The Healthy Compulsive Gary Trosclair, 2020-02-08 Gary Trosclair explores the power of the driven personality and the positive outcomes those with obsessive compulsive personality disorder can achieve through a mindful program of harnessing the skills that can work and altering those that serve no one If you were born with a compulsive personality you may become rigid controlling and self-righteous But you also may become productive energetic and conscientious Same disposition but very different ways of expressing it What determines the difference Some of the most successful and happy people in the world are compelled by powerful inner urges that are almost impossible to resist They re compulsive They re driven But some people with a driven personality feel compelled by shame or insecurity to use their compulsive energy to prove their worth and they lose control of the wheel of their own life They become inflexible and critical perfectionists who need to wield control and they lose the point of everything they do in the process A healthy compulsive is one whose energy and talents for achievement are used consciously in the service of passion love and purpose An unhealthy compulsive is one whose energy and talents for achievement have been hijacked by fear and its henchman anger Both are driven one by meaning the other by dread The Healthy Compulsive Healing Obsessive Compulsive Personality Disorder and Taking the Wheel of the Driven Personality will serve as the ultimate user s guide for those with a driven personality including those who have slid into obsessive compulsive personality disorder OCPD Unlike OCD which results in specific symptoms such as repetitive hand washing and intrusive thoughts OCPD permeates the entire personality and dramatically affects relationships It also requires a different approach to healing Both scientifically informed and practical The Healthy Compulsive describes how compulsives get off track and outlines a four step program to help them consciously cultivate the talents and passions that are the truly compelling sources of the driven personality Drawing from his 25 years of clinical experience as a psychotherapist and Jungian psychoanalyst and his own personal experience as someone with a driven personality Trosclair offers understanding inspiring stories of change and hope to compulsives and their partners about how to move to the healthy end of the compulsive spectrum

Narrative Persuasion. A Cognitive Perspective on Language Evolution Francesco Ferretti, 2022-08-23 This book explores the evolutionary and cognitive foundations of human communication focusing on narrative as its distinctive dimension Within a framework of continuity with both the communication of our hominin predecessors and that of non human animals the book is about a twofold proposal It includes the idea that human and animal communication has an intrinsically persuasive nature along with the hypothesis that humans developed narrative forms of communication in order to enhance their persuasive abilities In this view narrative persuasion becomes the feature that distinguishes human communication from animal communication The study of the transition from animal communication to language addresses both the selective pressures that led communication for persuasive purposes to take a narrative form and the cognitive architectures and expressive systems that enabled our ancestors to cope with the selective pressures of persuasive narrative based communication Language evolution is interdisciplinary even from the specific perspective of evolutionary pragmatics chosen here Therefore this book is intended for researchers working in fields such as cognitive sciences philosophy evolutionary biology cognitive psychology and primatology It also represents a valuable resource for advanced students in cognitive sciences linguistics and philosophy

approach to biolinguistics that consists in considering human language as a form of species specific intelligence entirely embodied in the corporeal structures of Homo sapiens The book starts with a historical reconstruction of two opposing biolinguistic models the Chomskian Biolinguistic Model CBM and the Darwinian Biolinguistic Model DBM The second part compares the two models and develops into a complete reconsideration of the traditional biolinguistic issues in an evolutionary perspective highlighting their potential influence on the paradigm of biologically oriented cognitive science The third part formulates the philosophical evolutionary and experimental basis of an extended theory of linguistic performativity within a naturalistic perspective of pragmatics of verbal language The book proposes a model in which the continuity between human and non human primates is linked to the gradual development of the articulatory and neurocerebral structures and to a kind of prelinguistic pragmatics which characterizes the common nature of social learning In contrast grammatical semantic and pragmatic skills that mark the learning of historical natural languages are seen as a rapid acceleration of cultural evolution The book makes clear that this acceleration will not necessarily favour the long term adaptations for Homo sapiens
