Shaw,2014-04-24 The consumption and distribution of food as well as its production has become a major public policy issue over the past few decades what we eat is no longer merely a private matter but carries significant externalities for wider society Its increasing significance within the public arena implies a dissonance regarding the boundaries of food where do we draw the line between food as private and food as public What are the rights of society to impinge upon individual food consumption and what conflicts will ensue when this boundary is disputed The Consuming Geographies of Food explores these multiple issues of food across different regions of the world from the consumer's perspective. It uniquely explicates the factors that lead customers towards certain typologies of consumption and towards certain types of retailing offering a comprehensive review of the obesity problem, the phenomenon of food deserts and the issue of exclusion from a healthy diet. It then considers the effects of food on the consumer, the dynamic relationship between food and people and the issue of food exclusion before concluding with possible futures for food consumption from low technology projects to high technology scenarios. Based on original research into food access, ethics and consumption in both developed and less developed countries, this book will be of interest to students, researchers and academics in the fields of geography, economics, hospitality, health, marketing, nutrition and sociology.

The Technology of Cake Making A.J. Bent, E.B. Bennion, G.S.T. Bamford, 2013-03-09. The popularity of the 1973 fifth edition of The Technology of Cake Making has continued in many of the English speaking countries throughout the world. This sixth edition has been comprehensively revised and brought up to date with new chapters on Cream, butter and milkfat products, Lactose, Yeast aeration, Emulsions and emulsifiers, Water activity and Reduced sugar, Eggs and egg products, Baking fats and lower fat goods. The chapters on Sugars, Chemical aeration, Nuts in confectionery, Chocolate, Pastries, Nutritional value and Packaging have been completely rewritten. The increased need for the continuous development of new products does not of necessity mean that new technology has to be constantly introduced. Many of the good old favourites may continue to be produced for many years and they form suitable benchmarks for new product development. The sixth edition introduces the use of relative density to replace specific volume as a measure of the amount of aeration in a cake batter; the use of relative density is in line with international agreement. Specific volume is kept as a measurement of baked product volume since the industry is comfortable with the concept that subject to an upper limit, an increase in specific volume coincides with improvement in cake quality.
