The Waste Not, Want Not Cookbook Cinda Chavich, 2015-05-01 Shortlisted for a 2016 IACP Food Matters Award Winner of a 2016 Gourmand World Cookbook Award Imagine going to the supermarket and buying three bags full of food but then dropping one in the parking lot before driving away With the amount of food we waste it s like we all do the equivalent of that every single week Forty percent of food is wasted in North America When you drop leftovers into the household trash or even the compost pile not only are you emptying your wallet you are also contributing to global warming It s time to get smarter about sustainable consumerism With more than 140 recipes organized by ingredient and countless brilliant ideas for using everything up The Waste Not Want Not Cookbook will show you how to shop cook and eat with zero waste You ll learn how to transform leftovers into delicious new dishes how to store and preserve foods to make them last how to shop smart when buying in bulk and interpret best before dates You ll even learn how to cook once and create three different meals So heed the wisdom of your grandparents and reclaim the contents of your fridge Encyclopedia of Consumption and Waste

Carl A. Zimring, William L. Rathje, Consulting Editor, 2012-02-27 Archaeologists and anthropologists have long studied artifacts of refuse from the distant past as a portal into ancient civilizations but examining what we throw away today tells a story in real time and becomes an important and useful tool for academic study Trash is studied by behavioral scientists who use data com piled from the exploration of dumpsters to better understand our modern society and culture Why does the average American household send 470 pounds of uneaten food to the garbage can on an annual basis How do different societies around the world cope with their garbage in these troubled environmental times How does our trash give insight into our attitudes about gender class religion and art The Encyclopedia of Consumption and Waste explores the topic across multiple disciplines within the social sciences and ranges further to include business consumerism environmentalism and marketing to comprise an outstanding reference for academic and public libraries Cooking Equivalents &
