(Autobiographical Novel) Samuel Butler, 2020-12-17 The Way of All Flesh traces four generations of the Pontifex family. The story is narrated by Overton, godfather to the central character Ernest. Beginning in the late eighteenth century, the story traces Ernest's emergence from previous generations of the Pontifex family. John Pontifex was a carpenter; his son George rises in the world to become a publisher. George's son Theobald, pressed by his father to become a minister, is manipulated into marrying Christina, the daughter of a clergyman. The main character Ernest Pontifex is the eldest son of Theobald and Christina. Ernest has an antagonistic relationship with his hypocritical and domineering parents. His aunt Alethea is aware of this relationship but dies before she can fulfill her aim of counteracting the parents' malign influence on the boy. However, shortly before her death, she secretly passes a small fortune into Overton's keeping with the agreement that once Ernest is twenty-eight, he can receive it.

An Introduction to the English Novel Arnold Kettle,2016-03-17 First published in 1953 this book forms the second part of Arnold Kettle's An Introduction to the English Novel. In this second part Kettle builds a discussion of the modern English novel around the study of various books that have a more than casual significance in its development. He begins with an analysis of James Hardy and Butler three late Victorian writers whose work points forward to the major preoccupations of twentieth century novelists. In his discussion of a dozen or so of these points the author examines their progress in the long struggle of the novelist to see life steadily and whole and points out some of the problems and hazards that beset the writer still. The selection both of novelists and their work is excellent it is both shrewd and witty. The Times Literary Supplement Altogether this is a refreshing challenging and original work wholly adult in tone and never pedantic or dull. The Guardian
