The Venture Of Islam Volume 1 The Classical Age Of Islam:

The Venture of Islam, Volume 1 Marshall G. S. Hodgson, 1974-10-01 The Venture of Islam has been honored as a magisterial work of the mind since its publication in early 1975 In this three volume study illustrated with charts and maps Hodgson traces and interprets the historical development of Islamic civilization from before the birth of Muhammad to the middle of the twentieth century This work grew out of the famous course on Islamic civilization that Hodgson created and taught for many years at the University of Chicago This is a nonpareil work not only because of its command of its subject but also because it demonstrates how ideally history should be written The New Yorker Volume 1 The Classical Age of Islam analyzes the world before Islam Muhammad s challenge and the early Muslim state between 625 and 692 Hodgson then discusses the classical civilization of the High Caliphate The volume also contains a general introduction to the complete work and a foreword by Reuben Smith who as Hodgson s colleague and friend finished the Venture of Islam after the author s death and saw it through to publication The Classical Age of Islam Marshall G.S. Hodgson, 2024-05-31 First in the comprehensive three volume history of Islamic culture and religion from the award winning scholar and world historian This is a nonpareil work not only because of its command of its subject but also because it demonstrates how ideally history should be written The New Yorker The Venture of Islam has been honored as a magisterial work of the mind since its publication in early 1975 In this three volume study illustrated with charts and maps Marshall G S Hodgson traces and interprets the historical development of Islamic civilization from before the birth of Muhammad to the middle of the twentieth century This work grew out of the famous course on Islamic civilization that Hodgson created and taught for many years at the University of Chicago Volume 1 The Classical Age of Islam analyzes the world before Islam Muhammad s challenge and the early Muslim state between 625 and 692 Hodgson then discusses the classical civilization of the High Caliphate This volume also contains a general introduction to the complete work and a foreword by Reuben Smith who as Hodgson s colleague and friend finished the Venture of Islam after the author s death and saw it through to publication The Venture of Islam Conscience and History in a World Civilization The Classical Age of Islam 1 The Expansion of Islam in the Middle Periods 2 The Gunpowder Empires and Modern Times 3 The Venture of Islam: The classical age of Islam Marshall G. S. Hodgson, 1974 What Is Islam? Shahab Ahmed, 2015-11-17 A bold new conceptualization of Islam that reflects its contradictions and rich diversity What is Islam How do we grasp a human and historical phenomenon characterized by such variety and contradiction What is Islamic about Islamic philosophy or Islamic art Should we speak of Islam or of islams Should we distinguish the Islamic the religious from the Islamicate the cultural Or should we abandon Islamic altogether as an analytical term In What Is Islam Shahab Ahmed presents a bold new conceptualization of Islam that challenges dominant understandings grounded in the categories of religion and culture or those that privilege law and scripture He argues that these modes of thinking obstruct us from understanding Islam distorting it diminishing it and rendering it incoherent What Is

Islam formulates a new conceptual language for analyzing Islam. It presents a new paradigm of how Muslims have historically understood divine revelation, one that enables us to understand how and why Muslims through history have embraced values such as exploration, ambiguity, aestheticization, polyvalence, and relativism, as well as practices such as figural art, music, and even wine drinking as Islamic. It also puts forward a new understanding of the historical constitution of Islamic law and its relationship to philosophical ethics and political theory. A book that is certain to provoke debate and significantly alter our understanding of Islam. What Is Islam reveals how Muslims have historically conceived of and lived with Islam as norms and truths that are at once contradictory yet coherent. For God or Empire Wilson Chacko Jacob, 2019-07-30 Sayyid Fadl, a descendant of the Prophet Muhammad, led a unique life, one that spanned much of the nineteenth century and connected India, Arabia, and the Ottoman Empire. For God or Empire tells his story, part biography and part global history, as his life and legacy afford a singular view on historical shifts of power and sovereignty, religion, and politics. Wilson Chacko Jacob recasts the genealogy of modern sovereignty through the encounter between Islam and empire states in the Indian Ocean world. Fadl's travels in worlds seen and unseen made for a life that was both unsettled and unsettling. And through his life, at least two forms of sovereignty, God and empire, become apparent in intersecting global contexts of religion and modern state formation. While these changes are typically explained in terms of secularization of the state and the birth of rational modern man, the life and afterlives of Sayyid Fadl, which take us from eighteenth and nineteenth century Indian Ocean worlds to twenty-first century cyberspace, offer a more open-ended global history of sovereignty and a more capacious conception of life.

Interpreting Islam in China Kristian Petersen, 2018 During the early modern period, Muslims in China began to embrace the Chinese characteristics of their heritage. Several scholar-teachers incorporated tenets from traditional Chinese education into their promotion of Islamic knowledge. As a result, some Sino-Muslims established an educational network which utilized an Islamic curriculum made up of Arabic, Persian, and Chinese works. The corpus of Chinese Islamic texts written in this system is collectively labeled the Han Kitab. Interpreting Islam in China explores the Sino-Islamic intellectual tradition through the works of some of its brightest luminaries. Three prominent Sino-Muslim authors are used to illustrate transformations within this tradition: Wang Daiyu, Liu Zhi, and Ma Dexin. Kristian Petersen puts these scholars in dialogue and demonstrates the continuities and departures within this tradition. Through an analysis of their writings, he considers several questions: How malleable are religious categories, and why are they variously interpreted across time? How do changing historical circumstances affect the interpretation of religious beliefs and practices? How do individuals navigate multiple sources of authority? How do practices inform belief? Overall, he shows that these authors presented an increasingly universalistic portrait of Islam through which Sino-Muslims were encouraged to participate within the global community of Muslims. The growing emphasis on performing the pilgrimage to Mecca, comprehensive knowledge of the Qur'an, and personal knowledge of Arabic stimulated communal engagement. Petersen demonstrates that the integration of Sino-Muslims within a growing global environment where international travel and communication was increasingly possible was accompanied by the rising self awareness of a universally engaged Muslim community

Science and Religion in Mamluk Egypt Nahyan Fancy, 2013-06-03 The discovery of the pulmonary transit of blood was a ground breaking discovery in the history of the life sciences and a prerequisite for William Harvey's fully developed theory of blood circulation three centuries later This book is the first attempt at understanding Ibn al Naf's anatomical discovery from within the medical and theological works of this thirteenth century physician jurist and his broader social religious and intellectual contexts Although Ibn al Naf's did not posit a theory of blood circulation he nevertheless challenged the reigning Galenic and Avicennian physiological theories and the then prevailing anatomical understandings of the heart Far from being a happy guess Ibn al Naf's anatomical result is rooted in an extensive re-evaluation of the reigning medical theories Moreover this book shows that Ibn al Naf's re-evaluation is itself a result of his engagement with post Avicennian debates on the relationship between reason and revelation and the rationality of traditionalist beliefs such as bodily resurrection Breaking new ground by showing how medicine philosophy and theology were intertwined in the intellectual fabric of pre-modern Islamic societies Science and Religion in Mamluk Egypt will be of interest to students and scholars of the History of Science the History of Medicine and Islamic Studies

Islamic Architecture in Iran Saeid Khaghani, 2012-07-30 The architecture of the Islamic world is predominantly considered in terms of a dual division between tradition and modernity a division which Saeid Khaghani here argues has shaped and limited the narrative applied to this architecture Khaghani introduces and reconsiders the mosques of eighth to fifteenth century Iran in terms of poststructural theory and developments in historiography in order to develop a brand new dialectical framework Using the examples of mosques such as the Friday Mosques in Isfahan and Yazd as well as the Imam mosque in Isfahan Khaghani presents a new way of thinking about and discussing Islamic architecture making this valuable reading for all interested in the study of the art architecture and material culture of the Islamic world The Oxford Handbook of Islamic Law Anver M. Turner, 2017-03-16 This volume Struggle Resistance and Violence examines the fact that all over the world the rights of citizens have come under enormous pressure and addresses the many ways in which people are making claims against both autocratic and democratic authority Without any doubt rule breaking riots and violent upheavals have become an aspect of political struggles for citizenship The book takes up a conflict perspective that directs attention to these recent phenomena It stresses the necessity of a careful analysis of resistance and violence as critical factors for coming to terms with social conflicts for citizenship from Europe to South America as well as the Near East the Far East and the Arab World Islamic Studies in the Twenty-first Century Léon Buskens, Annemarie Sandwijk, 2025-10-01 In recent decades traditional methods of philology and intellectual history applied to the study of Islam and Muslim societies have been met with considerable criticism from rising generations of scholars who have turned to the social sciences most notably anthropology and social history for guidance This change has been accompanied by the rise of new fields studying for example Islam in Europe and Africa and new topics such as the role of gender This collection surveys these transformations and others taking stock of the field and showing new paths forward The First Muslim Lesley Hazleton, 2013-01-24 The extraordinary life of the man who founded Islam and the world he inhabited and remade Lesley Hazleton's new book Agnostic A Spirited Manifesto is out now from Riverhead Books Muhammad's was a life of almost unparalleled historical importance yet for all the iconic power of his name the intensely dramatic story of the prophet of Islam is not well known In The First Muslim Lesley Hazleton brings him vibrantly to life Drawing on early eyewitness sources and on history politics religion and psychology she renders him as a man in full in all his complexity and vitality Hazleton's account follows the arc of Muhammad's rise from powerlessness to power from anonymity to renown from insignificance to lasting significance How did a child shunted to the margins end up revolutionizing his world How did a merchant come to challenge the established order with a new vision of social justice How did the pariah hounded out of Mecca turn exile into a new and victorious beginning How did the outsider become the ultimate insider Impeccably researched and thrillingly readable Hazleton s narrative creates vivid insight into a man navigating between idealism and pragmatism faith and politics nonviolence and violence rejection and acclaim The First Muslim illuminates not only an immensely significant figure but his lastingly relevant legacy

Globalism in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Age Albrecht Classen,2023-09-05 Although it is fashionable among modernists to claim that globalism emerged only since ca 1800 the opposite can well be documented through careful comparative and transdisciplinary studies as this volume demonstrates offering a wide range of innovative perspectives on often neglected literary philosophical historical or medical documents Texts images ideas knowledge and objects migrated throughout the world already in the pre modern world even if the quantitative level compared to the modern world might have been different In fact by means of translations and trade for instance global connections were established and maintained over the centuries Archetypal motifs developed in many literatures indicate how much pre modern people actually shared But we also discover hard core facts of global economic exchange import of exotic medicine and on another level intensive intellectual debates on religious issues Literary evidence serves best to expose the extent to which contacts with people in foreign countries were imaginable often desirable and at times feared of course The pre modern world was much more on the move and reached out to distant lands out of curiosity economic interests and political and military concerns Diplomats crisscrossed the continents and artists poets and craftsmen traveled widely We can identify for instance both the Vikings and the Arabs as global players long before the rise of modern globalism so this volume promises to rewrite many of our traditional notions about pre modern worldviews economic conditions and the literary sharing on a global level as perhaps best expressed by the genre of the fable

The Powerful Ephemeral Carla Bellamy,2011-08-05 The violent partitioning of British India along religious lines and ongoing communalist aggression have compelled Indian citizens to contend with the notion that an exclusive fixed religious identity is fundamental to selfhood Even so Muslim saint shrines known as dargahs attract a religiously diverse range of pilgrims In this accessible and groundbreaking ethnography Carla Bellamy traces the long term healing processes of Muslim and Hindu devotees of a complex of dargahs in northwestern India Drawing on pilgrims narratives ritual and everyday practices archival documents and popular publications in Hindi and Urdu Bellamy considers questions about the nature of religion in general and Indian religion in particular Grounded in stories from individual lives and experiences The Powerful Ephemeral offers not only a humane highly readable portrait of dargah culture but also new insight into notions of selfhood and religious difference in contemporary India

The Cambridge Companion to Sayyid Ahmad Khan Yasmin Saikia,M. Raisur Rahman,2019-03-21 This volume examines Sayyid Ahmad Khan s life his contribution and legacy in the context of current times The editors engage his writings ideas and activities to read and present his work critically not as a biographical account of his life but approach his work keeping in mind the tumultuous political events and changes of the nineteenth century after the failed revolt of 1857 when Indians were transformed into colonial subjects. The collective anxieties of the Indian communities, particularly the Muslims, cried out for a new local leadership. Sayyid Ahmad Khan rose up to this occasion, etching the way forward for Indians in general and Muslims in particular. Sayyid Ahmad Khan's multifaceted work offers an important understanding for national thinking emerging from the location of the Muslim, but it is not a minority voice with vested political interests; rather, a constructive and integrative voice of relevance even today for addressing difficult problems.

Modern Muslim Theology Martin Nguyen, 2018-08-10

Islam, Orientalism

and Intellectual History Mohammad R. Salama, 2011-03-30

Debates on the relationship between Islam and the West rage on from talk of clashing civilizations to political pacification from ethical and historical perspectives to distrust, xenophobia, and fear. Here Mohammad Salama argues that the events of 9/11 force us to engage ourselves fully without preconditions in understanding not just the history of Islam as a religion but of Islam as a historical condition that has existed in relationship to the West since the seventh century. Salama compares the Arab, Islamic, and European traditions of historical thought since the early modern period, focusing on the watershed moments that informed the two traditions' ideas of intellectual history and perceptions of one another. He draws attention to European intellectual history's entangled links with the Islamic philosophy of history, especially the complexities of orientalism and modernity. Recent critical reflections on the work of Ibn Khaldun confirm this intertwined and troubled relationship, reflecting major disparities and contradictions. At the same time, recent Arab writings on Europe's intellectual history reveal a struggle against erasure and intellectual superiority. Calling for a new understanding of the relationship between Islam and the West, Salama argues that Islam has played a major role in enabling and positioning various paths of Western historiography at crucial moments of its development, leaving palpable imprints on Islamic historiography in the process. He proposes an answer to a fundamental question: how to make sense of the mechanics of production in Arab, Islamic, and Western historiographies or how to identify the ways in which they have both failed to make sense of themselves and of each other in an increasingly disenchanted postnationalist world. Spanning an impressive array of recent writings on these themes as well as older foundational texts in both traditions, including al-Tabari, Ibn Khaldun, Hegel, al-Jabart, Toynbee, Foucault, Edward Said, and Hourani, this book is both timely and crucial for all those interested in Islamic and Middle Eastern studies, Western and Islamic philosophies of history, modernity, and the relationship between Islam and the West.
