The Wire And Philosophy The Wire And Philosophy:

The Wire and Philosophy David Bzdak, Joanna Crosby, Seth Vannatta, 2013 By many accounts HBO's The Wire was and remains the greatest and most important television drama of all time Conceived by writers David Simon and ex Baltimore homicide detective Ed Burns this five season sixty episode tour de force has raised the bar for compelling intelligent television production With each season addressing a different arena of life in the city of Baltimore and each season's narratives tapping into those from previous seasons The Wire was able to reveal the overlapping criss crossing and colliding realities that shape if not control the people institutions and culture of the modern American city The Wire and Philosophy celebrates this show's realism as well as its intellectual and philosophical clarity Selected philosophers who are fans of The Wire tap into these conflicts and interconnections to expose the underlying philosophical issues and assumptions and pursue questions such as can cops really tell whether they are smarter than their perps Or do they fall victim to intellectual vanity Do individuals really have free will to resist the temptations of gangs of drugs or corruption that surround them Is David Simon a modern day Marx who sees capitalism leading ultimately to its own collapse or is Baltimore's story uniquely its own

Cop Shows Roger Sabin, Ronald Wilson, Linda Speidel, 2015-03-07 From cops who are paragons of virtue to cops who are as bad as the bad guys from surly loners to upbeat partners from detectives who pursue painstaking investigation to loose cannons who just want to kick down the door the heroes and anti heroes of TV police dramas are part of who we are They enter our living rooms and tell us tall tales about the social contract that exists between the citizen and the police Love them or loathe them according to the ratings we love them they serve a function They've entertained informed and sometimes infuriated audiences for more than 60 years This book examines Dragnet Highway Patrol Naked City The Untouchables The F B I Columbo Hawaii Five O Kojak Starsky Hutch Hill Street Blues Cagney Lacey Miami Vice Law Order Homicide Life on the Street NYPD Blue CSI The Shield The Wire and Justified It's time to take another look at the perps the vics and the boys and girls in blue and ask how their representation intersects with questions of class gender sexuality and race What is their socio cultural agenda What is their relation to genre and televisuality And why is it that when a TV cop gives a witness his card and says call me that witness always ends up on a slab

Watching the Cops Marcus K. Harmes, Barbara Harmes, Meredith A. Harmes, 2023-10-10 Globally police officers are the object of unprecedented visual scrutiny The use of mobile phones CCTV and personal body cams means that police are not only being filmed on the job but are also filming themselves In popular culture police have featured heavily on the big screen since the era of silent shorts and on television since the 1930s Their fictional portrayals today take on added significance in light of social unrest surrounding cases of police brutality and discrimination These essays explore 21st century portrayals of police on film and television Chapters often emphasize the Black Lives Matter movement and consider the tone quality appropriateness and intention of film and television featuring police activity Extensively covered works include Mindhunter Brooklyn Nine Nine Cops Criminal Minds and RoboCop and among the major topics addressed are policing communities hunting serial killers police animals and police in historic settings ranging from the 19th century through the present day and into science fiction futures

Better Living through TV Steven A. Benko, 2022-03-25 Watching television need not be a passive activity or simply for entertainment purposes Television can be the site of important identity work and moral reflection Audiences can learn about themselves what matters to them and how to relate to others by thinking about the implicit and explicit moral messages in the shows they watch Better Living through TV Contemporary TV and Moral Identity Formation analyzes the possibility of identifying and adopting moral values from television shows that aired during the latest Golden Era of television and Peak TV The diversity of shows and approaches to moral becoming demonstrate how television during these eras took advantage of new technologies to become more film like in both production quality and content The increased depth of characterization and explosion of content across streaming and broadcast channels gave viewers a diversity of worlds and moral values to explore The possibility of finding a moral in the stories told on popular shows such as The Sopranos Breaking Bad The Wire and The Good Place as well as lesser known shows such as Letterkenny and The Unicorn are explored in a way that centers television viewing as a site for moral identity formation we are living in a golden age of scripted television television as a medium is still not taken seriously as an artistic art form nor has the stigma of television as chewing gum for the mind really disappeared Philosopher Martin Shuster argues that television is the modern art form full of promise and urgency and in New Television he offers a strong philosophical justification for its importance Through careful analysis of shows including The Wire Justified and Weeds among others and European and Anglophone philosophers such as Stanley Cavell Hannah Arendt Martin Heidegger and John Rawls Shuster reveals how various contemporary television series engage deeply with aesthetic and philosophical issues in modernism and modernity What unifies the aesthetic and philosophical ambitions of new television is a commitment to portraying and exploring the family as the last site of political possibility in a world otherwise bereft of any other sources of traditional authority consequently at the heart of new television are profound political stakes
