The Persistence of Memory Jessica Moody,2020 The Persistence of Memory tells the history of the public memory of transatlantic slavery in the largest slave trading port city in the world from the end of the 18th century into the 21st century revealing the persistence of slavery memory in Liverpool as an ongoing contested debate

Navigating African Maritime History Carina E. Ray,Jeremy Rich,2017-10-18 This book is a collection of essays addressing multiple aspects of African maritime history in attempt to counter the lack of academic research that exists in comparison to other nations and continents and to assert the value of African topics to the global study of maritime history Each essay addresses African maritime history whilst also demonstrating an inextricable link to the global maritime stage The topics discussed include early human migration to Africa early European contact with Africa the role of West African maritime communities in the Atlantic slave trade New World slaveholders and the exploitation of African maritime skillsets the construction of Atlantic world racial discourses the rise and fall of colonial rule and African immigrant communities in Europe These essays cover maritime topics such as seafaring labour navigational technology swimming diving surfing plus political subjects that include colonisation decolonisation immigration and citizenship The book consists of eight essays and an introduction that evaluates the existing research into African maritime history It includes case studies from every major geographical part of the continent bar North Africa and covers the Early Modern period up to the twentieth century The purpose is not to provide a comprehensive chronological history but rather a diverse collection of topics across a range of periods and locations to reflect the wealth of maritime topics in the history of Africa and their global significance It concludes with a call for further research into non European maritime activity to deepen the global historiography

Touts Enrique Martino,2022-08-22 Touts is a historical account of the troubled formation of a colonial labor market in the Gulf of Guinea and a major contribution to the historiography of indentured labor which has relatively few reference points in Africa The setting is West Africa s largest island Fernando Po or Bioko in today s Equatorial Guinea 100 kilometers off the coast of Nigeria The Spanish ruled this often ignored island from the mid nineteenth century until 1968 A booming plantation economy led to the arrival of several hundred thousand West African principally Nigerian contract workers on steamships and canoes In Touts Enrique Martino traces the confusing transition from slavery to other labor regimes paying particular attention to the labor brokers and their financial logistical and clandestine techniques for bringing workers to the island Martino combines multi sited archival research with the concept of touts as lumpen brokers to offer a detailed study of how commercial labor relations could develop shift and collapse through the recruiters own techniques such as large wage advances and elaborate deceptions The result is a pathbreaking reconnection of labor mobility contract law informal credit structures and exchange practices in African history

People, Place and Power on the Nineteenth-Century

Waterfront Graeme J. Milne, 2016-08-24 This book explores the tenuous existence of seafarers divided between their time on the ocean and their residence in sailortown economies geared to exploit them Particular attention is given both to the contribution of seafarers as a global workforce into the nineteenth century and to their help in creating vibrant multicultural enclaves in port cities worldwide In addition research explores the scandalized opinions of outside observers challenging ideas about public behavior and relationships Sailortown myths persisted far into the twentieth century to the detriment of older waterfront districts and their residents and readers will find this book is invaluable in casting new light on forgotten communities whose lives bridged urban maritime and global histories

Labour and Living Standards in Pre-Colonial West Africa Klas Rönnbäck, 2015-11-19 Sub Saharan Africa is the poorest region in the world But its current status has skewed our understanding of the economy before colonization R nnb ck reconstructs the living standards of the population at a time when the Atlantic slave trade brought money and men into the area enriching our understanding of West African economic development

Global Migrants, Local Culture Laura Tabili, 2011-04-05 Employing the first analysis of the entire population of any British town this book examines how overseas migrants affected society and culture in South Shields near Newcastle upon Tyne Resituating Britain within global processes of migration and cultural change it recasts British society pre 1940 as culturally and racially dynamic and diverse

Belonging in Europe - The African Diaspora and Work Caroline Bressey, Hakim Adi, 2013-09-13 This publication does not just mark the presence of black people in Europe but brings research to a new stage by making connections across Europe through the experience of work and labour The working experience for black peoples in Europe was not just confined to ports and large urban areas often the place black people are located in the imagination of the European map both today and historically Work took place in small towns villages and on country estates Until the 1800s enslaved Africans would have worked alongside free blacks and their white peers How were these labour relations realised be it on a country estate or a town house How did this experience translate into the labour movements of the twentieth century These are some of the questions the essays in this collection address contributing to new understandings of European life both historically and today This book was originally published as a special issue of

Immigrants and Minorities Forged in Genocide William Blakemore Lyon, 2024-07-22 Forged in Genocide traces the early history of colonial capitalism in Namibia with a central focus on migrants who came to be key to the economy during and as a result of the German genocide of the Herero and Nama 1904 1908 It posits that Namibia far from being a colonial backwater of the early 20th century became highly integrated into the labor flows and economies of West and Southern Africa and even for a time was one of the most sought after regions for African migrants because of relatively high wages and numerous opportunities resulting from the war's demographic devastation paired with an economic frenzy following the discovery of diamonds In highlighting the life stories of migrants in Namibia from regions as diverse as the Kru coast of Liberia the Eastern Cape of South Africa and the Ovambo polities of Northern Namibia this work integrates micro history into larger African continental trends Building off of written sources from migrants themselves and utilising the Namibian Worker Database constructed for this project this book explores the lives of workers in early colonial Namibia in a way that has hereto not been attempted
