Rottman,2012-06-20 Most belligerents entering World War II armed their infantry with bulky and ineffectual anti tank rifles as their primary means of combating tanks US planners realized that what infantrymen needed was a relatively lightweight man portable anti tank weapon that was simple to operate accurate and capable of knocking out the average tank at a reasonable range while also being effective against fortified buildings pillboxes and personnel in the open The bazooka combined a revolutionary new anti tank rifle grenade warhead a much modified British anti aircraft rocket motor and a cobbled together launcher tube and electrical firing system its first test firing astounded observers and it was immediately adopted by the US armed forces Featuring specially drawn colour artwork this engaging study tells the story of the bazooka which set the standard for future light anti tank weapons and their ammunition and was a key influence on anti tank tactics and techniques in the post war era The M1 Garand Leroy Thompson,2012-05-20 The M1 Garand gave the US infantryman a marked edge during World War II It shot faster and further than enemy infantry rifles and hit harder No less an authority on killing the enemy than General George S Patton called the Garand The greatest battle implement ever devised At a time when opposing forces were armed with bolt action rifles US troops had a highly reliable self loader The eight round clips which were used to load the M1 Garand were however viewed with mixed emotions by the troops on the ground Some Army and Marine Corps troops allegedly felt that the distinctive twang as the Garand s clip was ejected when empty alerted the enemy that the soldiers were reloading and resulted in an attack But the Garand became the defining mankiller of the war despite its weight and magazine problems and many US combat veterans consider it one of the key reasons they survived the war
