economics and culture Cultivating Perfection Louis Komjathy, 2007-09-30 This important work focuses on early Quanzhen Complete Perfection Daoism a twelfth century Daoist religious movement and subsequent monastic order Emphasis in this first study to approach Quanzhen from a comparative religious studies perspective is placed on the complex interplay among views of self specific training regimens and the types of experiences that were expected to follow from dedicated praxis On the basis of historical contextualization and textual analysis it is demonstrated that in its formative and incipient organized phases Quanzhen was a Daoist religious community consisting of a few renunciants dedicated to religious praxis The study proper is followed by a complete annotated translation of a text attributed to the founder which represents one of only two early Quanzhen texts translated to date Subsequent appendices address issues of dating and contents of the early textual corpus as well as technical Quanzhen religious terminology A Stairway to Heaven: Daoist Self-Cultivation in Early Modern China Paul van Enkevort, 2024-11-04 By the eleventh century communities of religious practitioners in China had developed a theory and practice of meditative self cultivation that combined the so called Three Teachings By the seventeenth century Wu Shouyang created a synthesis of the various lineages of this inner alchemy combining it with elements from Buddhism and Confucianism By the late nineteenth century his writings had become bestsellers in the genre and his became the standard account of this tradition This first book length English language study of Wu Shouyang's life and works introduces his remarkable life and formulates answers to fundamental questions about this important tradition

y Infinitesimal Subtlety d 989 and his fellow hidden immortals Breaking various academic taboos including hyper historicism social constructivism and conformist mentalities here Komjathy in an aspirational gesture towards unbridled inquiry offers annotated translations and scholarly introductions to ten major works associated with the Daoist immortal The book also contains a cutting edge mythopoetic introduction that addresses the life and legend of Ch n Tu n his connection to the Western Marchmount of Hu sh n Mount Hua Hu y n Sh nx Daoist views about sleeping dreaming waking as well as Daoist time being

Taming the Wild Horse Louis Komjathy, 2017-03-21 In thirteenth century China a Daoist monk named Gao Daokuan 1195 1277 composed a series of illustrated poems and accompanying verse commentary known as the Daoist Horse Taming Pictures In this annotated translation and study Louis Komjathy argues that this virtually unknown text offers unique insights into the transformative effects of Daoist contemplative practice Taming the Wild Horse examines Gao s illustrated poems in terms of monasticism and contemplative practice as well as the multivalent meaning of the horse in traditional Chinese culture and the consequences for both human and nonhuman animals The Horse Taming Pictures consist of twelve poems ten of which are equine centered They develop the metaphor of a wild or untamed horse to represent ordinary consciousness which must be reined in and harnessed through sustained self cultivation especially meditation The compositions describe stages on the Daoist contemplative path Komjathy provides opportunities for reflection on contemplative practice in general and Daoist meditation in particular which may lead to a transpersonal way of perceiving and being

The Literati Path to Immortality: The Alchemical Teachings of Lu Xixing Ilia Mozias, 2020 The Literati Path explores the life and teachings of the Ming author and alchemist Lu Xixing 1520 1601 It begins by examining his biography religious community alchemical doctrine and methods of practice Lu was special in that he embodied the literati tradition of self cultivation engaging in the alchemical arts without ever leaving his habitual life He did not abandon his family was never ordained and had no connection to Daoist or other institutions He learned internal alchemy from books and through spirit writing seances where he met L Dongbin and other immortals Next the work expounds the cosmological doctrines at the foundation of internal alchemy including those found in the Yijing and the Cantong qi and outlines the universal ebb and flow of yin and yang as the basis of the immortal elixir It moves on to describe just how the practice serves to overcome destiny modeling techniques on biological gestation and creating a new being deep within It explains major alchemical concepts as applied by Lu Xixing and systematically describes his path to immortality all the while questioning the validity of his reputation as a sexual alchemist Shedding fascinating new light on the religious life of Ming literati and providing a first access to a unique take on internal alchemy in late imperial China The Literati Path to Immortality is a must for anyone interested in traditional Chinese religion and culture

Ineffability: An Exercise in Comparative Philosophy of Religion Timothy D. Knepper, Leah E. Kalmanson, 2017-11-24 This collection of essays is an exercise in comparative philosophy of religion that explores the different ways in which humans express the inexpressible It brings together scholars of over a dozen religious literary and artistic traditions as part of The Comparison Project's 2013-15 lecture and dialogue series on religion beyond words. Specialist scholars first detailed the grammars of ineffability in nine different religious traditions as well as the adjacent fields of literature, poetry, music, and art. The Comparison Project's directors then compared this diverse set of phenomena, offering explanations for their patterning and raising philosophical questions of truth and value about religious ineffability in comparative perspective. This book is the inaugural publication of The Comparison Project, an innovative new approach to the philosophy of religion housed at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, USA. The Comparison Project organizes a biennial series of scholar lectures, practitioner dialogues, and comparative panels about core cross-cultural topics in the philosophy of religion. Specialist scholars of religion first explore this topic in their religions of expertise; comparativist philosophers of religion then raise questions of meaning, truth, and value about this topic in comparative perspective. The Comparison Project stands apart from traditional approaches to the philosophy of religion in its commitment to religious inclusivity. It is the future of the philosophy of religion in a diverse global world.

Contemplative Literature
Louis Komjathy, 2015-08-31. This is the first theoretically informed and historically accurate comparative anthology of primary texts on meditation and contemplative prayer. Written by international experts on the respective texts and corresponding traditions, Contemplative Literature provides introductions to and primary sources on contemplative practice from various religious traditions. The contributors explore classical Daoist apophatic meditation, Quaker silent prayer, Jewish Kabbalah, Southern Buddhist meditation, Sufi contemplation, Eastern Orthodox prayer, Pure Land Buddhist visualization, Hindu classical Yoga, Dominican Catholic prayer, Daoist internal alchemy, and modern therapeutic meditation. Each introduction to a contemplative text discusses its historical context, the associated religious tradition and literature, the method of contemplative practice, and the text's legacy and influence. Volume editor Louis Komjathy opens the work with a thoughtful consideration of interpretive issues in the emerging interdisciplinary field of contemplative studies. Readers will gain not only a nuanced understanding of important works of contemplative literature but also resources for understanding contemplative practice and contemplative experience from a comparative and cross-cultural perspective.

The Oxford Handbook of Meditation Miguel Farias, David Brazier, Mansur Lalljee, 2021-10-21. Meditation techniques including mindfulness have become popular wellbeing practices, and the scientific study of their effects has recently turned 50 years old. But how much do we know about them? What were they developed for and by whom? How similar or different are they? How effective can they be in changing our minds and biology? What are their social and ethical implications? The Oxford Handbook of Meditation is the most comprehensive volume published on meditation, written in accessible language by world-leading experts on the science and history of these techniques. It covers the development of meditation across the world and the varieties of its practices and experiences. It includes approaches from various disciplines including psychology, neuroscience, history, anthropology, and sociology, and it explores its potential for therapeutic and social change as well as unusual or negative effects Edited by practitioner researchers this book is the ultimate guide for all interested in meditation including teachers clinicians therapists researchers or anyone who would like to learn more about this topic Making Peace with the Universe Michael Scott Alexander,2020-11-03 The world's great religious and philosophical traditions often include poignant testimonies of spiritual turmoil and healing Following episodes of harrowing personal crisis including addictions periods of anxiety and panic and reminders of mortality these accounts then also describe pathways to consolation and resolution In Making Peace with the Universe Michael Scott Alexander reads diverse classic religious accounts as masterpieces of therapeutic insight In the company of William James Socrates Muslim legal scholar turned mystic Hamid al Ghazali Chinggis Khan as described by the Daoist monk Qui Chuji and jazz musician and Catholic convert Mary Lou Williams Alexander traces the steps from existential crisis to psychological health He recasts spiritual confessions as case histories of therapy showing how they remain radical and deeply meaningful even in an age of scientific psychology They record the therapeutic affect of spiritual experience testifying to the achievement of psychological well being through the cultivation of an edifying spiritual mood Mixing scholarly learning with episodes from his own skeptical quest Alexander demonstrates how these accounts of private terror and personal triumph offer a model of therapy through spiritual adventure An interdisciplinary consideration of the shared terrain of religion and psychology Making Peace with the Universe offers an innovative view of what spiritual traditions can teach us about finding meaning in the modern world Transformational Embodiment in Asian Religions George Pati,Katherine C. Zubko,2019-10-28 This volume examines several theoretical concerns of embodiment in the context of Asian religious practice Looking at both subtle and spatial bodies it explores how both types of embodiment are engaged as sites for transformation transaction and transgression Collectively bridging ancient and modern conceptualizations of embodiment in religious practice the book offers a complex mapping of how body is defined It revisits more traditional mystical religious systems including Hindu Tantra and Yoga Tibetan Buddhism Bon Chinese Daoism and Persian Sufism and distinctively juxtaposes these inquiries alongside analyses of racial gendered and colonized bodies Such a multifaceted subject requires a diverse approach and so perspectives from phenomenology and neuroscience as well as critical race theory and feminist theology are utilised to create more precise analytical tools for the scholarly engagement of embodied religious epistemologies This a nuanced and interdisciplinary exploration of the myriad issues around bodies within religion As such it will be a key resource for any scholar of Religious Studies Asian Studies Anthropology Sociology Philosophy and Gender Studies Daoism, Meditation, and the Wonders of Serenity Stephen Eskildsen,2015-11-04 Stephen Eskildsen offers an overview of Daoist religious texts from the Latter Han 25-220 through Tang 618-907 periods exploring passive meditation methods and their anticipated effects These methods entailed observing the processes that unfold spontaneously within mind and body rather than actively manipulating them by means common in medieval Daoist religion such as visualization invocations and the swallowing of breath or saliva Through the resulting deep serenity it was claimed one could attain profound insights experience visions feel surges of vital force overcome thirst and hunger be cured of ailments ascend the heavens and gain eternal life While the texts discussed follow the legacy of Warring States period Daoism such as the Laozi to a significant degree they also draw upon medieval immortality methods and Buddhism An understanding of the passive meditation literature provides important insights into the subsequent development of Neidan or Internal Alchemy meditation that emerged from the Song period onward

Dream Trippers David A. Palmer, Elijah Siegler, 2017-11-27 Over the past few decades Daoism has become a recognizable part of Western alternative spiritual life Now that Westernized version of Daoism is going full circle traveling back from America and Europe to influence Daoism in China Dream Trippers draws on more than a decade of ethnographic work with Daoist monks and Western seekers to trace the spread of Westernized Daoism in contemporary China David A Palmer and Elijah Siegler take us into the daily life of the monastic community atop the mountain of Huashan and explore its relationship to the socialist state They follow the international circuit of Daoist energy tourism which connects a number of sites throughout China and examine the controversies around Western scholars who become practitioners and promoters of Daoism Throughout are lively portrayals of encounters among the book's various characters Chinese hermits and monks Western seekers and scholar practitioners as they interact with each other in obtuse often humorous and yet sometimes enlightening and transformative ways Dream Trippers untangles the anxieties confusions and ambiguities that arise as Chinese and American practitioners balance cosmological attunement and radical spiritual individualism in their search for authenticity in a globalized world
