Hoots,2012-05 Since 1979 when Tom Quinn and Gene Hoots began investing together there have been a major bull market a gigantic bubble two major bear markets and heart stopping stock market plunges Through all of this their firm has adhered to its investment philosophy Pay Attention to the Thin Cow is a collection of CornerCap s writings through 2005 Running the 4 billion benefit funds of R J Reynolds worldwide gave the CornerCap founders an opportunity to study the investment industry close up and personal The experience became an investment laboratory where they were exposed to the best of the players in the institutional investment world the consultants the banks and the mutual fund giants the private advisory firms both in the US and abroad After a decade of observing what worked and what didn't they set up CornerCap a firm that was based on the best practices of the investors they studied These CornerCap commentaries consistently describe and reinforce those practices to the reader They explain in simple understandable terms straightforward advice advice that they always point out is easy to understand but very hard to do While it is a collaborative effort much of the book reflects the personal experiences of Gene Hoots He has had the unique opportunity to work in the corporate world as a major customer of investment services for twenty plus years and then help create a small entrepreneurial firm that is a supplier of those same services He notes that size really doesn't alter the rules the same investing principles apply to everyone Along the way he also offers opinions on the major issues he believes we are facing in America today and an occasional view of corporate life from the inside This book will not give the reader tips on becoming an overnight millionaire or on day trading as a path to fame and fortune or even how to spot a hot stock Rather it is a collection of essays from CornerCap's first fifteen years that the CornerCap people hope will make the readers a bit more informed about their own investments and less vulnerable to all of the missteps that can steadily erode their efforts to accumulate wealth consistent mistakes that can add up to huge losses over a lifetime Avoiding these common investing mistakes can greatly increase the prospect of meeting long term financial goals no matter whether you are saving for a secure retirement or your grandchildren's education In Pay Attention to the Thin Cow Gene Hoots shares his experiences from five decades in the corporate and investment worlds from both the large and small viewpoint sometimes as a participant and sometimes as an observant bystander

106-1 Hearing: The Boomers Are Coming: Challenges Of Aging In The New Millennium, S. Hrg. 106-445, November 8, 1999, 2000 The Boomers are Coming United States. Congress. Senate. Special Committee on Aging, 2000 Proceedings of the International Conference of Women Physicians, 1920 Carnegie Magazine, 1928 Congressional Record United States. Congress, 2000 NATO No Longer Fits The Bill Theo Sommer, 2013-02-13 NATO is not particularly good when it comes to countering new threats The most successful alliance in military history has not as yet managed to develop a strategy designed to deal with the battle for resources asymmetrical conflicts cyber warfare and the security policy consequences of climate change NATO found it difficult to come to terms with the disappearance of enemy stereotypes at the end of the east west conflict and the war on terror is proving to be tough going Thus what NATO needs to do is to redefine its mission Does it want to be a purely defensive alliance or does it want to be a military reserve force at the disposal of the United Nations Should it intervene whenever Western values are under threat Theo Sommer one of Germany's most renowned journalists comes up with some thought provoking answers He believes that the alliance needs to be more political and more European that the military wing should be downsized and that NATO will gain nothing by overextending itself in an effort to become a globally active organization However he is of the opinion that it has a future as an alliance in which Europe and America agree to cooperate as equal partners

The Pickled Priest and the Perishing Parish Hal West, 2016-10-12 Just as baby boomers comprise the largest generation in Americas history they also represent the largest percentage of current senior pastors in American churches Boomer pastors all over the country are struggling to transition from their roots in twentieth century church culture to ministry and leadership in our challenging twenty first century and this transition must take place for traditional churches to be a relevant factor in world redemption In The Pickled Priest and the Perishing Parish Boomer Pastors Bouncing Back Senior Pastor Hal West himself a baby boomer offers essential insights and words of inspiration for pastors leaders and Christians who desire to see renewal and transformation in their churches in America and in themselves The challenges facing traditional churches and the boomer pastors who lead them are many not the least of which are pastors ensconced perspective of their own spiritual formation theological training and experience In his unique conversational and at times humorous tone Pastor Hal West first offers proof through his own pickled perspective and then explores with help from the lessons of biblical prophets like Isaiah and Nehemiah how boomer pastors can and must bounce back Change is challenging but in our day of cultural conflict political corruption and spiritual crisis change is imperative It falls to church leaders regardless of their decades of experience in ministry and leadership to approach transformation with an open mind and provide guidance vision and restoration to their churches and the souls they serve

The Third Unconscious Franco Bifo Berardi, 2021-10-26 A wide ranging exploration of the present and the future of the Unconscious The Unconscious knows no time it has no before and after it does not have a history of its own Yet it does not always remain the same Different political and economic conditions transform the way in which the Unconscious emerges within the psychosphere of society In the early 20th century Freud characterized the Unconscious as the dark side of the well order framework of Progress and Reason At the end of the past century Deleuze and Guattari described it as a laboratory the magmatic force ceaselessly bringing to the fore new possibilities of imagination Today at a time of viral pandemics and in the midst of the catastrophic collapse of capitalism the Unconscious has begun to emerge in yet another form In this book Franco Bifo Berardi vividly portrays the form in which the Unconscious will make itself manifest for decades to come and the challenges that it will pose to our possibilities of political action poetic imagination and therapy

My Generation William

Styron, 2015-06-02 A vital illuminating collection of the Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award winner's elegant passionately engaged nonfiction My Generation is the definitive gathering of William Styron's nonfiction exposing the core of this greatly gifted highly convivial and profoundly serious artist from his literary emergence in the 1950s to his death in 2006 Here are fifty years of Styron's essays memoirs reviews op eds articles eulogies and speeches reflecting the same brilliant style and informed thinking that he brought to his towering fiction and to a deeply committed public life Including many newly collected and never before published items this compendium ranges from the original mission statement of The Paris Review which Styron helped found in 1953 to a 2001 tribute to his friend Philip Roth creating an essential overview of arts and letters during the post World War II years In these pages Styron writes vividly of childhood days in Tidewater Virginia spent going to movies not reading books It does not mean the death of literacy or creativity if one is drenched in popular culture at an early age He recalls being among the group of soldiers who would have been sent to invade Japan and were saved by Truman's decision to drop the atomic bomb which Styron feels was the right choice even though its absolute rightness can never be proved And he writes as few others have about midlife battles with clinical depression a pain that is all but indescribable and therefore to everyone but the sufferer almost meaningless Here too are Styron's personal encounters with world leaders fellow authors and friends each of whom comes memorably to life Styron recalls sharing contraband Cuban cigars with JFK a naughty memento a conversation piece with a touch of scandal getting lost in the snow with Robert Penn Warren and party hopping with the young James Jones an experience he likens to keeping company with a Roman emperor The beginnings of his masterpieces The Confessions of Nat Turner and Sophie's Choice are chronicled here along with the controversy that greeted the former upon its 1967 publication Throughout Styron celebrates the men and women of his generation whose lives were forged in the crucible of World War II Whether he's recounting a walk with his dog musing on the Modern Library's list of the hundred best English language novels of the twentieth century or contemplating America's fraught racial legacy from his point of view as the grandson of a woman who owned slaves William Styron writes always in urgent finely calibrated prose These fascinating pieces bring readers closer to this great writer and the world he observed interacted with and changed Praise for My Generation William Styron's My Generation Collected Nonfiction is both unsurpassably charming and unflinchingly honest whether recounting the fallout from The Confessions of Nat Turner or reminiscing about the slave owning grandmother who warned him never to forget he was a Southerner Vogue At its most accomplished Styron's non fiction mixes a conscientious richly traditional prose style with a strong current of fellow feeling a certain awe at the human condition which is what gives power to his best fiction Styron stood tall in his generation and the best of him will stand up over time USA Today A must for every Styron fan's library BBC The Thermodynamics of evolution François Roddier, 2020-04-24 Thermodynamique de l'évolution Un essai de thermo bio sociologie translated into English with the help of Steve Ridgway PROPOS DE L'AUTEUR François Roddier est né en 1936 Astrophysicien il est connu de

Great Speeches by Native Americans Bob Blaisdell, 2012-03-01 Remarkable for their eloquence, depth of feeling and oratorical mastery, these 82 compelling speeches encompass five centuries of Indian encounters with nonindigenous people. Beginning with a 1540 refusal by a Timucua chief to parley with Hernando de Soto, "With such a people I want no peace," the collection extends to the 20th-century address of activist Russell Means to the United Nations affiliates and members of the Human Rights Commission, "We are people who love in the belly of the monster." Other memorable orations include Powhatan's "Why should you destroy us who have provided you with food?" (1609), Red Jacket's "We like our religion and do not want another" (1811), Osceola's "I love my home and will not go from it" (1834), Red Cloud's "The Great Spirit made us both" (1870), Chief Joseph's "I will fight no more forever" (1877), Sitting Bull's "The life my people want is a life of freedom" (1882), and many more. Other notable speakers represented here include Tecumseh, Seattle, Geronimo, and Crazy Horse, as well as many lesser-known leaders. Graced by forceful metaphors and vivid imagery expressing emotions that range from the utmost indignation to the deepest sorrow, these addresses are deeply moving documents that offer a window into the hearts and minds of Native Americans as they struggled against the overwhelming tide of European and American encroachment. This inexpensive edition, with informative notes about each speech and orator, will prove indispensable to anyone interested in Native American history and culture.
