The Wildfire Reader George Wuerthner, 2006-08-04 The Wildfire Reader presents in an affordable paperback edition the essays included in Wildfire offering a concise overview of fire landscapes and the past century of forest policy that has affected them Protecting Yellowstone Michael J. Yochim, 2013-04-15 Yellowstone National Park looks like a pristine western landscape populated by its wild inhabitants bison grizzly bears and wolves But the bison do not always range freely snowmobile noise intrudes upon the park's profound winter silence and some tourist villages are located in prime grizzly bear habitat Despite these problems the National Park Service has succeeded in reintroducing wolves allowing wildfires to play their natural role in park forests and prohibiting a gold mine that would be present in other more typical western landscapes Each of these issues bison snowmobiles grizzly bears wolves fires and the New World Mine was the center of a recent policy making controversy involving federal politicians robust debate with interested stakeholders and discussions about the relevant science Yet the outcomes of the controversies varied considerably depending on politics science how well park managers allied themselves with external interests and public thinking about the effects of park proposals on their access and economies Michael Yochim examines the primary influences upon contemporary national park policy making and considers how those influences shaped or constrained the final policy In addition Yochim considers how park managers may best work within the contemporary policy making context to preserve national parks The Bitterroot and Mr.

Brandborg Frederick H Swanson, 2012-05-22 Meticulously written The Bitterroot and Mr Brandborg tells the story of Guy M Brandborg and his impact on the practices of the U S Forest Service It articulates Brandborg's Progressive era idealism and is based on extensive archival research in collections throughout the Rockies and the Northwest including the Brandborg family papers When Forests Burn Albert Marrin, 2024-03-19 A fascinating look at the most destructive wildfires in American history the impact of climate change and what we're doing right and wrong to manage forest fire from a National Book Award finalist Perfect for young fans of disaster stories and national history A KIRKUS REVIEWS AND BOOKLIST BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR Wildfires have been part of the American landscape for thousands of years Forests need fire it's as necessary to their well being as soil and sunlight But some fires burn out of control destroying everything and everyone in their path In this book you'll find out about how and why wildfires happen how different groups from Native Americans to colonists from conservationists to modern industrialists have managed forests and fire the biggest wildfires in American history how they began and dramatic stories of both rescue and tragedy what we're doing today to fight forest fires Chock full of dramatic stories fascinating facts and compelling photos When Forests Burn teaches us about the past and shows a better way forward in the future To Think Like a Mountain Niels Sparre Nokkentved, 2021-06-22 In the West shortsighted human self interest has resulted in devastating environmental losses The fur trade decimated beaver populations and streams and wetland ecosystems deteriorated Though most mining ceased by the late 1920s water running from the Pacific Mine nearly a century later still carried ten times the lead level standard set by the federal Clean Water Act Where grazing depleted native bunchgrasses fire prone cheatgrass grew in its place Migrating from Idaho streams salmon once reached the ocean in ten to fourteen days Now it takes fifty or more In 2016 a snowstorm blew a flock of snow geese off course They landed on contaminated water and about three thousand died Author Niels S Nokkentved takes a fresh look at environmental challenges affecting Northwest residents His essays examine cultural conflicts over resource extraction threats to watersheds from abandoned mines wolf recovery in the northern Rocky Mountains the lingering effects of livestock grazing on western rangelands and the rapidly disappearing sage grouse They discuss the importance of forest fires the value of beavers the failed promises of salmon hatcheries the reasons behind the decline of the timber industry in the Pacific Northwest and how unlikely allies learned to set aside their differences in order to resolve long standing disputes Nokkentved's goal is to encourage people to think like a mountain in other words to consider the long term consequences He shares his connection to each concern as well as his own evidence based perspective He believes that it most profits society collectively and as individuals when people respect the balance of nature and he wants to draw others to the same conclusion
