The Oxford Handbook of Dialectical Behaviour Therapy Michaela A. Swales, 2018 Dialectical behavior therapy DBT is a specific type of cognitive behavioral psychotherapy developed in the late 1980s by psychologist Marsha M Linehan to help better treat borderline personality disorder Since its development it has also been used for the treatment of other kinds of mental health disorders The Oxford Handbook of DBT charts the development of DBT from its early inception to the current cutting edge state of knowledge about both the theoretical underpinnings of the treatment and its clinical application across a range of disorders and adaptations to new clinical groups Experts in the treatment address the current state of the evidence with respect to the efficacy of the treatment its effectiveness in routine clinical practice and central issues in the clinical and programmatic implementation of the treatment In sum this volume provides a desk reference for clinicians and academics keen to understand the origins and current state of the science and the art of DBT

Valuing forest ecosystem services: a training manual for planners and project developers Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-02-28 The degradation of ecosystems including forests and the associated loss of biodiversity particularly due to human induced threats and climate change has gained increased attention from scientists and policymakers The Millennium Ecosystem Assessment presented a new conceptual framework that puts ecosystem services at the centre and links human well being to the impacts on ecosystems of changes in natural resources The Economics of Ecosystems and Biodiversity initiative drew further attention to the economic benefits of conserving ecosystems and biodiversity supporting the idea that economic instruments if appropriately applied developed and interpreted can inform policy and decision making processes Only a few ecosystem services however have explicit market value and are traded in open markets many especially those categorized as having passive use value remain invisible and are rarely accounted for in traditional economic systems The failure to appropriately

consider the full economic value of ecosystem services in decision making enables the continued degradation and loss of ecosystems and biodiversity Most ecosystem services are considered public goods and tend to be overexploited by society Many methods have been applied to the economic valuation of ecosystem services The use of these methods as well as the interpretation of their results requires familiarity with the ecological political normative and socio economic context and the science of economics Recognizing demonstrating and capturing the value of ecosystem services can play an important role in setting policy directions for ecosystem management and conservation and thus in increasing the provision of ecosystem services and their contributions to human well being The aim of this manual is to enhance understanding of ecosystem services and their valuation The specific target group comprises governmental officers in planning units and field level officers and practitioners in key government departments in Bangladesh responsible for project development including the Ministry of Environment and Forests and its agencies Most of the examples and case studies presented herein therefore are tailored to the Bangladesh context but the general concepts approaches and methods can be applied to a broad spectrum of situations This manual focuses on valuing forest related ecosystem services including those provided by trees outside forests It is expected to improve valuation efforts and help ensure the better use of such values in policymaking and decision making Among other things the manual explores the basics of financial mathematics e g the time value of money discounting cost benefit analysis and profitability and risk indicators the main methods of economic valuation examples of the valuation of selected ecosystem services and inputs for considering values in decision making

The Author Training Manual Nina Amir, 2014-03-18 If you want to write a book that's going to sell to both publishers and readers you need to know how to produce a marketable work and help it become successful It starts the moment you have an idea That's when you begin thinking about the first elements of the business plan that will make your project the best it can be The reality is that you don't want to spend time and energy writing a book that will never get read The way to avoid that is to create a business plan for your book and evaluate it and yourself through the same lens that an agent or acquisitions editor would The Author Training Manual will show you how to get more creative and start looking at your work with those high standards in mind Whether you're writing fiction or non fiction or intend to publish traditionally or self publish author Nina Amir will teach you how to conduct an effective competitive analysis for your work and do a better job at delivering the goods to readers than similar books that are already on the shelf Packed with step by step instructions idea evaluations sample business plans editor and agent commentaries and much more The Author Training Manual provides the information you need to transform from aspiring writer to career author
