Winning With The News Media A Self Defense Manual When You're The Story:

Winning with the News Media Clarence Jones, 1998-11 Winning with the News Media Clarence Jones, 2005

Advertising and Public Relations Shelly Field, 2005 Presents over eighty job descriptions with education requirements training salary range and more for those interested in a career in advertising or public relations Public Relations on the Net Shel Holtz, 2002 California based consultant on Internet communications Holtz has updated his 1998 guide by removing the basics of computer use that he can now assume readers to know and by replacing case studies from the period with ones that make sense four years later The Internet is one of the most significant tools for public relations he says but using it to best advantage requires strategic thinking about how to apply it to communication efforts Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Law, Culture and Visual Studies Anne Wagner, Richard K. Sherwin, 2013-07-11 The proposed volumes are aimed at a multidisciplinary audience and seek to fill the gap between law semiotics and visuality providing a comprehensive theoretical and analytical overview of legal visual semiotics They seek to promote an interdisciplinary debate from law semiotics and visuality bringing together the cumulative research traditions of these related areas as a prelude to identifying fertile avenues for research going forward Advance Praise for Law Culture and Visual Studies This diverse and exhilarating collection of essays explores the many facets both historical and contemporary of visual culture in the law It opens a window onto the substantive jurisdictional disciplinary and methodological diversity of current research It is a cornucopia of materials that will enliven legal studies for those new to the field as well as for established scholars It is a must read that will leave you wondering about the validity of the long held obsession that reduces the law and legal studies to little more than a preoccupation with the word Leslie J Moran Professor of Law Birkbeck College University of London Law Culture Visual Studies is a treasure trove of insights on the entwined roles of legality and visuality From multiple interdisciplinary perspectives by scholars from around the world these pieces reflect the fullness and complexities of our visual encounters with law and culture From pictures to places to postage stamps from forensics to film to folklore this anthology is an exciting journey through the fertile field of law and visual culture as well as a testament that the field has come of age Naomi Mezey Professor of Law Georgetown University Law Center Washington D C USA This highly interdisciplinary reference work brings together diverse fields including cultural studies communication theory rhetoric law and film studies legal and social history visual and legal theory in order to document the various historical cultural representational and theoretical links that bind together law and the visual This book offers a breath taking range of resources from both well established and newer scholars who together cover the field of law's representation in interrogation of and dialogue with forms of visual rhetoric practice and discourse Taken together this scholarship presents state of the art research into an important and developing dimension of contemporary legal and cultural inquiry Above all Law Culture and Visual Studies lays the groundwork for rethinking the nature of law in our densely visual culture How are legal meanings produced encoded distributed and decoded What critical and hermeneutic skills new or old familiar or unfamiliar will be needed Topical diverse and enlivening Law Culture and Visual Studies is a vital research tool and an urgent invitation to further critical thinking in the areas so well laid out in this collection Desmond Manderson Future Fellow ANU College of Law Research School of Humanities the Arts Australian National University Australia

Culture, Politics and Climate Change Deserai A. Crow, Maxwell T. Boykoff, 2014-03-21 Focusing on cultural values and norms as they are translated into politics and policy outcomes this book presents a unique contribution in combining research from varied disciplines and from both the developed and developing world This collection draws from multiple perspectives to present an overview of the knowledge related to our current understanding of climate change politics and culture It is divided into four sections Culture and Values Communication and Media Politics and Policy and Future Directions in Climate Politics Scholarship each followed by a commentary from a key expert in the field The book includes analysis of the challenges and opportunities for establishing successful communication on climate change among scientists the media policy makers and activists With an emphasis on the interrelation between social cultural and political aspects of climate change communication this volume should be of interest to students and scholars of climate change environment studies environmental policy communication cultural studies media studies politics sociology

Communications Research in Action Philip M. Napoli, Minna Aslama, 2011-02-01 A synergy between academia and activism has long been a goal of both scholars and advocacy organizations in communications research The essays in Communications Research in Action demonstrate for the first time in one volume how an effective partnership between the two can contribute to a more democratic public sphere by helping to break down the digital divide to allow greater access to critical technologies democratizing the corporate ownership of the media industry and offering myriad opportunities for varied articulation of individuals ideas Essays spanning topics such as the effect of ownership concentration on children s television programming the media s impact on community building and the global consequences of communications research will not only be valuable to scholars activists and media policy makers but will also be instrumental in serving as a template for further exploration in collaboration
