

A COUNSELOR'S TYPICAL DAY

Counselors can work in many different environments, assisting people at every stage of their lives. Here's what a typical day may look like for four common types of counselors.

1 SCHOOL COUNSELOR

Work settings: Elementary, middle and high schools

Teach children how to get along

Lead diversity event, addressing issues such as bullying

Meet individually with students to discuss academic goals and offer resources and advice

Meet with school administrators to develop ways to help a struggling child

Offer group counseling for students who need assistance

Collaborate with parents to assist students with life planning

2 COMMUNITY COUNSELOR

Work settings: Community mental health facilities, social services agencies, clinics, hospitals, private companies

Assess individuals to try to get to the root of their problem

Work with community leaders to solve public issues

Lead a group counseling session to discuss common issues

Organize public outreach programs for mental health awareness

3 CORRECTIONAL COUNSELOR

Work settings: Correctional facilities, law enforcement offices

Interview new inmates to create a plan for diversion activities

Work with groups on common problems, like anger management

Provide individual counseling to address issues such as criminal thinking

Assist in program planning for the correctional facility as a whole

4 SUBSTANCE ABUSE COUNSELOR

Work settings: Mental health and substance abuse centers, nursing and residential care facilities, family services, hospitals

Meet with individual patients to develop a treatment plan

Consult with physicians to coordinate patient care

Meet with the patient's family to offer coping strategies

Conduct group counseling sessions

Consult with social workers

Counselors in all settings enjoy the opportunity to make real, lasting changes in people's lives.

What Do Principals Do? Jonathan Hurst, 2021-04-01 What Do Principals Do provides a comprehensive and expansive look into a high school principal's job Rather than a survey asking principals how much time they spend on various tasks this work provides empirical evidence of exactly what a principal does every day of the year and how much time he spends doing it Based on the results of a three year longitudinal study conducted by a California High School Principal of the Year Association of California School Administrators 2012 this book reveals precisely what a principal does when he does it and how much time he spends doing it The study identifies 72 discrete tasks performed by principals and examines how much time disaggregated by day week month and year they spend on each of those 72 tasks The results of the data collection are the foundation of the book The findings are supplemented with explanations and analyses that reveal the workings of K 12 education and give readers a glimpse of life in a comprehensive high school This is a must read for everyone considering a life in public school administration The author Dr Jonathan Hurst the longest running principal in Elsinore High School's 130 year history provides insightful commentary and relevant anecdotes from a rich and rewarding career served in a large comprehensive high school in Southern California This book provides detailed quantitative evidence and an explanation for just what a principal does and how much time he spends doing it In the process it demonstrates the requisite skills for effective school governance administrative multi tasking and productive principal behavior Data collected covers three years and encompasses over 20 500 tasks and 7 500 hours of work This is a useful augmentation to existing administrative credential course readings as it provides evidence for what the research and authors are saying and demonstrates those skills procedures and operations that are an everyday part of a school administrator s job But the appeal for What Do Principal s Do goes beyond those seeking knowledge about educational administration Besides the facts and figures about how a principal spends his time Dr Hurst offers explanations for why and how the time is spent and he provides insight into the educational scene This book has appeal for students in teacher education programs because it explains school communities and life in a school system and that also makes it appealing to the lay person or parent who wants to understand how schools work
