When Species Meet Author Donna J Haraway Published On November 2007:

When Species Meet Donna J. Haraway, 2013-11-30 In 2006 about 69 million U S households had pets giving homes to around 73.9 million dogs 90.5 million cats and 16.6 million birds and spending more than 38 billion dollars on companion animals As never before in history our pets are truly members of the family But the notion of companion species knotted from human beings animals and other organisms landscapes and technologies includes much more than companion animals In When Species Meet Donna J Haraway digs into this larger phenomenon to contemplate the interactions of humans with many kinds of critters especially with those called domestic At the heart of the book are her experiences in agility training with her dogs Cayenne and Roland but Haraway's vision here also encompasses wolves chickens cats baboons sheep microorganisms and whales wearing video cameras From designer pets to lab animals to trained therapy dogs she deftly explores philosophical cultural and biological aspects of animal human encounters In this deeply personal yet intellectually groundbreaking work Haraway develops the idea of companion species those who meet and break bread together but not without some indigestion A great deal is at stake in such meetings she writes and outcomes are not guaranteed There is no assured happy or unhappy ending socially ecologically or scientifically There is only the chance for getting on together with some grace Ultimately she finds that respect curiosity and knowledge spring from animal human associations and work powerfully against ideas about human exceptionalism

Someone Else's Face in the Mirror Carla Bluhm, Nathan Clendenin, 2009-04-30 In 2005 surgeons in France removed part of the face from a cadaver and grafted it onto the head of a 38 year old woman grossly disfigured by a dog attack Three years later in December 2008 surgeons at the Cleveland Clinic announced they had performed the first U S face transplant Although modern culture is accustomed to pushing medicine and the human body beyond all limits the world's first partial face transplant and the seven that have followed have caused a stir that still reverberates globally This book begins with the story of Isabelle Dinoire the recipient of the first face transplant and chronicles her surgery and battles with tissue rejection Its scope widens with a look at how surgical teams including three U S transplant teams are in a global race to perform the first full face transplant and at how medical history has led up to this point with prior successful transplants ranging from body parts as simple as cornea to those as neurologically complicated as the heart a hand and a penis The most novel among these surgeries the face transplant conjures up particular and expansive psychological issues Authors Bluhm and Clendenin show how transplant recipients struggle with functional issues including a lifetime of anti rejection drugs a danger highlighted by the recent death of the second face transplant patient in China But just as challenging in the case of face transplant is the psychological effect on and potential threat to identity Who are you if suddenly your face or a significant portion of it is not what you were born with What is it like to look in the mirror and see a face that is not the one you have always had Dinoire lamented It will never be me That statement is an absolute simplification of the identity issues a face transplant can create explain the authors Bluhm and Clendenin show how across history and media humankind via medicine literature film and other media has dreamed of a day when face transplants would be possible With so many disfigurements occurring among the military in Iraq and experimental face transplants too expensive for implementation in the private sector it is likely that the U S military will take the reins and further face transplant techniques as quickly as possible to serve injured personnel

Narrating the Multispecies World Michaela Fenske, 2025-04-17 In present times we are increasingly witnessing a loss of life especially among animals and plants Some species are becoming extinct while others struggle to adjust to new habitats Human beings are looking for strategies to overcome the effects of climate change and mass extinction The contributors to this volume reflect on how the current problems affect the living world Artists and scholars from around the world share their views on the changes and challenges produced by the effects of the ecological crises in a variety of regions While some of their stories concern loss others offer hope by suggesting new ideas for living together in sustainable harmony within a multispecies world

Divinanimality Stephen D. Moore, 2014-09-15 A turn to the animal is underway in the humanities most obviously in such fields as philosophy literary studies cultural studies and religious studies One important catalyst for this development has been the remarkable body of animal theory issuing from such thinkers as Jacques Derrida and Donna Haraway What might the resulting interdisciplinary field commonly termed animality studies mean for theology biblical studies and other cognate disciplines Is it possible to move from animal theory to creaturely theology This volume is the first full length attempt to grapple centrally with these questions It attempts to triangulate philosophical and theoretical reflections on animality and humanity with theological reflections on divinity If the animal human distinction is being rethought and retheorized as never before then the animal human divine distinctions need to be rethought retheorized and retheologized along with it This is the task that the multidisciplinary team of theologians biblical scholars philosophers and historians assembled in this volume collectively undertakes They do so frequently with recourse to Derrida s animal philosophy and also with recourse to an eclectic range of other relevant thinkers such as Haraway Giorgio Agamben Emmanuel Levinas Gloria Anzaldua Helene Cixous A N Whitehead and Lynn White Jr The result is a volume that will be essential reading for religious studies audiences interested in ecological issues animality studies and posthumanism as well as for animality studies audiences interested in how constructions of the divine have informed constructions of the nonhuman animal through history

Multispecies Modernity Sundhya

Walther, 2021-06-01 Multispecies Modernity Disorderly Life in Postcolonial Literature considers relationships between animals and humans in the iconic spaces of postcolonial India the wild the body the home and the city Navigating fiction journalism life writing film and visual art this book argues that a uniquely Indian way of being modern is born in these spaces of disorderly multispecies living The zones of proximity traversed in Multispecies Modernity link animal human relations to a politics of postcolonial identity by transgressing the logics of modernity imposed on the postcolonial nation Disorderly multispecies living is a resistance to the hygiene of modernity and a powerful alliance between human and nonhuman subalterns In bringing an animal studies perspective to postcolonial writing and art this book proposes an ethics of representation and an ethics of reading that have wider implications for the study of relationships between human and nonhuman animals in literature and in life

Picturing Animals in Britain, 1750-1850 Diana Donald, 2007-01-01 From fine art paintings by such artists as Stubbs and Landseer to zoological illustrations and popular prints a vast array of animal images was created in Britain during the century from 1750 to 1850 This highly original book investigates the rich meanings of these visual representations as well as the ways in which animals were actually used and abused What Diana Donald discovers in this fascinating study is a deep and unresolved ambivalence that lies at the heart of human attitudes toward animals The author brings to light dichotomies in human thinking about animals throughout this key period awestruck with the beauty and spirit of wild animals people nevertheless desired to capture and tame them the belief that other species are inferior was firmly held yet at the same time animals in stories and fables were given human attributes though laws against animal cruelty were introduced the overworking of horses and the allure of sport hunting persisted Animals are central in cultural history Donald concludes and compelling questions about them then and now remain unanswered
