Trail Magic Creating A Positive Energy Home:

Trail Magic Carl N. McDaniel, 2012 Trail Magic is the story of one family's success in building an affordable home that runs on sunshine. They succeeded by building a home that produces energy, food, and well-being within the cost of average construction. Written by Carl McDaniel, a biologist who with his wife Mary and with many colleagues accomplished what any new home builder can do: build wisely, environmentally, and economically, all the while maintaining sanity. This book raises the bar of what we can accomplish in new home building: a home for the present and sustainable future. Told with humor and frankness, Trail Magic shares the ups and downs and ins and outs of the story of design, construction, and the first several years of living in a new home. It describes conversations with designers, builders, suppliers, and the many individuals that are part of a significant accomplishment: a model environmental home that prospective home owner and builder can replicate.
