Williams, 2018-11-13 Samantha Weller a forensic scientist turned paranormal novelist owes her life and writing career to a crow that saved her from certain death When she buys an old bookend that looks like her avian muse her world begins to resemble the plots of her novels Determined to find the mate to her bookend Samantha and her antiquarian sidekick Liz go on a search leading them to the beautiful and wealthy Gwen Laraway Samantha is instantly smitten but the age difference has Gwen second guessing Samantha's interest. Meanwhile Liz is crushing on Gwen's niece Isabel. As clueless as she is, sensuous Isabel hasn't had a date since her high school prom ten years ago and she's petrified to act on her sudden attraction to Liz. Romance seems to be blooming all around but problems arise when a restless ghost emerges from the ether to roam the dark corners of this haunting tale that explores the quantum mechanics of immortality. Empowerthy Samantha Rose, 2015-05-26 I tease the knots out of my hair like they're the ones in my stomach remembering with each stroke an easier existence. Empowerthy is a collection of poems about being a cancer survivor and living with Lynch syndrome, a genetic condition which makes people more likely to develop certain cancers in their lifetime. The poems are written to empower and empathise with readers whether you are a cancer survivor, previvor or simply a survivor of this world so far. As the Crow Flies Gail Hartman, 1993-09-30 A look at different geographical areas from the perspectives of an eagle, rabbit, crow, horse and gull. Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing Donna McCormack, 2015-07-30 Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing is a critically engaged exploration of power and its relation to ethics and bodies. By revisiting and revising Judith Butler's and Homi Bhabha's queer and postcolonial theories of literary performance, McCormack expands current understandings of the performative workings of power through an embodied multisensory ethics. That remembering is an embodied act which necessitates an undoing of one's sense of self captures how colonial and familial histories silenced by hegemonic structures may only emerge through opaque bodily sensations. These non-institutionalised forms of witnessing serve both to reconfigure theories of performativity by re-situating the act of witnessing as integral to the workings of power and to interrogate the current emphasis on speech in trauma studies by analysing the multifarious communal and public ways in which memories emerge. In Queer Postcolonial Narratives and the Ethics of Witnessing the body is reinstated as central to both the workings of and the challenges to colonial discourses. Ulysses Returns, and Other Poems Roselle Mercier Montgomery, 1925 The Youth's magazine, or Evangelical miscellany, 1845 Austin v. Or would you rather have these accidents happen on three different days? This electronic collection of volumes seven through nine in A Series of Unfortunate Events by Lemony Snicket is the electronic equivalent of having three ghastly accidents right in a row. Contained here are such unpleasanties as kidnapping, disguise, murder, paperwork, another disguise, heart-shaped balloons, false allegations, stiletto heels, a shattered crystal ball, a cryptic map, an irritating song and quite a few more disguises all bundled together into a continuous barrage of horror and dismay. The more sensible approach would be to read The Vile Village, The Hostile Hospital and The Carnivorous Carnival months or even years apart from one another so you have time to recuperate from the misery each volume offers or better yet to turn your eyes away from Mr Snicket's work and find an
