The Routledge Companion to Australian Literature Jessica Gildersleeve, 2020-12-22 In recent years Australian literature has experienced a revival of interest both domestically and internationally The increasing prominence of work by writers like Christos Tsiolkas heightened through television and film adaptation as well as the award of major international prizes to writers like Richard Flanagan and the development of new high profile prizes like the Stella Prize have all reinvigorated interest in Australian literature both at home and abroad This Companion emerges as a part of that reinvigoration considering anew the history and development of Australian literature and its key themes as well as tracing the transition of the field through those critical debates It considers works of Australian literature on their own terms as well as positioning them in their critical and historical context and their ethical and interactive position in the public and private spheres With an emphasis on literature's responsibilities this book claims Australian literary studies as a field uniquely positioned to expose the ways in which literature engages with produces and is produced by its context provoking a critical re evaluation of the concept of the relationship between national literatures cultures and histories and the social function of literary texts

Darkness Subverted Katrin Althans, 2010-02-18 At the heart of the Gothic novel proper lies the discursive binary of self and other which in colonial literature was quickly filled with representations of the colonial master and his indigenous subject Contemporary black Australian artists have usurped this colonial Gothic discourse torn it to pieces and finally transformed it into an Aboriginal Gothic This study first develops the theoretical concept of an Aboriginal Gothic and then uses this term as a tool to analyse novels by Vivienne Cleven Mudrooroo Kim Scott Sam Watson and Alexis Wright as well as films directed by Beck Cole and Tracey Moffatt It centres on the question of how a genuinely European mode the Gothic can be permeated and thus digested by elements of indigenous Australian culture in order to portray the current situation of Aboriginal Australians and to celebrate a recovered cultural identity Gothic Animals Ruth Heholt, Melissa Edmundson, 2019-12-10 This book begins with the assumption that the presence of non human creatures causes an always already uncanny rift in human assumptions about reality Exploring the dark side of animal nature and the otherness of animals as viewed by humans and employing cutting edge theory on non human animals eco criticism literary and cultural theory this book takes the Gothic genre into new territory After the dissemination of Darwin s theories of evolution nineteenth century fiction quickly picked up on the idea of the animal within Here the fear explored was of an unruly defiant degenerate and entirely amoral animality lying mostly dormant within all of us However non humans and humans have other sorts of encounters too and even before Darwin humans have often had an uneasy relationship with animals which as Donna Haraway puts it have a way of looking back at us In this book the focus is not on the animal within but rather on the animal with out other and entirely incomprehensible Animals and Science Fiction Nora Castle, Giulia Champion, 2024-03-22 Animals and Science Fiction is the first edited collection to be published focusing on the intersection of animal studies and science fiction studies It offers a broad range of theoretical approaches and primary source texts including novels short stories poetry film and TV photography erotica video games and urban planning documents that explore the ways works of science fiction can transform how we see and interact with nonhuman others With an eye toward more just multispecies futures it argues that speculative imaginaries can be pivotal in changing attitudes toward and understandings of nonhuman animals in our world today Chapters appeal to those interested in biopolitics posthumanism new materialism ecocriticism and the environmental humanities ocean humanities postcolonial studies critical race studies Indigenous studies global sf studies film studies and food studies Taken together the collection works to showcase a diverse and growing field of scholarly inquiry into animals and science fiction Atlas of Imagined Places Matt Brown, Rhys B. Davies, 2021-09-28 WINNER Edward Stanford Travel Writing Awards 2022 Illustrated Travel Book of the Year HIGHLY COMMENDED British Cartographic Society Awards 2022 From Stephen King s Salem s Lot to the superhero land of Wakanda from Lilliput of Gulliver s Travels to Springfield in The Simpsons this is a wondrous atlas of imagined places around the world Locations from film tv literature myths comics and video games are plotted in a series of beautiful vintage looking maps The maps feature fictional buildings towns cities and countries plus mountains and rivers oceans and seas Ever wondered where the Bates Motel was based Or Bedford Falls in It s a Wonderful Life The authors have taken years to research the likely geography of thousands of popular culture locations that have become almost real to us Sometimes these are easy to work out but other times a bit of detective work is needed and the authors have been those detectives By looking at the maps you ll find that the revolution at Animal Farm happened next to Winnie the Pooh s home Each location has an extended index entry plus coordinates so you can find it on the maps Illuminating essays accompanying the maps give a great insight into the stories behind the imaginary places from Harry Potter s wizardry to Stone Age Bedrock in the Flintstones A stunning map collection of invented geography and topography drawn from the world s imagination Fascinating and beautiful this is an essential book for any popular culture fan and map enthusiast

Teaching Boys Martin Mills, 2020-07-22 Persistently cheeky disruptive even aggressive boys can be found in classrooms everywhere as can the victims of bullying These boys behaviours often pose a problem to themselves as well as to others As the hotly contested debates about boys education swirl around them what can teachers actually do to improve boys performance in the classroom Teaching Boys provides a practical framework for teachers to improve boys education in ways that are appropriate for their school context and also sustainable Drawing on intensive research in classrooms where innovative teachers are achieving good outcomes with boys Keddie and Mills show how other teachers can learn from their success They acknowledge that there are no simple solutions but show that what teachers do in the classroom really does matter They emphasise the importance of understanding the impact of dominant and subversive masculinities at all levels of schooling on both boys and girls What is original about this book is that it marries theory and practice in a way that speaks to the everyday realities and concerns of teachers who work with boys in schools Associate Professor Wayne Martino The University of Western Ontario What is impressive about Teaching Boys is the way in which Keddie and Mills pull together the best research on boys and schooling with the best research on pedagogies Professor Bob Lingard The University of Edinburgh

Rewriting God Elaine Lindsay, 2021-11-22 Women are rarely if ever mentioned in commentaries upon Australian Christianity and spirituality Only exceptional women are recognized as authorities on religious matters Why is this so Does it matter Don t people from the same religious tradition share similar experiences of the divine regardless of their gender Rewriting God asks whether women have been writing about the divine and whether their insights are different from those contained in malestream accounts of Australian Christianity and spirituality An analysis of the writings of popular theologians and religious commentators over the last twenty years suggests that the most popular form of spirituality among Australian theologians is Desert Spirituality An analysis of women s autobiographical writings however suggests that the desert is irrelevant to many women s spiritual experiences This book through a close investigation of the fictions of Thea Astley Elizabeth Jolley and Barbara Hanrahan attempts to posit alternative forms of women s spirituality and to signal ways in which this spirituality is already being expressed From the evidence gathered here it becomes obvious that traditional expressions of Australian Christianity and spirituality are gender specific and that they have functioned to deny women s religious experiences and to silence their claims to equality in the sight and service of the divine It becomes obvious too that women have been developing their own forms of religious expression and that these may be expected to supplant gradually withering images of Desert Spirituality Whether this new imagery will strengthen Australian Christianity or whether it merely marks a decline in the authority of Christianity remains a moot point

Literary Location and Dislocation of Myth in the Post/Colonial Anglophone World ,2017-11-01 The English speaking world today is so diverse that readers need a gateway to its many postcolonial narratives and art forms This collection of essays examines this diver sity and what brings so many different cul tures together Whether Indian Canadian Australasian or Zimbabwean the stories dis cussed focus on how artists render experi ences of separation belonging and loss The histories and transformations postcolonial countries have gone through have given rise to a wide range of myths that retrace their birth evolution and decline Myths have enabled ethnic communities to live together the first section of this collection dwells on stories which can be both inclusive and exclusive under the aegis of nation While certain essays revisit and retell the crucial role women have played in mythical texts like the Mah bh rata others discuss how settler colonies return to and re appro priate a past in order to define themselves in the present Crises clashes and conflicts which are at the heart of the second section of this book entail myths of historical and cultural dislocation They appear as breaks in time that call for reconstruction and redefini tion a chief instance being the trauma of slavery with its deep geographical and cul tural dislocations However the crises that have deprived entire communities of their homeland and their identity are followed by moments of remembrance reconciliation and rebuilding As the term postcolonial sug gests the formerly colonized people seek to revisit and re investigate the impact of colo nization before committing it to collective memory In a more specifically literary sec tion texts are read as mythopoeia fore grounding the aesthetic and poetic issues in colonial and postcolonial poems and novels The texts explored here study in different ways the process of mytho logization through images of location and dislocation The editors of this collection hope that readers worldwide will enjoy reading about the myths that have shaped and continue to shape postcolonial communities and nations
