The View In Winter Reflections On Old Age:

The View in Winter Ronald Blythe, 2005 The View in Winter is a timeless and moving study of the perplexities of living to a great age as related by a wide range of men and women miners villagers doctors teachers craftsmen soldiers priests the widowed and long retired Their voices are set in the context of what literature art religion and medicine over the centuries have said about ageing The result is an acclaimed and compelling reflection on an inevitable aspect of our human experience

Old Age in the Old Regime David Troyansky, 2019-05-15 This book explores a dramatic change in French attitudes toward aging and the aged in the eighteenth century from one extreme of ridicule and neglect to another of respect and care

Vital Involvement in Old Age Erik H. Erikson, Joan M. Erikson, Helen Q. Kivnick, 1994-12-17 Erikson's now famous concept of the life cycle delineates eight stages of psychological development through which each of us progresses The last stage old age challenges the individual to rework the past while remaining involved in the present The authors begin this work with their theory of life's stages through old age In Part two they discuss their interviews with twenty nine octogenarians on whom life history data has been collected for over fifty years Part three is a discussion of the life history of the protagonist in Ingmar Bergman's film Wild Strawberries In Part four Old age in our society the authors offer suggestions for vital involvement Erik H Erikson is winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award

Letters to Young Scholars, Second Edition William Carey Ringenberg, 2018-04-05 Letters to Young Scholars is designed primarily for college students advanced high school students and church and parachurch study groups on spiritual development As a college text the book introduces beginning students to the general education or liberal arts portion of a Christian college education It gives major emphasis to the humanities and social science disciplines the integration of the Christian faith with those disciplines and the application of Christian thought to daily living applied Christianity It seeks to challenge the students to become broader in perspective and appreciation more compassionate toward all of God's creatures and more confident and committed as they develop their worldviews and personal values

Seeking Christ in the Crosses & Joys of Aging Ronda Chervin, 2003-06 Seeking Christ in the Crosses and Joys of Aging is a refreshing and inspiring look at a period of your life enroute to eternity where Jesus awaits you in a new way A perfect gift also for family and friends as they turn 60 Dr Rhonda Chervin is a Professor of Philosophy at Our Lady of Corpus Christi She is an international lecturer and author of some 50 books about Catholic living Ronda is the grandmother of seven children a charismatic speaker and a supporter of pro life activities She appears often on EWTN Recently she has become a Consecrated Widow in the society of Our Lady of the Most Holy Trinity and is teaching at Our Lady of Corpus Christi in Texas

Midrash & Medicine William Cutter, 2011 This volume examines the spiritual shortfalls of our current healing environment and explores how midrash can help you see beyond the physical aspects of healing to tune in to your spiritual source

Culture and Cognition Ronald Schleifer, Robert Con Davis, Nancy Mergler, 2019-05-15 This groundbreaking book challenges the disciplinary boundaries that have traditionally separated

scientific inquiry from literary inquiry It explores scientific knowledge in three subject areas the natural history of aging literary narrative and psychoanalysis In the authors view the different perspectives on cognition afforded by Anglo American cognitive science Greimassian semiotics and Lacanian psychoanalysis help us to redefine our very notion of culture Part I historically situates the concepts of meaning and truth in twentieth century semiotic theory and cognitive science Part II contrasts the modes of Freudian case history to the general instance of Einstein s relativity theory and then sets forth a rhetoric of narrative based on the discourse of the aged Part III examines in the context of literary studies an interdisciplinary concept of cultural cognition Culture and Cognition will be essential reading for literary theorists historians and philosophers of science semioticians and scholars and students of cultural studies the sociology of literature and science and literature

The Art of Growing Old Carroll Saussy, This book shows not only how to embrace the challenges of a long life but also how to engage the possibilities of creativity and depth of soul available to those who have acquired a wealth of experience Activity suggestions are included making this ideal for both personal and group study Young People, Inequality and Youth Work Mark Smith, Tony Jeffs, 1989-12-01 This deals with youth work practice organization and the social and economic position of young people It deals specifically with class division and economic inequalities experienced by young people

Old Age Haim Hazan, 1994-04-28 Haim Hazan is a leading specialist on old age in anthropology and has published several books on particular communities of old people The latest book is an essay on the realities of old age as it is experienced as opposed to the ideas about the old current in western societies It argues that the construction of this world by outsiders is inevitably affected by deeply ingrained social attitudes and structures such as the spatial segregation of the aged as a population and the fear of death with which they are associated By approaching the subject from the social constructionist perspective and by drawing on a variety of detailed ethnographic accounts the author describes a unique and nuanced social world This is a sophisticated and original book which should have a significant impact on a field still dominated by a social problems approach

Age and Generation Mike O'Donnell, 2006-04-07 Age and Generation introduces students to the main sociological and anthropological issues surrounding this topic from childhood to old age and focuses in particular on youth culture

The Aging Mind Patrick Rabbitt, 2014-11-27 No one approaches aging with enthusiasm Activities we accomplish easily in our 20s and 30s become more difficult as we grow old but though change is inevitable recognising and understanding precisely what is happening to our bodies and minds allows us to continue to manage and enjoy our lives Patrick Rabbitt is a cognitive gerontologist who has researched physical and mental aging for over 50 years and so can interpret his personal daily experiences of the aging process through a comprehensive understanding of what gerontological research has revealed about how our bodies and brains age and how these changes affect our everyday experiences and lives Engagingly written Professor Rabbitt s book is a fascinating account of why our sensory and cognitive experiences change as we get older and what these developments mean for our overall physical and emotional well being Describing the latest research the book covers the mental changes that affect our daily lives such as those in memory intelligence attention sleep vision and hearing taste and smell touch and balance anxiety depression and perception of the passage of time It also discusses how far we can keep and develop the skills we have mastered over our lifetimes The book debunks unhelpful myths about the aging process and offers guidance on how we can age better This is an absorbing account of the aging process from one of the most eminent gerontologists working today Its warmth and candour make it an engaging and helpful guide for those interested in understanding their own or their relatives ageing Its rigour and comprehensiveness make ideal for students seeking an accessible alternative to standard textbooks on aging and for health professionals working with older people

Identity and Ageing Mark Cameron Tennant, 2025-08-29 Examining the fundamental social and cultural changes faced by older adults this book explores ageing and the psychological issues encountered in learning to be as an older person Many of these issues are present throughout the lifespan but take on a new complexion with advancing age such as the significance of past present and future in our lives how we relate to others in our world the impact of our gendered lives the tension between autonomy and dependence consumption and production cognition and emotion and the psychological impact of biological ageing Adopting a lifespan developmental approach this text draws together the psychology of late adulthood contemporary views about identity and how we learn and develop in late adulthood Acknowledging the historical social cultural biological and technological factors that impact the psychological experience of identity as we age this book will be of interest to psychology and social work students studying lifespan development It will also appeal more broadly to a range of professions that provide services for older adults

Weathering Dr. Arline T Geronimus, 2023-03-28 Fusing science and social justice renowned public health researcher Dr Arline T Geronimus offers an urgent monumental book Ibram X Kendi author of Stamped from the Beginning exploring the ways in which systemic injustice erodes the health of marginalized people America has woken up to what many of its citizens have known for centuries and to what public health statistics have evidenced for decades systemic injustice takes a physical too often deadly toll on Black brown working class and poor communities and any group who experiences systemic cultural oppression or economic exploitation Marginalized Americans are disproportionately more likely to suffer from chronic diseases and to die at much younger ages than their middle and upper class white counterparts Black mothers die during childbirth at a rate three times higher than white mothers White kids in high poverty Appalachian regions have a healthy life expectancy of 50 years old while the vast majority of US youth can expect to both survive and be able bodied at 50 with decades of healthy life expectancy ahead of them In the face of such clear inequity we must ask ourselves why this is and what we can we do Dr Arline T Geronimus coined the term weathering to describe the effects of systemic oppression including racism and classism on the body In Weathering based on more than 30 years of research she argues that health and aging have more to do with how society treats us than how well we take care of ourselves She explains what happens to human bodies as they attempt to withstand and overcome the challenges and insults that society leverages at them and details how this process ravages their health And she proposes solutions Until now there has been little discussion about the insidious effects of social injustice on the body Weathering shifts the paradigm shining a light on the topic and offering a roadmap for hope

Redefining Social Problems Edward Seidman, Julian Rappaport, 2013-06-29

Domicide John Douglas Porteous, Sandra Eileen Smith, 2001 Media reports describing the destruction of people's homes for reasons ranging from ethnic persecution to the perceived need for a new airport or highway are all too familiar The planned destruction of homes affects millions of people globally places destroyed range in scale from single dwellings to entire homelands Domicide tells how and why the powerful destroy homes that happen to be in the way of corporate political bureaucratic and strategic projects Too frequently this destruction is justified as being in the public interest

Blythe Spirit Ian Collins, 2024-11-07

Moving candid vivid it is all that we could hope for in a memoir of this unique and treasured writer ROWAN WILLIAMS An unusually intimate and affectionate portrait PATRICK BARKHAM GUARDIAN As a boy I dreamed of scholars and saints wandering around markets and cornfields and of artists and poets sitting under the trees Ronald Blythe 1922-2023 author of the inimitable Akenfield was a prolific and poetic chronicler of rural and spiritual life nature and literature He spent a joyful century close to his Suffolk roots time travelling in his imagination and publishing forty books and thousands of essays His wide creative network included John and Christine Nash Cedric Morris Benjamin Britten E M Forster Patricia Highsmith and Richard Mabey From finding Thomas Hardy in February rain and John Clare in country tracks to talking to his white cat and reading through a dragonfly's wings the Blythe gift was to marvel in the everyday His writing was intimate meditative and often laced with a wry humour inviting readers to share his enchanting perspective on the world Yet few knew the real Ronald Blythe Leaving school at 14 he educated himself in libraries churches and walks in the East Anglian landscape He never spoke about early poverty and traumatic experience in the war while his sexuality was kept private except from those closest to him Drawing on unparalleled access to letters notebooks published works drafts and conversations from decades of friendship Ian Collins tells the full story of Ronald Blythe for the first time The result is a sensitive revelatory portrait which celebrates a fascinating complex man and casts new light on one of our greatest writers

Functional Performance in Older Adults Bette R Bonder, Vanina Dal Bello-Haas, 2017-12-04 Support the very best health well being and quality of life for older adults Here's the ideal resource for rehabilitation professionals who are working with or preparing to work with older adults You'll find descriptions of the normal aging process discussions of how health and social factors can impede your clients ability to participate in regular activities and step by step guidance on how to develop strategies for maximizing their well being

Eternal Youths James Harkin, Julia Huber, 2004 The baby boomers have always been seen as a deeply symbolic generation born amid a surge of post war optimism and reaching adulthood in the 1960s For many of them challenging received wisdom is deeply embedded in their own self image But one problem in thinking about British baby boomers is that very little original research has addressed them directly This report takes on the challenge of exploring the hopes and fears of a group of people who may help to reshape the meaning of old age By talking directly to them in depth we have tested assumptions about how age sex marital status and ethnicity impact on the values of British baby boomers We have also investigated their attitudes to dying which if they have their way is likely to become the ultimate consumer service Some firms are already waking up to the fact that while youth culture might be cool it is far cooler to profit from the well heeled baby boomers But as the baby boomers continue to march towards old age the financial clout they wield will be less important than the new ways in which they will want to spend their money The combination of wealth health and longer life gives them a new phase of life Baby boomers want to have their time again by chasing personal fulfilment free from the pressures of overwork and childrearing From middle aged men and women on motorbikes to new beauty products and treatments and music retailing the dominance of baby boomers can only grow This project was produced in partnership with Centrica the principal funder and the Saga group

Successful Aging as a Contemporary Obsession Sarah Lamb, 2017-05-22 In recent decades the North American public has pursued an inspirational vision of successful aging striving through medical technique and individual effort to eradicate the declines vulnerabilities and dependencies previously commonly associated with old age On the face of it this bold new vision of successful healthy and active aging is highly appealing But it also rests on a deep cultural discomfort with aging and being old The contributors to Successful Aging as a Contemporary Obsession explore how the successful aging movement is playing out across five continents Their chapters investigate a variety of people including Catholic nuns in the United States Hindu ashram dwellers older American women seeking plastic surgery aging African American lesbians and gay men in the District of Columbia Chicago home health care workers and their aging clients Mexican men foregoing Viagra dementia and Alzheimer sufferers in the United States and Brazil and aging policies in Denmark Poland India China Japan and Uganda This book offers a fresh look at a major cultural and public health movement of our time questioning what has become for many a taken for granted goal aging in a way that almost denies aging itself
