Where Your Mother Morality America:

Where Is Your Mother? Melanie Marie Norton, 2015-11-25 The fundamental purpose of this written word is that through the ever changing social values and personal standards in our society we have lost sight of our primary purpose on this earth to raise and direct our children in accordance with our own morality in order to guide them into being the future leaders of a free society We have lost sight of this most essential duty to preserve the future of our Nation by becoming distracted with the futility of our lives and the obsession with self As women we have a great disadvantage to so called third world nations who have clung to the values and traditions of their ancestors in order to maintain the principles of their societies We focus on the here and now what s right in front of us and in doing so we fail to look at the bigger picture This is essentially the down fall of our great Nation A society thriving on instant gratification with no regard to the consequential outcome of our self indulgent thinking This is designed to be an operating work book within the context of one person talking to another It is the individuals who formulate a society and ultimately have the ability to affect a positive change Throughout you will see questions posed they are bold and initialized to note a stopping to point to consider the question and discuss with your peers Those questions are also presented at the end of each section with room to write your own thoughts on the matters we have discussed It is not my goal to convince of you of my point of you but rather to help you establish your own The Ethics and Poetics of Alterity in Asian American Poetry Xiaojing Zhou, 2006-05 Poetry by Asian American writers has had a significant impact on the landscape of contemporary American poetry and a book length critical treatment of Asian American poetry is long overdue In this groundbreaking book Xiaojing Zhou demonstrates how many Asian American poets transform the conventional I of lyric poetry based on the traditional Western concept of the self and the Cartesian I to enact a more ethical relationship between the I and its others Drawing on Emmanuel Levinas s idea of the ethics of alterity which argues that an ethical relation to the other is one that acknowledges the irreducibility of otherness Zhou offers a reconceptualization of both self and other Taking difference as a source of creativity and turning it into a form of resistance and a critical intervention Asian American poets engage with broader issues than the merely poetic They confront social injustice against the other and call critical attention to a concept of otherness which differs fundamentally from that underlying racism sexism and colonialism By locating the ethical and political questions of otherness in language discourse aesthetics and everyday encounters Asian American poets help advance critical studies in race gender and popular culture as well as in poetry The Ethics and Poetics of Alterity is not limited however to literary studies it is an invaluable response to the questions raised by increasingly globalized encounters across many kinds of boundaries The Poets Marilyn Chin Kimiko Hahn Myung Mi Kim Li Young Lee Timothy Liu David Mura and John Yau Transactions and Proceedings of the American Philological Association American Philological Association, 1923 Bibliographical record of works published by members of the Association in v 28 1897 American Illustrated Magazine , 1885 American Journal of Education , 1907
