The Women of the United Arab Emirates Linda Soffan,2016-10-04 First published in 1980 this book looks at the factors which influenced the position held by women in the United Arab Emirates in the second half of the 20th century It argues that Islamic Law has granted women rights and privileges in the spheres of family life marriage education and economic pursuits which aim at improving their status in society However due to the interpretations of various religious scholars influenced by local traditions and social trends women have often not been given these rights particularly in family life and marriage In contrast the book also explores how the wealth brought about by the discovery of oil has served to further strengthen the position of UAE women principally in the fields of education social affairs and economic activity This book will be of interest to those studying women in Islamic society and modernisation in the Middle East The Hidden Face of Eve Nawal El Saadawi, Nawāl Sa'dāwī, 2007-06 This powerful account of the oppression of women in the Muslim world remains as shocking today as when it was first published more than a quarter of a century ago Nawal El Saadawi writes out of a powerful sense of the violence and injustice which permeated her society Her experiences working as a doctor in villages around Egypt witnessing prostitution honour killings and sexual abuse including female circumcision drove her to give voice to this suffering She goes on to explore the causes of the situation through a discussion of the historical role of Arab women in religion and literature Saadawi argues that the veil polygamy and legal inequality are incompatible with the essence of Islam or any human faith This edition complete with a new foreword lays claim to The Hidden Face of Eve's status as a classic of modern Arab writing Arab Women in the Middle Ages Shirley Guthrie, 2001 Regardless of social rank and religion whether Christian Jew or Muslim Arab women in the Middle Ages played an important role in the functioning of society This book is a rare journey into their daily lives their private spaces and public roles We are introduced into the women's sanctuaries their homes and what occurs within its realm marriage and contraception childbirth and childcare culinary traditions body and beauty rituals providing rare insight into the rites and rituals prevalent among the different communities of the time Drawing from the Islamic traditions as well as legal documents historical sources and popular chronicles of the time Guthrie's book is an informative study of an area which remains relatively unexplored Imagining Arab Womanhood A. Jarmakani, 2008-03-31 A fascinating demonstration of how U S representations of veils harems and belly dancers have operated as nostalgic and exotic symbols to help rationalize dominant U S narratives about power and progress Reading Arab Women's Autobiographies Nawar Al-Hassan Golley, 2010-01-01 Authors of autobiographies are always engaged in creating a self to present to their readers This process of self creation raises a number of intriguing questions why and how does anyone choose to present herself or himself in an autobiography Do women and men represent themselves in different ways and if so why How do differences in culture affect the writing of autobiography in various parts of the world This book tackles these questions through a close examination of Arab women's autobiographical writings Nawar Al Hassan Golley applies a variety of western critical theories including Marxism colonial discourse feminism and narrative theory to the autobiographies of Huda Shaarawi Fadwa Tuqan Nawal el Saadawi and others to demonstrate what these critical methodologies can reveal about Arab women's writing At the same time she also interrogates these theories against the chosen texts to see how adequate or appropriate these models are for analyzing texts from other cultures This two fold investigation sheds important new light on how the writers or editors of Arab women's autobiographies have written documented presented and organized their texts Arab Women in Algeria Hubertine Auclert, 2014-01-01 The book presents the first English edition of Hubertine Auclert's Arab Women in Algeria which offers a unique picture of Algerian society in late 19th century Hubertine Auclert 1848 1914 was one of the foremost militants for women's political rights in France from the mid 1870s She lived in Algeria from 1888 to 1892 where she investigated the customs and traditions that defined the condition of women She witnessed both the exploitation of women and that of the colonized people in doing so she drew a picture of colonial Algerian society While women were mistreated by men sale of prepubescent girls into marriage forced marriage repudiation permitted only to men polygamy Arab men were mistreated by the colonial administration and excluded from the government of Algeria She denounced the contradictions and hypocrisy of French justice which often enforced for their own interest the anomalies of Muslim law in contradiction with French law The last chapter of the book comprises of several striking anecdotes that illustrate the author s theoretical views Jacqueline Grenez Brovender is a freelance translator and a former lecturer in French at Tufts University Denise Brahimi Chapuis taught in French and Algerian universities about the relationship between France and the Maghreb and its effect on women Arab Women in Management and Leadership K. Arar,T. Shapira,F. Azaiza,R. Hertz-Lazarowitz,2013-02-20 An exploration of the life stories of 22 pioneer Arab women who have forged their path to management and leadership in education and welfare overcoming challenges imposed by a patriarchal society that sees female leadership as a threat Arab Women Ann Dearden,Irene Beeson,Frauke Heard-Bey ,Doreen Ingrams,Robert Jamjoom,Anthony McDermott,Tabitha Petran,1983-05-01 Arab women make up nearly half of the Arab world s population of some 135 million Among all the world s Muslim women they form a distinctive group But their status cannot be given a single classification It varies greatly according to the country they live in and the section of society to which they belong In Saudi Arabia today women with few exceptions still wear the veil and may not meet men other than their nearest relations The more modernized countries such as Egypt Lebanon and Tunisia offer a different picture There the women of better off families have a lifestyle broadly comparable with women in Europe Many are outstanding in public or professional work In proportion to men there are more women members of parliament in Sudan than in Britain Egypt has over 1 000 women doctors and a woman is its senior flying instructor There are women judges in Lebanon and Algeria Syrian women engineers worked on the Euphrates dam Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues
