Thomas Morris Chester Black Civil War Correspondent Da Capo Paperback:

Bluejackets and Contrabands Barbara Tomblin, 2009-10-09 One of the lesser known stories of the Civil War is the role played by escaped slaves in the Union blockade along the Atlantic coast From the beginning of the war many African American refugees sought avenues of escape to the North Due to their sheer numbers those who reached Union forces presented a problem for the military The problem was partially resolved by the First Confiscation Act of 1861 which permitted the seizure of property used in support of the South s war effort including slaves Eventually regarded as contraband of war the runaways became known as contrabands In Bluejackets and Contrabands Barbara Brooks Tomblin examines the relationship between the Union Navy and the contrabands The navy established colonies for the former slaves and in return some contrabands served as crewmen on navy ships and gunboats and as river pilots spies and guides Tomblin presents a rare picture of the contrabands and casts light on the vital contributions of African Americans to the Union Navy and the Union cause

Black Americans in Mourning Leonne M. Hudson, 2024-10-01 Centering Black grief in the aftermath of Lincoln s assassination On April 14 1865 John Wilkes Booth carried out the first presidential assassination in United States history The euphoria resulting from General Lee s surrender evaporated at the news of Abraham Lincoln s murder The nation excepting many white Southerners found itself consumed with grief and no group mourned Lincoln more deeply than people of color African Americans did not speak with a monolithic voice on social or political issues but even Lincoln s Black contemporaries who may not have approved of him while he was alive mourned his death understanding its implications for their future Beginning with the assassination itself and chronicling Lincoln s three week long national funeral historian Leonne M Hudson captures the profound sadness of Black Americans as they mourned the crafter of the Emancipation Proclamation and the man they thought of as their earthly Moses father friend and benefactor Hudson continues the narrative by detailing the postwar efforts of African Americans to gain citizenship and voting rights Black Americans in Mourning includes the tributes of prominent figures such as Frederick Douglass Martin R Delany and Elizabeth Keckley who raised their voices to honor Lincoln as well as formal expressions of grief by institutions and organizations such as the United States Colored Troops In a triumph of research Hudson also features the voices of lesser known Black people who mourned Lincoln across the country showing that the outpouring of individual and collective grief helped set the stage for his enduring glorification

The African American Experience Arvarh E. Strickland, Robert E. Weems Jr., 2000-11-30 Compared to the early decades of the 20th century when scholarly writing on African Americans was limited to a few titles on slavery Reconstruction and African American migration the last thirty years have witnessed an explosion of works on the African American experience With the Civil Rights and Black Power movements of the 1960s came an increasing demand for the study and teaching of African American history followed by the publication of increasing numbers of titles on African American life and history This volume provides a comprehensive bibliographical and analytical guide to this growing body of literature as well as an analysis of how the study of African Americans has changed Guide to Books on Black Americans G. P.
