Principles of Economic Sociology Richard Swedberg, 2009-10-08 The last fifteen years have witnessed an explosion in the popularity creativity and productiveness of economic sociology an approach that traces its roots back to Max Weber This important new text offers a comprehensive and up to date overview of economic sociology It also advances the field theoretically by highlighting in one analysis the crucial economic roles of both interests and social relations Richard Swedberg describes the field's critical insights into economic life giving particular attention to the effects of culture on economic phenomena and the ways that economic actions are embedded in social structures He examines the full range of economic institutions and explicates the relationship of the economy to politics law culture and gender Swedberg notes that sociologists too often fail to properly emphasize the role that self interested behavior plays in economic decisions while economists frequently underestimate the importance of social relations Thus he argues that the next major task for economic sociology is to develop a theoretical and empirical understanding of how interests and social relations work in combination to affect economic action Written by an author whose name is synonymous with economic sociology this text constitutes a sorely needed advanced synthesis and a blueprint for the future of this burgeoning field Macroeconomics, Second Edition Timothy D. Workers in Nineteenth-century England Nicola Verdon, 2002 The range of women's work and its contribution to the family economy studied here for the first time Despite the growth of women's history and rural social history in the past thirty years the work performed by women who lived in the nineteenth century English countryside is still an under researched issue Verdon directly addresses this gap in the historiography placing the rural female labourer centre stage for the first time The involvement of women in the rural labour market as farm servants as day labourers in agriculture and as domestic workers are all examined using a wide range of printed and unpublished sources from across England The roles village women performed in the informal rural economy household labour gathering resources and exploiting systems of barter and exchange are also assessed Changes in women's economic opportunities are explored alongside the implications of region age marital status number of children in the family and local custom women's economic contribution to the rural labouring household is established as a critical part of family subsistence despite criticism of such work and the rise in male wages after 1850 NICOLA VERDON is a Research Fellow in the Rural History Centre University of Reading Women and Austerity Maria Karamessini, Jill Rubery, 2013-09-11 Austerity has become the new principle for public policy in Europe and the US as the financial crisis of 2008 has been converted into a public debt crisis However current austerity measures risk losing past progress towards gender equality by undermining important employment and social welfare protections and putting gender equality policy onto the back burner This volume constitutes the first attempt to identify how the economic crisis and the subsequent austerity policies are affecting women in Europe and the US tracing the consequences for gender equality in employment and welfare systems in nine case studies from countries facing the most severe adjustment problems The contributions adopt a common framework to analyse women in recession which takes into account changes in women's position and current austerity conditions The findings demonstrate that in the immediate aftermath of the financial crisis employment gaps between women and men declined but due only to a deterioration in men's employment position rather than any improvements for women Tables are set to be turned by the austerity policies which are already having a more negative impact on demand for female labour and on access to services which support working mothers Women are nevertheless reinforcing their commitment to paid work even at this time of increasing demands on their unpaid domestic labour Future prospects are bleak Current policy is reinforcing the same failed mechanisms that caused the crisis in the first place and is stalling or even reversing the long term growth in social investment in support for care This book makes the case for gender equality to be placed at the centre of any progressive plan for a route out of the crisis New Books on Women and Feminism, 2006 Women's Work, Men's Work National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, 1986-02-01 Even though women have made substantial progress in a number of formerly male occupations sex segregation in the workplace remains a fact of life This volume probes pertinent questions Why has the overall degree of sex segregation remained stable in this century What informal barriers keep it in place How do socialization and educational practices affect career choices and hiring patterns How do family responsibilities affect women s work attitudes And how effective is legislation in lessening the gap between the sexes Amply supplemented with tables figures and insightful examination of trends and research this volume is a definitive source for what is known today about sex segregation on the job Homes in Crisis Capitalism Marnie Holborow,2024-02-22 Homes in Crisis Capitalism explores the core social reproduction role that individual households fulfil in our societies and the class and racial effects of this on gender inequality and discrimination Women now make up nearly half of the paid workforce globally yet prevailing neoliberal social policy continues to rule out adequate state provision of child and elder care choosing instead to rely on marketized services to fill the gap It is mainly women who carry out this little valued care work either in a non paid or paid capacity and gender inequality is entrenched across society Official gender parity policies often expressed in terms of equality of opportunity have done little to ease the double burden of domestic and care work for the vast majority of women Competitive labour markets discriminate against those expected to be the primary caregivers of children the sick and disabled and older people In addition the presence across many societies of an acute housing crisis and soaring inflation have put added pressures on home life A social reproduction crisis has developed and it is working class women and women of colour who are paying the price Holborow analyses homes in crisis capitalism through a Marxist lens of capitalist social reproduction This book charts the interwoven social and political effects and outcomes of work and care provided in the home and makes the case for a radical break with capitalism to give social reproduction the material resources and social recognition it deserves Roadblocks to Equality Jeffery Klaehn,2009 Explores women s experiences within contemporary society in a domestic and global context Women in the Third World Nelly P. Stromquist,2014-04-04 Ideal for researching the status and activities of Third World women For quick reliable coverage of women s issues in developing countries here is a concise reference work written by a team of more than 80 international experts The Encyclopedia comprises 68 essays that cover the entire Third World from Africa to Asia from the Near East to South and Central America from the South Pacific to the Caribbean The women authors are acknowledged experts from Harvard University the World Bank the United Nations Development Fund for Women the University of Nairobi the International Labor Organization and other institutions who summarize the most recent scholarship on a wide range of important subjects Thoroughly indexed and cross referenced the Encyclopedia is an ideal starting point for in depth research in such areas as recent developments in the prevention of violence against women the conditions of women s lives across regions and countries women s participation in government science and technology hidden curriculum issues in higher education an overview of women s experiences as small scale entrepreneurs A feminist viewpoint enhances the coverage Informed throughout by a feminist perspective the Encyclopedia focuses on traditional women s concerns such as political participation human rights nutrition housework the family equality health and more But the coverage also extends to such
