Painting Techniques of China and Japan. [Translated by Helga Herbert and James Herbert. Edited by Meredith Weatherby. With Illustrations.]. Fritz van Briessen, 1962 Through Japan with Brush & Ink Chiura Obata, 1990-07-15 This Japanese ink painting guide is presented by master painter Chiura Obata a well known Japanese artist Obata has traveled throughout Japan recording with charm and insight the beauty of the country Using the traditional brush and ink technique he skillfully presents the varied aspects of Japan a mountain landscape enveloped in mist an intimate Japanese garden the hustle of the busy city of Tokyo the fleeting cherry blossoms an ancient temple compound a festive group of holiday sightseers The artist captures with his deft sketches the special quality of Japan that attracts the visitor and resident alike This is far more than a picture of Japan it is rather a perceptive interpretation by one who knows and loves the country A Bibliography on Writing and Written Language Konrad Ehlich, Florian Coulmas, Gabriele Graefen, 2011-06-01 The bibliography offers information on research about writing and written language over the past 50 years No comprehensive bibliography on this subject has been published since Sattler's 1935 handbook With a selection of some 27 500 titles it covers the most important literature in all scientific fields relating to writing Emphasis has been placed on the interdisciplinary organization of the bibliography creating many points of common interest for literacy experts educationalists psychologists sociologists linguists cultural anthropologists and historians The bibliography is organized in such a way as to provide the specialist as well as the researcher in neighboring disciplines with access to the relevant literature on writing in a given field While necessarily selective it also offers information on more specialized bibliographies In addition an overview of norms and standards concerning script and writing will prove very useful for non professional readers It is therefore also of interest to the generally interested public as a reference work for the humanities Merleau-Ponty and Nishida Adam Loughnane, 2019-12-19 Places the phenomenologies of Merleau Ponty and Nishida in dialogue and uncovers a demand for a motor perceptual form of faith in both philosophers meditations on artistic expression In Merleau Ponty and Nishida Adam Loughnane initiates a fascinating new dialogue between two of the twentieth century's most important phenomenologists of the Eastern and Western philosophical worlds Throughout the book the reader is guided

among the intricacies and innovations of Merleau Ponty's and Nishida's ontological approaches to artistic expression with a focused look at a rarely explored connection between faith and negation in their philosophies Exploring the intertwining of these concepts in their broader ontologies invokes a reappraisal of the ambiguous status of religion and art in the writings of both thinkers Measuring these ambiguities the ontologies of Flesh and Basho are read in depth alongside great artworks and the motor perceptual practices of seminal landscape artists such as C zanne Sessh Taiga and Hasegawa as well as other major figures of European Chinese and Japanese art history Loughnane studies these artists bodily practices focusing on the intimate relations realized with the landscapes they paint and illuminating a valence of their expressive disciplines as a motor perceptual form of faith Merleau Ponty and Nishida is an exciting intercultural reading expanding two philosophers projects toward new horizons of research revealing incitements in their writings that challenge unambiguous distinctions between art philosophy faith and ultimately philosophy East and West Loughnane illuminates the ambiguous chiasmatic and dynamic relationality between the body and the world providing concrete examples from art history East and West He not only skillfully explains Nishida's and Merleau Ponty's ontological notions but also puts their philosophy to the test of art works proving that their thinking reveals an important truth of art Takeshi Kimoto Chukyo University
