Searching for a Deeper Love Regina Lewis-Martin,2024-06-10 I pray this book has been inspiring to whoever read it I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord for whom I have suffered the loss of all things and do count them but doing that I may win Christ be founded in Him not having my own righteousness which is of the law but that which is through the faith of Christ the righteousness that is of God by faith That I may know Jesus and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His suffering being made conformable unto His death Let us therefore as many as be perfect in the completion of God s Word because Christ is perfect Be thus minded and if in anything you be otherwise minded God shall reveal even this unto you Keep pressing toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus We must endure to the end Just know we as a people have values and place a high value on the price that was paid for us We are worth more than what the earth pays us You ve got to be willing to sow into your own future You must value your destiny and don t measure your values by others Don t judge your future by your past It s not how you started this race but it is about how you finish the race Maya Angelou said As you learn of God teach it and as you get from God give it I say let s pass the love of God to all Yes I found a deeper love and this love I now live for This book is for you for you to find a deeper love in Jesus for there is no greater love

On Becoming a Bostonian Baraska Baskad, 2006-06-09 This short story book is divided into two parts the first and longer part of which is about growing up in the baby boomer generation and coming of age in the City of Boston whilst the second part is about the city itself its history character personality and nuances Other than this division chronological sequence is only incidental so the story reading can be done without having to be overly concerned with paying attention to special sequence as each story while related to the theme has its own stand alone merit while at the same time still being part of a compilation Each tale is a slice of the pie or rather a sliver of the pie of the city to get a feel for it and that is what this book is all about a nostalgic reminiscent short story book of tales set in the City of Boston as well as in the second part a guide for the newcomer as to what to expect in a city of which so much has been written it can be difficult to separate fact from fiction Boston the untold story What is the city all about What was it like coming of age in the Boston baby boomer generation What is a Bostonian What makes a Bostonian tick Baraska tackles these questions head on as well as a myriad of others as a lifelong resident Bostonian and takes you inside Americas oldest and most historical walking city With his hands on the pulse of the city at a major metropolitan newspaper Baraska takes you inside this hub city to fill in the blanks as he unveils the nuances of this the Capital Bay City of New England and whilst the many guides on Boston do a fine job Baraska states they may not tell you when the red light turns green GO immediately before the horns start to blow or how to really get the the bargains at Filenes Basement What NOT to ask a Bostonian Baraska advises as well as what a resident does like to commiserate about How NOT to act in Boston to avoid native disapprobation What NEVER to do in Boston if you dont want to end up like General George Armstrong Custer where to sit at Fenway Park and who sells the best hot dogs From coming of age in a scholarly city to looking at a New Yorkers view of Beantown Baraska not only raises the questions but gives the answer unabashedly e g When queried about why the Pilgrims came here in the first place and landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620 Baraska counterpunches with his own query that the Pilgrims first destination was Holland before coming here couldnt they get along there either he muses And was it not these same Puritans who came here for a purer Anglican religion hence the name and religious freedom who publicly executed Mary Dyer on the Boston Common because she was of the different Quaker religion As for the Boston Tea Party Baraska not incidentally suggests the 342 crates of British Tea dumped into Boston Harbor on the evening of December 16 1773 may have been driven more by economic concerns than patriotism since the imported British product was underselling the tea produced in the Colonies And certainly blaming it on the Indians was less than a noble deed for the defiant colonists Ben Franklin in any case Baraska points out wasnt impressed and offered to assuage the enraged British Crown by paying them back for the cost of the tea dumped into the harbor And whilst Baraska praises the brilliant copper and silversmith he was his copper was used in the making of the State House Dome he does raise the specter of possibility that Paul Reveres famous ride on that fateful evening of April 18 1775 may have been driven in part as a desire for a break in the baby sitting of his 16 children as well as by Colonial Militia patriotic concerns
