Women And Aging A Life Course Approach:

Women and Aging Mark Novak, 2014-05-14 Every day 10 000 Baby Boomers will enter old age between now and 2030 The older population in the U S will grow from 13% of the population today to nearly one person in five in 2030 Women make up more than half of this population And among the oldest age groups 85 women outnumber men two to one Some people refer to old age as a woman s world This study explores that world Women and Aging looks at the influence of social structures social policies and individual choices on women in later life women face in the workplace in middle age Each chapter explores a single topic ageism population aging health and well being health promotion finances and retirement relationships and caregiving Each chapter describes the condition of older women today and the experiences throughout the life course that led to this outcome The life course approach used here links the older woman to earlier stages in her life It also exposes the social forces that lead to the condition of women in old age today A Life Course Approach to Women's Health Gita Mishra, Rebecca Hardy, Diana Kuh, 2023 An up to date and comprehensive review of scientific evidence and methodological developments in life course epidemiology as applied to women s health A Life Course Approach to the Epidemiology of Chronic Diseases and Ageing Diana Kuh, Ezra Susser, Joanna M. Blodgett, Yoav Ben-Shlomo, 2025-01-16 A Life Course Approach to the Epidemiology of Chronic Diseases and Ageing Third Edition outlines how biological and social factors during gestation childhood adolescence and earlier adult life influence later life health and disease It also looks at whether and how to intervene to improve health outcomes This revised third edition is fully updated to reflect the new data that has emerged as well as our new understanding of health and global challenges It brings new chapters on a life course approach to the long term health consequences of climate change and the COVID 19 pandemic It examines the current and potential use of new technologies methods and collaborative approaches in life course studies and provides updated reviews of the latest life course evidence for age related chronic diseases It discusses how life course research is being used and could be used to improve population health in high middle and low income countries identifying how and when interventions may be most effective New chapters on multimorbidity translational geroscience and exposomics have also been added A Life Course Approach to Healthy Ageing Diana Kuh, Rachel Cooper, Rebecca Hardy, Marcus Richards, Yoav Ben-Shlomo, 2014 This title investigates the lifetime determinants of healthy ageing and their implications for policy and practice bringing together authorities in ageing research and knowledge transfer from across the world Population Ageing from a Lifecourse Perspective Kathrin Komp, Stina Johansson, 2016-06-01 Populations around the globe are ageing rapidly This demographic shift affects families market structures and social provisions This timely volume part of the Ageing and the Lifecourse series argues that the lifecourse perspective helps us understand the causes and effects of population ageing The lifecourse perspective suggests that individuals experiences at an early age can influence their decisions and behaviour at a later age This much needed volume combines insights from different disciplines and real life experiences to describe the theories and practices behind this idea It therefore caters to the needs of scholars practitioners and policy makers in a range of areas including sociology and political science

Gender, Age and Inequality in the Professions Marta Choroszewicz, Tracey L. Adams, 2019-03-13 The literature on gender and professions shows that professional careers continue to be impacted by gender albeit with important differences among professions and countries Much less researched is the issue of the significance of gender and age cohort or generation to professional work Gender Age and Inequality in the Professions explores men s and women s experiences of professional work and careers through an intersectional lens by focusing on the intersection of gender and age The chapters explore different professions including Medicine Nursing Law Academia Information Technology and Engineering in different Western countries in the present and over time Through original research and critical re analysis of existing research each of the chapters explores the significance of gender and age cohort or generation to professional work with particular attention to professionals just entering professional careers those building professional careers and comparisons of men and women in professions across generational cohorts The book contributes to literature on inequalities in the professions by demonstrating the ways in which gender and age converge to confer privilege and produce disadvantage and the ways in which gender inequality is reproduced and disrupted through the activities of professionals on the job The book constitutes a departure point for future research in terms of theoretical perspectives and empirical findings on how gendered and age related processes are produced and reproduced in particular organisational professional and socio cultural contexts To enhance generational understanding relationships and collaboration in educational institutions organisations and professions the book ends with a section on policy recommendations for educators professionals professional organisations as well as policy and decision makers This book will also appeal to students and researchers in the fields of Sociology Gender Studies Organisational and Management Studies Law Medicine Engineering and Information Technology as well as related disciplines
