Manufacturing Catastrophe Shaun S. Nichols, 2024-01-12 American economic history has traditionally been told as a narrative of industrialization and affluence collapsing into globalization and industrial decay Offering a reappraisal of this pattern Manufacturing Catastrophe traces the successive rise and fall of the whaling textile garment electronics and high tech industries in Massachusetts over the past two hundred years It shows how business labor and political leaders repeatedly mobilized the lure of crisis cheap labor low taxes and generous manufacturing subsidies to pull and push both capital and workers across the continents repeatedly remaking the pioneering industrial cities of Fall River and New Bedford Workers ranging from migrating Azorean seamen to British weavers to Quebecois farmers and capitalists including mobile manufacturers globetrotting whalers and multinational conglomerators participated in the creation of regional growth and with it American industrial ascendance Exploring the paradoxical and recurring coexistence of high unemployment and labor shortages in these cities this book explains why recovery and growth have not necessarily translated into long term prosperity In doing so it illuminates how economic catastrophe was ironically a critical ingredient in the making of America s industrial hegemony Solidarity
