Thinking With Animals New Perspectives On Anthropomorphism:

Thinking with Animals Lorraine Daston, Gregg Mitman, 2005-02-02 Is anthropomorphism a scientific sin Scientists and animal researchers routinely warn against animal stories and contrast rigorous explanations and observation to facile and even fanciful projections about animals Yet many of us scientists and researchers included continue to see animals as humans and humans as animals As this innovative new collection demonstrates humans use animals to transcend the confines of self and species they also enlist them to symbolize dramatize and illuminate aspects of humans experience and fantasy Humans merge with animals in stories films philosophical speculations and scientific treatises In their performance with humans on many stages and in different ways animals move us to think From Victorian vivisectionists to elephant conservation from ancient Indian mythology to pet ownership in the contemporary United States our understanding of both animals and what it means to be human has been shaped by anthropomorphic thinking The contributors to Thinking with Animals explore the how and why of anthropomorphism drawing attention to its rich and varied uses Prominent scholars in the fields of anthropology ethology history and philosophy as well as filmmakers and photographers take a closer look at how deeply and broadly ways of imagining animals have transformed humans and animals alike Essays in the book investigate the changing patterns of anthropomorphism across different time periods and settings as well as their transformative effects both figuratively and literally upon animals humans and their interactions Examining how anthropomorphic thinking works in a range of different contexts contributors reveal the ways in which anthropomorphism turns out to be remarkably useful it can promote good health and spirits enlist support in political causes sell products across boundaries of culture of and nationality crystallize and strengthen social values and hold up a philosophical mirror to the human predicament Cosmopolitanism and the Literary Imagination C. Patell, 2015-02-19 Through contemporary theories of cosmopolitanism and analyses of literary texts such as Heart of Darkness Lilith s Brood and Moby Dick this book explores the cosmopolitan impulses behind the literary imagination Patell argues that cosmopolitanism regards human difference as an opportunity to be embraced rather than a problem to be solved Animal Alterity Sherryl Vint, 2010-01-01 Animal Alterity uses readings of science fiction texts to explore how animals are central to our perception of humanity Arguing that the academic field of animal studies and the popular genre of science fiction share a number a critical concerns Sherryl Vint expresses an urgent need to reconsider the human animal boundary in a world of genetic engineering factory farming species extinctions and increasing evidence of animal intelligence emotions and tool use Mapping the complex terrain of human relations with non human animals this book offers an important intervention into the contentious ongoing discussions of the post human Doing Animal Studies with Androids, Aliens, and Ghosts David P. Rando, 2023-04-06 Exploring what can be learnt when literary critics in the field of animal studies temporarily direct attention away from representations of nonhuman animals in literature and towards liminal figures like androids aliens and ghosts this book examines the boundaries of humanness

Simultaneously it encourages the reader both to see nonhuman animals afresh and to reimagine the terms of our relationships with them Examining imaginative texts by writers such as Octavia Butler Philip K Dick Kazuo Ishiguro Jeanette Winterson and J M Coetzee this book looks at depictions of androids that redefine traditional humanist qualities such as hope and uniqueness It examines alien visions that unmask the racist and heteronormative roots of speciesism And it unpacks examples of ghosts and spirits who offer posthumous visions of having been human that decenter anthropocentrism In doing so it leaves open the potential for better relationships and futures with nonhuman animals Handbook of Historical Animal Studies Mieke Roscher, André Krebber, Brett Mizelle, 2021-06-08 The handbook provides a comprehensive evaluation of approaches topics and research areas of the rapidly developing field of Historical Animal Studies The so called animal turn specifically inspired new takes on writing history This upsurge in research has led to immense amounts of new empirical studies as well as approaches to historiography which this handbook aims to systemize Handbook of Ecocriticism and Cultural Ecology Hubert Zapf, 2016-05-10 Ecocriticism has emerged as one of the most fascinating and rapidly growing fields of recent literary and cultural studies From its regional origins in late twentieth century Anglo American academia it has become a worldwide phenomenon which involves a decidedly transdisciplinary and transnational paradigm that promises to return a new sense of relevance to research and teaching in the humanities A distinctive feature of the present handbook in comparison with other survey volumes is the combination of ecocriticism with cultural ecology reflecting an emphasis on the cultural transformation of ecological processes and on the crucial role of literature art and other forms of cultural creativity for the evolution of societies towards sustainable futures In state of the art contributions by leading international scholars in the field this handbook maps some of the most important developments in contemporary ecocritical thought It introduces key theoretical concepts issues and directions of ecocriticism and cultural ecology and demonstrates their relevance for the analysis of texts and other cultural phenomena Animal Writing Sands Danielle Sands, 2019-08-21 Combining recent insights from animal studies critical plant studies and the new materialisms Danielle Sands reads fiction and philosophy alongside each other to propose a method of thinking of and with animals that draws on a bestiary of affects She challenges the claim that empathy should be primary mode of engagement with nonhuman life Instead she looks at the stories that we tell and are told by insects beings at the edges of animal life The indifference even disgust that these creatures evoke in us forms the basis for a new ethics not limited by empathy Along the way she encounters fiction writers Yann Martel Karen Joy Fowler Han Kang and Jim Crace beside the philosophy of Graham Harman Donna Haraway Jacques Derrida and Roger Caillois Regionalism and the Humanities Timothy R. Mahoney, Wendy Jean Katz, 2008 Although the framework of regionalist studies may seem to be crumbling under the weight of increasing globalization this collection of seventeen essays makes clear that cultivating regionalism lies at the center of the humanist endeavor With interdisciplinary contributions from poets and fiction writers literary historians musicologists and historians of architecture agriculture and women this volume implements some of the most innovative and intriguing approaches to the history and value of regionalism as a category for investigation in the humanities In the volume s inaugural essay Annie Proulx discusses landscapes in American fiction comments on how she constructs characters and interprets current literary trends Edward Watts offers a theory of region that argues for comparisons of the United States to other former colonies of Great Britain including New Zealand Australia and Canada Whether considering a writer s connection to region or the idea of place in exploring what is meant by regionalism these essays uncover an enduring and evolving concept Although the approaches and disciplines vary all are framed within the fundamental premise of the humanities the search to understand what it means to be human Research Report Max-Planck-Institut für Wissenschaftsgeschichte,2004 A Keener Perception Alan C. Braddock,Christoph Irmischer,2009 A landmark collection of essays on the intersections of visual art cultural studies and environmental history in America Issues of ecology both as they appear in the works of nature writers and in the works of literary writers for whom place and the land are central issues have long been of interest to literary critics and have given rise over the last two decades to the now firmly established field of ecocriticism The essays in this volume written by art historians and literary critics seek to bring the study of American art into the expanding discourse of ecocriticism A Keener Perception offers a series of case studies on topics ranging from John White s watercolors of the Carolina landscape executed during Sir Walter Raleigh s 1585 Roanoke expedition to photographs by environmental activist Eliot Porter Rather than merely resurrect past instances of ecologically attuned art this volume features essays that resituate many canonical figures such as Thomas Eakins Aaron Douglas and Thomas Cole in an ecocritical light by which they have yet to be viewed Studying such artists and artworks through an ecocritical lens not only provides a better understanding of these works and the American landscape but also brings a new interpretive paradigm to the field of art history a field that many of these critics believe would do well to embrace environmental concerns as a vital area of research In highlighting the work of scholars who bring ecological agendas to their study of American art as well as providing models for literary scholars who might like to better incorporate the visual arts into their own scholarship and teaching A Keener Perception is truly a landmark collection timely consequential and controversial Battleground Kimberly P. Brackett,2009 Everyone is part of a family but what constitutes a family is one of the most hotly debated issues in the United States today Battleground The Family provides extensive coverage of those critical issues in U S culture concerning current and future family life such as dating marriage parenting work and family abuse and divorce The scholarly contributors to this set provide unbiased coverage on these often incendiary topics allowing students to assess the role of these controversies in their own lives Entries thoroughly introduce the topic of concern describe the problem as it currently exists provide context for the controversies surrounding it synthesize the current knowledge on the topic and guide the reader to additional areas for consideration Battleground The Family serves as a starting point for those advanced high school and beginning undergraduate students who wish to pursue a more detailed study of family controversies and cultural concerns for classroom assignments Non specialist readers will also find this a useful resource in critically assessing current trends and conflicts in constituent groups conceptions of family Publisher
