The Victors Eisenhower And His Boys The Men Of World War II:

The Victors Stephen E. Ambrose, 1999-07-15 From America's preeminent military historian Stephen E. Ambrose comes the definitive telling of the war in Europe from D Day June 6 1944 to the end eleven months later on May 7 1945 This authoritative narrative account is drawn by the author himself from his five acclaimed books about that conflict most particularly from the definitive and comprehensive D Day and Citizen Soldiers about which the great Civil War historian James McPherson wrote If there is a better book about the experience of GIs who fought in Europe during World War II I have not read it Citizen Soldiers captures the fear and exhilaration of combat the hunger and cold and filth of the foxholes the small intense world of the individual rifleman as well as the big picture of the European theater in a manner that grips the reader and will not let him go No one who has not been there can understand what combat is like but Stephen Ambrose brings us closer to an understanding than any other historian has done The Victors also includes stories of individual battles raids acts of courage and suffering from Pegasus Bridge an account of the first engagement of D Day when a detachment of British airborne troops stormed the German defense forces and paved the way for the Allied invasion and from Band of Brothers an account of an American rifle company from the 506th Parachute Infantry Regiment who fought died and conquered from Utah Beach through the Bulge and on to Hitler's Eagle's Nest in Germany Stephen Ambrose is also the author of Eisenhower the greatest work on Dwight Eisenhower and one of the editors of the Supreme Allied Commander's papers He describes the momentous decisions about how and where the war was fought and about the strategies and conduct of the generals and officers who led the invasion and the bloody drive across Europe to Berlin But as always with Stephen E. Ambrose it is the ranks the ordinary boys and men who command his attention and his awe The Victors tells their stories how citizens became soldiers in the best army in the world Ambrose draws on thousands of interviews and oral histories from government and private archives from the high command Eisenhower Bradley Patton on down through officers and enlisted men to re-create the last year of the Second World War when the Allied soldiers pushed the Germans out of France chased them across Germany and destroyed the Nazi regime Military Law Review, 1998 A Fiery Peace in a Cold War Neil Sheehan, 2010-10-05 The US Soviet arms race told through the story of a colorful and visionary American Air Force officer melding biography history world affairs and science to transport the reader back and forth from individual drama to world stage Compulsively readable and important The New York Times Book Review In this never before told story Neil Sheehan winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award details American Air Force officer Bernard Schriever's quest to prevent the Soviet Union from acquiring nuclear superiority and describes American efforts to develop the unstoppable nuclear weapon delivery system the intercontinental ballistic missile the first weapons meant to deter an atomic holocaust rather than to be fired in anger In a sweeping narrative Sheehan brings to life a huge cast of some of the most intriguing characters of the cold war including the brilliant physicist John Von Neumann and the hawkish Air Force general

Curtis LeMay American History and Contemporary Hollywood Film Trevor McCrisken, Andrew Pepper, 2005
Hollywood has a growing fascination with America's past. This book offers an analysis of how and why contemporary Hollywood films have sought to mediate American history. It considers whether or how far contemporary films have begun to unravel the unifying myths of earlier films and periods.

The King Bee Allen N Olsen, 2011-11-24 Ben Moreell was the first non Naval Academy graduate to be awarded the four stars of an Admiral. He is still the only staff corps officer to be promoted to Admiral. The history of the U S Navy Seabees and the biography of Admiral Ben Moreell are inseparable. Immediately after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor he began forming the construction units that ultimately became known as the Seabees. The first battalion of Seabees deployed from the U S on 27 Jan 42. This instantaneous effort to recruit, train, organize, equip and deploy a military unit is still recognized as an amazing achievement. Ultimately over 300,000 Seabees were involved during WW II. The Seabees built and operated the equipment needed to get troops, equipment and supplies ashore in every amphibious landing of WW II. Beginning in North Africa and continuing to Sicily, Italy and Normandy, they were an essential element of the invasions of Europe. But their island hopping campaign throughout the Pacific with the Marines really made their reputation. They participated in every Pacific invasion together with the Marines, with the exception of Guadalcanal where they arrived about three weeks after the First Marines went ashore. Following the invasions, the Seabees built every sort of facility required by the Marines and the Navy: piers, runways, fuel storage, hospitals, ammo storage, dry docks and more. The accomplishments of the Seabees continued through Korea, Viet Nam and the Middle East. The unique aspect of the fighter-builder Seabees generated a need for a command structure that could respond to both elements at any time. Recognizing this critical feature, Moreell achieved a major change to Navy Regulations and obtained the authorization for Civil Engineer Corps officers to be given command of the Seabees. They are still the only staff corps officers who enjoy the privilege of commanding fleet units. Moreell also directed the massive mobilization and construction effort for the Navy and Marine Corps throughout the war, as well as dealing with unions, Congress, manufacturers and an ever-growing federal bureaucracy. His open and honest dealings were recognized by all and contributed to the successful accomplishments of the Bureau of Yards and Docks during that time. But the Seabees remain his crowning military achievement. Their success in WW II was recognized by Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz in a Seabee birthday anniversary letter to Moreell in which he stated: "Without them we could not have beaten the Japanese." An advisor to four Presidents, Ben Moreell's actions forever placed the Civil Engineer Corps and the Seabees solidly in Navy history and tradition.

Tibet Lezlee Brown Halper, Stefan A. Halper, 2014 The mythologizing of Tibet in the West and the Himalayan state's subsequent abandonment to China are recounted in this briskly paced and revealing new history.
