EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK A man drowns Let's say that a man is in danger of drowning and you are the only one around who can help The moral course of action would be to assist only if the danger to one's self is minimal It is a sign of lowered self esteem to deem a stranger's life just as valuable as your own by risking yours to save theirs This would not be the case if the drowning person were someone you loved deeply In this scenario risking your life to save this person is not seen as a sacrifice at all The reason because saving a loved one is rooted in a certain selfishness no one wants to watch a loved one drown knowing they could have done something to prevent it from happening Buy a copy to keep reading
