Family, School, and Community Partnerships for Students with Disabilities Lusa Lo,Yaoying Xu,2019-04-23 This book presents a collection of research based effective and culturally responsive practices that are used in schools and communities to support and empower families of students with disabilities to be equal partners for schools As the demographics of the U S population become increasingly diverse the U S Census Bureau projects that by 2044 more than half of the U S population will belong to a minority group Currently students from diverse backgrounds comprise over 53% of the special education student population While their parents are the key decision makers and advocates who ensure that they receive services and support that address their individual needs research consistently indicates that families from diverse backgrounds face many challenges that prevent them from taking on these active roles Along with the improvements in the U S since the enactment of its first special education law in 1975 other parts of the world are also making changes to their special education systems in terms of responding to the diverse needs of children and students with disabilities and their families This book also shares research based and effective practices from other countries The studies presented employ both qualitative and quantitative methods to investigate family school community partnerships
