From the award winning author of The Lake of Dead Languages comes a gripping read with emotion charged twists and turns Tess Gerritsen about a professor accused of killing her student in a hit and run accident Nan Lewis a creative writing professor at a university in upstate New York is driving home from a faculty holiday party when she hits a deer Yet when she gets out of her car to look for it the deer is gone Eager to get home before the oncoming snowstorm Nan is forced to leave her car at the bottom of her snowy driveway to wait out the longest night of the year The next morning Nan is woken up by a police officer at her door with terrible news one of her students Leia Dawson was killed in a hit and run on River Road the night before and because of the damage to her car Nan is a suspect In the days following the accident Nan finds herself shunned by the same community that rallied around her when her own daughter was killed in an eerily similar accident six years prior When Nan begins finding disturbing tokens that recall the her daughter s death Nan suspects that the two accidents are connected As she digs further she discovers that everyone around her including Leia has been hiding secrets But can she uncover them clear her name and figure out who really killed Leia before her life is destroyed for ever Teaching What They Learn, Learning What They Live Brad

Olsen,2015-11-17 Cogent interesting and provocative from the foreword by Ann Lieberman Teaching What They Learn Learning What They Live explores the multiple social political and epistemological domains that comprise learning to teach

Based on a study of eight beginning English teachers at four different university teacher preparation programs this book examines the ways in which beginning teachers personal dispositions and conceptions combines with their teacher preparation programs professional knowledge and contexts to form their understandings of and approaches toward teaching Brad Olsen recasts learning to teach as a continuous situated identity process in which prior experiences produce deeply embedded ways of viewing the world that go on to organize current future experience into meaning Since experience shapes learning and everyone acquires different sets of experience no individual teacher s knowledge is exactly like another s Yet Olsen shows also that the process by which a teacher constructs professional knowledge is common the what of teacher knowledge varies but the how remains the same
