Monumental Jesus Margaret M. Grubiak, 2020-02-11 The American landscape is host to numerous works of religious architecture sometimes questionable in taste and large if not titanic in scale In her lively study of satire and religious architecture Margaret Grubiak challenges how we typically view such sites by shifting the focus from believers to doubters and from producers to consumers Grubiak considers an array of sacred architectural constructions from Touchdown Jesus at the University of Notre Dame to the Wizard of Oz Mormon temple outside Washington D C to the renamed Gumby Jesus of the Christ of the Ozarks statue in Eureka Springs Arkansas and how such constructions are confronted by the doubt and dismissiveness articulated by the more skeptical of their viewers These responses of doubt activate our religious built environment in ways unanticipated but illuminating asking us at times forcefully to consider and clarify what it is we believe Opening up new avenues of thinking about how people deal with theological questions in the vernacular Grubiak's book shows how religious doubt is made manifest in the humorous satirical blasphemous and popular culture responses to religious architecture and image in modern America
