The Women Who Made Early Disneyland Cindy Mediavilla, Kelsey Knox, 2024-01-04 Although historians have begun to recognize the accomplishments of Disney Studio's female animators the women who contributed to the early success of Disneyland remain for the most part unacknowledged Indeed in celebrating the park's ten year anniversary in 1965 Walt Disney thanked all the boys who've been a part of this thing even though hundreds of women had also been instrumental in designing building and operating Disneyland since before its grand opening in July 1955 Seeking to reclaim women's place in the early history of Disneyland The Women Who Made Early Disneyland highlights the female Disney employees and contract workers who helped make the park one of the most popular U.S. destinations during its first ten years Some like artist Mary Blair Imagineers Harriet Burns and Alice Davis Slue Foot Sue Betty Taylor and Disneyland's first ambassador Julie Reihm eventually became Disney legends Others remain less well known including landscape architect Ruth Shellhorn parade choreographer Miriam Nelson Aunt Jemima's Kitchen hostess Alyene Lewis and Tiny Kline who at age seventy one became the first Tinker Bell to fly over Disneyland This one of a kind book examines the lives and achievements of the women who made early Disneyland

Magic Lands John M. Findlay, 1993-09-22 The American West conjures up images of pastoral tranquility and wide open spaces but by 1970 the Far West was the most urbanized section of the country Exploring four intriguing cityscapes Disneyland Stanford Industrial Park Sun City and the 1962 Seattle World's Fair John Findlay shows how each created a sense of cohesion and sustained people's belief in their superior urban environment This first book length study of the urban West after 1940 argues that Westerners deliberately tried to build cities that differed radically from their eastern counterparts In 1954 Walt Disney began building the world's first theme park using Hollywood's movie making techniques The creators of Stanford Industrial Park were more hesitant in their approach to a conceptually organized environment but by the mid 1960s the Park was the nation's prototypical research park and the intellectual downtown for the high technology region that became Silicon

Valley In 1960 on the outskirts of Phoenix Del E Webb built Sun City the largest most influential retirement community in the United States Another innovative cityscape arose from the 1962 Seattle World's Fair and provided a futuristic somewhat fanciful vision of modern life These four became magic lands that provided an antidote to the apparent chaos of their respective urban milieus Exemplars of a new lifestyle they are landmarks on the changing cultural landscape of postwar America
