theories conceived in the humanities in the last century mimetic theory This book provides a forum for new generations of scholars and critics to reassess challenge and expand the theoretical and hermeneutical reach of key issues brought forward by Girard's book including literary knowledge realism and representation imitation and the anxiety of influence metaphysical desire deviated transcendence literature and religious experience individualism and modernity and death and resurrection It also provides a more extensive and detailed historical understanding of the representation of desire imitation and rivalry within European and world literature from Dante to Proust and from Dickens to Jonathan Littel Hamlet Harold Bloom, 2009 Discusses the characters plot and writing of Hamlet by William Shakespeare Includes critical essays on the play and a brief biography of the author Allegorica - OTF, 1977 Lacan and the Destiny of Literature Ehsan Azari, 2011-10-27 In contemporary academic literary studies Lacan is often considered impenetrably obscure due to the unavailability of his late works insufficient articulation of his methodologies and sometimes stereotypical use of Lacanian concepts in literary theory This study aims to integrate Lacan into contemporary literary study by engaging with a broad range of Lacanian theoretical concepts often for the first time in English and using them to analyse a range of key texts from different periods Azari explores Lacan's theory of desire as well as his final theories of litraterre littoral and the sinthome and interrogates a range of poststructuralist interpretive approaches In the second part of the book he outlines the variety of ways in which Lacanian theory can be applied to literary texts and offers detailed readings of texts by Shakespeare Donne Joyce and Ashbery This ground breaking study provides original insights into a number of the most influential intellectual discussions in relation to Lacan and will fill a recognised gap in understanding Lacan and his legacy for literary study and criticism
