WHEN BATTERED WOMEN KILL

ANGELA BROWNE

Charles Patrick Ewing

When Battered Women Kill:

When Battered Women Kill Angela Browne, 2008-06-30 A compassionate look at 42 battered women who felt locked in with danger and so desperate that they killed a man they loved scholarly and compelling When Women Kill Belinda Morrissey, 2003 Based on case studies from the US UK and Australia this book looks at the ways in which female killers are constructed in the media in law and in feminist discourse almost invariably as victims rather than actors in the crimes they commit

Terrifying Love Lenore E. Walker, 1990 Walker's chilling follow up to her now classic groundbreaker The Battered Woman is a dramatic study of women who murder their abusive partners in self defense and what happens to them afterward Provocative the book makes its point New York Times Book Review

Finding Their Voices Amy Lou Busch, 1999 The few studies that exist on battered women who have killed focus on what psychologists attorneys and academics have to say about their conduct To date there has been no study of how the women perceive themselves and their actions and how they feel about the labels that have been applied to them The voices of women who have killed their abusers must be brought into this debate The life stories of these women can inform the theory used to describe them illuminating disjunctions between the battered woman syndrome and their own explanations for their actions

Self-Defense and Battered Women Who Kill Robbin S. Ogle, Susan Jacobs, 2002-08-30 Battering relationships often escalate to a point where the battered woman commits homicide When such homicides occur attention is usually focused on the final violent encounter however Ogle and Jacobs argue while that act is the last homicidal encounter it is not the only one This important study argues that the battering relationship is properly understood as a long term homicidal process that if played out to the point that contrition dissipates is very likely to result in the death of one of the parties In that context Ogle and Jacobs posit a social interaction perspective for understanding the situational cultural social and structural forces that work toward maintaining the battering relationship and escalating it to a homicidal end This book details this theory and explains how to apply it in a trial setting Elements of self defense law are problematic for battered women who kill their abusers These include imminence reasonableness of the victim's perception of danger and reasonableness of the victim's choice of lethal violence and their proportionality Social interaction theory argues that once contrition dissipates imminence is constant The victim functions in an unending state of extreme tension and fear This allows us to understand the victim's view of the violence as escalating beyond control thereby increasing her reasonable perception of danger and lethality After social resources for whatever reason fail to end the violence it is then reasonable for the victim to conclude that she will have to act in her own defense in order to survive

The Criminal Law Defences Available to Battered Women Who Kill Their Abusers. A Psycho-legal Analysis Sara Vincenzotti, 2020-09-01 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2019 in the subject Sociology Law and Delinquency University of Newcastle course LLB Law language English abstract This paper will focus on explaining why trying to categorize Battered Woman Syndrome Cases under one defense is not only simplistic but naive and unjustified The defenses available to battered women who kill should be specific to the circumstances of the case as violence which occurs in an intimate and private sphere cannot be adequately understood unless it is analyzed in its specific context There is a clear difference between women who kill their abusers as a result of their psychological state and those who do so by exercising their lawful right to self defense For this reason it will concentrate on the distinctions between battered women who suffer from BWS and kill their abusers in non confrontational situations and battered women who do not suffer from BWS and kill in confrontational situations
