The Politics of Responsibility Chad Lavin,2023-12-11 Politics cannot function without responsibility but there have been serious disagreements about how responsibility is to be understood and huge controversies about how it is to be distributed rewarded legislated and enforced The liberal notions of personal responsibility that have dominated political thinking in the West for more than a century are rooted in the familiar territory of individual will and causal blame but these theories have been assailed as no longer adequate to explain or address the political demands of a global social structure Informed by Marx Foucault and Butler Chad Lavin argues for a postliberal theory of responsibility formulating responsibility as a process that is anchored in a persistent ability to respond not reproach Lavin works this formulation through discussions of contemporary political issues such as globalization police brutality and abortion Rather than assigning individual blame postliberal responsibility challenges the supposed autonomy of individual subjects by taking structural arguments into account Lavin concludes that a liberal concept of responsibility gives rise to a moralistic and oppressive approach to social problems while a postliberal approach highlights a shared responsibility for developing collective solutions to systemic problems Postliberal responsibility not only suggests more generous and democratic responses to social ills it also allows us to theorize a greater range of issues that demand political response

History of Woman Suffrage: 1876-1885 Ida Husted Harper, 1886 Women and Politics Lynne Ford, 2018-05-15 Women and Politics is a comprehensive examination of women's use of politics in pursuit of gender equality How can demands for gender equality be reconciled with sex differences Resolving this paradoxical question has proceeded along two paths the legal equality doctrine which emphasizes gender neutrality and the fairness doctrine which recognizes differences between men and women The text's clear analysis and presentation of theory and history helps students to think critically about the difficulties faced by women in politics and about how public policies in education labour and the economy and family and fertility impact gender equality The fully revised fourth edition explores new critical perspectives recent political events and current challenges to gender equality including the 2016 presidential election and Hillary Clinton's candidacy the fight for equal pay and paid leave and the debate over reproductive rights and campus sexual assault It also includes current scholarship on the intersections of race class and gender and expanded coverage of minority women women in the military and conservative women This text and its two path framework is essential to understanding women's pursuit of equality via the political system

Therapeutic Community for Women Prisoners Elaine Player, Elaine Genders, 2025-09-02 Based upon an extensive empirical study of a democratic therapeutic community for women serving long and medium sentences this book explores the opportunities it provided for restorative rehabilitation In so doing it identifies some of the interconnected ways in which these ambitions are undermined by pervasive yet often tacit assumptions that underly penal policies and practices Drawing on a wealth of data gathered from a study spanning a period of eighteen years at the only democratic therapeutic community for women prisoners in the UK the book highlights how feminist criminology has revealed an invidious history of women's treatment in prison demonstrating how reformist and rehabilitative interventions have reproduced and exacerbated existing states of inequality and oppression. Consequently the question explored in this book is whether a proportionate sentence that imposes a loss of liberty is inevitably destined to this fate or whether it can be constructed in ways that are progressive and transformative. By identifying and understanding some of the interconnected ways in which progressive efforts have typically been undermined it opens a debate about the insinuation of certain often unspoken assumptions that underly penal policies and practices and the need for their deconstruction. It opens an axiomatic debate about how women imprisoned for serious offences might have that loss of liberty interpreted to facilitate a restorative reparative and reintegrative process of rehabilitation informed by principles of social justice. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of criminology, feminist studies, public policy and human rights. It will also be of value to policymakers and practitioners in women's prisons and psychologists and psychiatrists interested in therapeutic communities.

Prejudice, Stigma, Privilege, and Oppression Lorraine T. Benuto, Melanie P. Duckworth, Akihiko Masuda, William O'Donohue, 2020-05-11. This book addresses the ways in which clinical psychologists ought to conceptualize and respond to the prejudice and oppression that their clients experience. Thus the link between prejudice and oppression to psychopathology is explored. Basic scientific information about prejudice is reviewed and the current status of the major minority groups is explored. Chapters examine the role of prejudice and oppression in institutional structures such as the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders and professional organizations. The discussion addresses ways to assess these phenomena in individual cases and how to intervene in psychotherapy. The book ventures to evaluate the status of the profession of psychology with respect to prejudice, stigmatization and oppression by critically examining evidence that the profession has responded adequately to these social problems. These issues are hard to talk about and are not well talked about in the field. This book is a push in the right direction. Littell's Living Age, 1855. Report of the Commissioner of Education [with Accompanying Papers]. United States. It incorporates contributions from a group of international experts along with a selection of short opinion pieces written in response to specific ethical issues. The collection addresses issues arising in biomedical and medical ethics ranging from assisted reproductive technologies to the role of clinical ethics committees. It examines broader societal issues with particular emphasis on sustainability and the environment and also focuses on issues of human rights in current global contexts. The contributors collect responses to issues arising from high profile cases such as the legitimacy of war in Iraq to physician-related suicide. The volume will provide a valuable resource for practitioners and academics with an interest in ethics across a range of disciplines. History of Summit County William Henry Perrin, 1881. Sociology David
