly one thousand residents who participated in five surveys conducted over eleven years. Instead participants drew on contemporary people places and events. Second the authors explore the emergence of Niagara's wine industry as a heritage narrative. The book shares how the survey participants embraced the industry as a local identifier and indicates how the industry's efforts have rekindled the residents' interest in agriculture as a significant element of regional heritage and local identities. Revealing how the profiles of local narratives and commemorations become entwined with social cultural economic and political power. Meaningful Pasts illuminates the fact that local narratives retain their relevance only if residents find them meaningful in their day to day lives.

At the Limits of Care Janna Klostermann, 2025-10-15 For author Janna Klostermann reaching her limits and resigning from care work felt like a crisis of self. In the aftermath of this upheaval this is the book she needed to write. At the Limits of Care will change how you think about care work and about the women who provide it. Now an assistant professor in sociology and a radical care scholar Klostermann interrogates women's counter stories of reaching their limits crossing ethical lines and stepping back from paid or unpaid care work roles. She uncovers gendered power dynamics and their constraining effects on women's lives transforming the ways we think about ourselves and our relationships. The book makes a major contribution in how and what constitutes care research. Drawing on in depth life history interviews with women ages twenty seven to seventy eight in Ontario Canada Klostermann enacts a counter politics of care approach that centres untold and lesser told stories of care work. She pushes readers to rethink gendered power dynamics question prevailing tropes of care and imagine more equitable emancipatory futures. At the Limits of Care challenges dominant narratives around women and care through a blend of feminist sociological analyses and memoir.

Managing Ethical Consumption in Tourism Clare Weeden, Karla Boluk, 2014-02-05 Neither the tourism industry nor the tourist has responded convincingly to calls for more responsibility in tourism. Ethical consumption places pressure on travellers to manage a large number of decisions at a time when hedonic motivations threaten to override other priorities. Unsurprisingly tensions occur and compromises are made. This book offers new insight into the motivations that influence tourists and their decision making. It explores how consumers navigate the responsible tourism market place and provide a rich understanding of the challenges facing those seeking to encourage travellers to become responsible. Not only will the book provide an improved interpretation of the complexity of ethical consumption in tourism but it will also offer a variety of stakeholders a deeper understanding of the key challenges facing stakeholders in the production and consumption of responsible tourism. How ethical consumers can be influenced to consume ethically the gaps in consumer knowledge and how to broaden the appeal for individuals to make more informed ethical decisions how tour operators can respond to this emerging market by innovative product development how to design informative marketing communications to encourage a greater uptake for responsible holidays how destinations can tailor their products to the ethical consumer market how destination communities and management organisations can target responsible tourists through the provision of sustainable alternatives to mass market holiday products Written by leading academics from all over the world this timely and important volume will be valuable reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students researchers and academics interested in Tourism Ethics Ethical Consumption and the global issue of Sustainability Reimagining Community Festivals and Events Allan Stewart Jepson, Raphaela Stadler, Trudie Walters, 2024-05-06 This book celebrates and builds on Alan Clarke 1956 2021 and Allan Jepson's 2015 book Exploring Community Festivals and Events It showcases how far the study of community festivals and events has come in the intervening years and in so doing it is a response to recent calls for researchers to take a more critical approach to event studies This is an interdisciplinary book that draws together empirical research across a wide range of community event types sizes and within diverse communities Chapters in this book are grouped into four themes that highlight the breadth and depth of work being done reviving and maintaining traditions a focus on belonging challenges and tensions and innovations in teaching and research Another of its core strengths is its international perspective the book encompasses research from around the world including Turkey Portugal Greece India the UK the US Austria and New Zealand There is also a diverse range of theoretical lenses applied to the study of community events and some innovative methodologies used to achieve research aims and objectives This volume will appeal to students and researchers in the fields of critical event studies cultural studies place making tourism music sociology and geography Several chapters also provide insights and key learnings for those lecturing and working in event management and industry professionals Mapping Diaspora Patricia de Santana Pinho, 2018-10-26 Brazil like some countries in Africa has become a major destination for African American tourists seeking the cultural roots of the black Atlantic diaspora Drawing on over a decade of ethnographic research as well as textual visual and archival sources Patricia de Santana Pinho investigates African American roots tourism a complex poignant kind of travel that provides profound personal and collective meaning for those searching for black identity and heritage It also provides as Pinho's interviews with Brazilian tour guides state officials and Afro Brazilian activists reveal economic and political rewards that support a structured industry Pinho traces the origins of roots tourism to the late 1970s when groups of black intellectuals artists and activists found themselves drawn especially to Bahia the state that in previous centuries had absorbed the largest number of enslaved Africans African Americans have become frequent travelers across what Pinho calls the map of Africanness that connects diasporic communities and stimulates transnational solidarities while simultaneously exposing the unevenness of the black diaspora Roots tourism Pinho finds is a fertile site to examine the tensions between racial and national identities as well as the gendered dimensions of travel particularly when women are the major roots seekers Music and Capitalism Timothy D. Taylor, 2015-12-29 Timothy D Taylor deeply reveals the social organization of capitalism and its profound impact on music Jocelyne Guilbault author of Governing Sound iTunes Spotify Pandora With these brief words one can map the landscape of music today but these aren't musicians' songs or anything else actually musical they are products and brands In Music and Capitalism ethnomusicologist Timothy D Taylor explores just how pervasively capitalism has shaped music over the last few decades Examining changes in the production distribution and consumption of music he offers an incisive critique of the music industry's shift in focus from creativity to profits as well as stories of those who are laboring to find and make musical meaning in the shadows of the mainstream cultural industries Taylor explores everything from the branding of musicians to the globalization of music to the emergence of digital technologies in music production and consumption Drawing on interviews with industry insiders musicians and indie label workers he traces both the constricting forces of bottom line economics and the revolutionary emergence of the affordable home studio the global internet and the mp3 that have shaped music in different ways A sophisticated analysis of how music is made repurposed advertised sold pirated and consumed Music and Capitalism is a must read for anyone who cares about what they are listening to how and why Taylor convincingly argues we can't properly look at music in a vacuum that doesn't consider economics and provides a framework for understanding the big pictures and unseen hands driving the industry and the people who work within it PopMatters
