Women Democracy Studies Modern Contemporary:

Women's Studies Linda Krikos, Cindy Ingold, 2004-08-30 This truly monumental work maps the literature of women's studies covering thousands of titles and Web sites in 19 subject areas published between 1985 and 1999. Intended as a reference and collection development tool, this bibliography provides a guide for women's studies information for each title along with a detailed, often evaluative review. The annotations summarize each work's content, its importance or contribution to women's studies, and its relationship to other titles on the subject. Core titles and titles that are out of print are noted, and reviews indicate which titles are appropriate as texts or supplemental texts. This definitive guide to the literature of women's studies is a must purchase for academic libraries that support women's studies programs and is a useful addition to any academic or public library that endeavors to represent the field. A team of subject specialists has taken on the immense task of documenting publications in the area of women's studies in the last decades of the 20th century. The result is this truly monumental work which maps the field covering thousands of titles and Web sites in 19 subject areas published between 1985 and 1999. Intended as a reference and collection development tool, this bibliography provides a guide for women's studies information for each title along with a detailed, often evaluative review. The annotations summarize each work's content, its importance or contribution to women's studies, and its relationship to other titles on the subject. Most reviews cite and describe similar and contrasting titles, substantially extending the coverage. Core titles and titles that are out of print are noted, and reviews indicate which titles are appropriate as texts or supplemental texts. Taking up where the previous volume by Loeb, Searing, and Stineman left off, this is the definitive guide to the literature of women's studies. It is a must purchase for academic libraries that support women's studies programs and a welcome addition to any academic or public library that endeavors to represent the field.

Female Youth in Contemporary Egypt Dina Hosni, 2022-07-26 Based on interview material, observations, and content analysis, this book captures the everyday life structures of a cohort of Muslim ex-Islamist female youth in Egypt who have joined or established new networks that share the common interest of doing good to the society based on their religious worldviews, representing a broader societal movement. Female Youth in Contemporary Egypt posits that despite the fact that the 2011 Egyptian uprisings did not necessarily materialize with the political effects anticipated by some of its activists, it seems to have led to the formation of a new generation of active youth with a distinct worldview. Four broad and intertwined theoretical considerations have been taken into account. First, the book delineates the emergence and continuous development of post and sometimes non-bourgeois public spheres in Arabo-Islamic contexts and conceptualizes multiple publics of overlapping Islamic structures rather than one Islamic public. Second, it offers an empirical as well as a conceptual understanding of the positioning of religion as public/private. Third, it presents a critique of Islamist thought conducive to the rise of post-Islamism, and fourth, it offers a critique of feminist thought to throw light on novel forms of Muslim women's discourses and activism in line with post-Islamist worldviews. This book will be of interest to scholars in Middle Eastern Studies women s studies and political studies Islamic NGOs in Bangladesh Mohammad Musfequs Salehin, 2016-01-13 NGOs Non Governmental Organizations have emerged in both a development and aid capacity in Bangladesh providing wide reaching public services to the country s population living in extreme poverty However resistance to and limitations of NGO led development which in conjunction with Bangladesh s social transformation led to a new religious based NGO development practice Looking at the role of Islamic NGOs in Bangladesh the book investigates new forms of neoliberal governmentality supported by international donors It discusses how this form of social regulation produces and reproduces subjectivities particularly Muslim women subjectivity and has combined religious and economic rationality further complicating the boundaries and the relationship between Islam modernity and development The book argues that both secular and Islamic NGOs target women in the name of empowerment but more importantly as the most reliable partners to meet their debt obligations of micro financing schemes including shari a based financing The targeted women in turn experience Islamic NGOs as less coercive and more sensitive to their religious environment in the rural village community than are secular NGOs Providing a comparative study of the role of religious and secular NGOs in the implementation of neoliberal policies and development strategies this book will be a significant addition to research on South Asian Politics Development Studies Gender Studies and Religion Women, Power and Politics in 21st Century Iran Tara Povey, 2016-02-17 This book examines the women s movement in Iran and its role in contesting gender relations since the 1979 revolution Looking at examples from politics law employment environment media and religion and the struggle for democracy this book demonstrates how material conditions have important social and political consequences for the lives of women in Iran and exposes the need to challenge the dominant theoretical perspectives on gender and Islam A truly fascinating insider s look at the experiences of Iranian women as academics political and civil society activists this book counters the often inaccurate and misleading stereotyping of Iranian women to present a vibrant and diverse picture of these women s lives A welcome and unique addition to the vibrant and growing literature on women Islam development democracy and feminisms Equality by Design Szonja Szelényi, 1999-01-01 Social mobility is a classic topic in sociology and Hungary presents an interesting case study for a number of reasons The communist regime that took power after World War II had the proclaimed goal of eliminating the abusive inequalities of the old regime and creating an egalitarian society it accordingly introduced numerous measures intended to favor the advancement of people with working class backgrounds That to some extent these policies worked cannot be disputed but over time did they simply replace one privileged class with another What happened during the communist reform era of the late 1970 s and 1980 s when Hungary went much further along the path of decentralizing the economy than any other Eastern bloc country What happened in the postcommunist era And what difference did such age old liabilities as being Jewish or female make There is as much scholarly debate over how to address these questions in an intellectually rigorous way as there is over the answers to them This study aims to contribute to the debate by analyzing random samples of both elites and the general population and by carrying out comparisons across presocialist socialist and postsocialist society Its main methodological goal is to explore the implications of carefully distinguishing between the effects of socialist reform on the distribution of inequality from its effects on the underlying rules by which inequality is allocated

Women, Power and Politics in 21st Century Iran Dr Elaheh Rostami-Povey, Ms Tara Povey, 2013-04-28 This book examines the women's movement in Iran and its role in contesting gender relations since the 1979 revolution Looking at examples from politics law employment environment media and religion and the struggle for democracy this book demonstrates how material conditions have important social and political consequences for the lives of women in Iran and exposes the need to challenge the dominant theoretical perspectives on gender and Islam A truly fascinating insider's look at the experiences of Iranian women as academics political and civil society activists this book counters the often inaccurate and misleading stereotyping of Iranian women to present a vibrant and diverse picture of these women's lives A welcome and unique addition to the vibrant and growing literature on women Islam development democracy and feminisms

Women, Media, and Power in Indonesia Jane Ahlstrand, 2021-12-20 This book demonstrates the crucial link between gender and structures of power in democratic Indonesia and the role of the online news media in regulating this relationship of power Using critical discourse analysis CDA as a theoretical framework and social actor analysis as the methodological approach this book examines the discursive representation of three prominent female Indonesian political figures in the mainstream Indonesian online news media in a period of social political transition It presents newfound linguistic evidence in the form of discourse strategies that reflect the women s dynamic relationship with power More broadly the critical analysis of the news discourse becomes a way of uncovering and evaluating implicit barriers and opportunities affecting women s political participation in Indonesia and other Asian political contexts Indonesia s process of democratisation and the influential role of the online news media in shaping and reflecting political discourse

Labour, Nature and Capitalism Silpa Satheesh, 2025-04-03 Labour Nature and Capitalism traces how the alliance between labour and capital manifests in the form of conflicts between organised trade unions and a local environmental movement in the context of the much acclaimed Kerala model of development It explores the history of the area s local industrialisation the presence of varied economic interests and exposes the barriers to forming solidarity networks among the working classes Situated in the backdrop of the Eloor Edayar industrial belt this book delves deeper into the ways in which capitalism infiltrates and manipulates the social movement landscape in Kerala It shows how the hegemonic coalition between the state industries and institutionalised trade unions enable capitalist rationality to mediate and control social movements in postcolonial settings Using an ethnographic approach the book seeks to embark on a journey to understand the tensions between two progressive social movements a trade union collective and a local environmental movement foregrounding the experiences of members of the respective groups The analysis presented here shows how the contestations conflicts between the movements stem from interpretive as well as ideological differences surrounding economic development and environmental justice Praise for Labour Nature and Capitalism Labour Nature and Capitalism is a carefully researched as well as theoretically astute book on a subject of vital importance to India and the world Based on fieldwork in Kerala Dr Silpa Satheesh studies the tensions between grassroots environmental groups and trade unions analysing how factory labour finds itself in opposition to other even more vulnerable sections of the working class Importantly she explores both the organizational as well as affective aspects of struggle allowing activists to speak loud and clear in their own voices Through her work Dr Satheesh convincingly demonstrates that the conventional polarity of environment versus development is false and even pernicious Ramachandra Guha author of Speaking with Nature The Origins of Indian Environmentalism This work is an important contribution to an

understudied and weakly understood arena the relationship between trade unions and environmental movements While anecdotal accounts of the tensions and sometimes complementarities between the two movements are common detailed and systematic studies are not Given the urgent need to bring these movements together to challenge capitalist exploitation and unsustainability this study is very timely Ashish Kothari environmental activist and author There are many environmental grassroots movements in the state of Kerala This fascinating book focuses on the Periyar River gravely and persistently polluted by discharges of company water Competent activists have denounced the environmental and public health damages for many years counting on support from farmers and fishers However another section of the working class smaller in number but more powerful politically the industrial trade unions together with factory owners and the state administration accuses them of being at the service of anti national interests By poignant long outspoken interviews with members of both opposite groups and thorough documentation the sociologist Silpa Satheesh brilliantly answers a question of world relevance is there an environmentalism of the working class Joan Martinez Alier Autonomous University of Barcelona Silpa Satheesh s book is a very welcome addition to environmental labour studies for many reasons It adds a case from the Global South to the growing literature on labour and the environment it examines the dynamics between labour and environment through an ethnographic approach that provides nuance and empathy and demonstrates that labour is not homogeneous as workers are central to both the labour and environmental side of her story In that sense it alerts us to the fact that workers people who need to work to reproduce themselves are not just one category amongst others but the largest category short of human beings and citizens of one country or another From such a starting point the tensions between labour and environmental priorities are not solely conflicts between categories of people but also within the very broad category of labour As a result of the above Dr Satheesh s well written book broadens and enriches environmental labour studies and should be read widely and productively Dr Dimitris Stevis Colorado State University USA Strong alliances between the labour and the environmental movement are an essential precondition for combatting the climate crisis At the same time they are far from being easy to build Labour Nature and Capitalism brilliantly demonstrates why this is the case Based on deep empirical insights and sound theoretical reflections it illuminates labour environment relationships and explores how they can be turned into a force of socio ecological transformation Markus Wissen Berlin School of Economics and Law
