The Gaithers and Southern Gospel Ryan P. Harper, 2017-04-26 In The Gaithers and Southern Gospel Ryan P. Harper examines songwriters Bill and Gloria Gaither's Homecoming video and concert series a gospel music franchise that since its beginning in 1991 has outperformed all Christian and much secular popular music on the American music market The Homecomings represent southern gospel Typically that means a musical style popular among white evangelical Christians in the American South and Midwest and it sometimes overlaps in style theme and audience with country music The Homecomings nostalgic orientation their celebration of traditional kinds of American Christian life harmonize well with southern gospel music past and present But amidst the backward gazes the Homecomings also portend and manifest change The Gaithers deliberate racial integration of their stages their careful articulation of a relatively inclusive evangelical theology and their experiments with an array of musical forms demonstrate that the Homecoming is neither simplistically nostalgic nor solely southern Harper reveals how the Gaithers negotiate a tension between traditional and changing community norms as they seek simultaneously to maintain and expand their audience as well as to initiate and respond to shifts within their fan base Pulling from his field work at Homecoming concerts behind the scenes with the Gaithers and with numerous Homecoming fans Harper reveals the Homecoming world to be a dynamic complicated constellation in the formation of American religious identity Break, Blow, Burn, and Make E. The Great Conversation Belden C. Lane, 2019-05-01 We are surrounded by a world that talks but we don't listen We are part of a community engaged in a vast conversation but we deny our role in it In the face of climate change species loss and vast environmental destruction the ability to stand in the flow of the great conversation of all creatures and the earth can feel utterly lost to the human race But Belden C Lane suggests that it can and must be recovered not only for the sake of endangered species and the well being of at risk communities but for the survival of the world itself The Great Conversation is Lane's multi-faceted treatise on a spiritually centered environmentalism At the core is a belief in the power of the natural world to act as teacher In a series of personal anecdotes Lane pairs his own experiences in the wild with the writings of saints and sages from a wide range of religious traditions A night in a Missourian cave brings to mind the Spiritual Exercises of Ignatius of Loyola the canyons of southern Utah elicit a response from the Chinese philosopher Laozi 500 000 migrating sandhill cranes rest in Nebraska and evoke the Sufi poet Farid ud Din Attar With each chapter the humility of spiritual masters through the ages melds with the author's encounters with natural teachers to offer guidance for entering once more into a conversation with the world

Living Water, Klara Tammany is a professional Christian educator who goes about her calling with a joyous urgency This book demonstrates her impassioned approach to religious instruction She starts with the premise that ongoing Christian education must be central to a life of faith and then proceeds from the corollary that baptism must be central to all Christian education Eight group sessions focus repeatedly on water first as a natural element necessary to life then as a symbolic element necessary to spirituality Gradually through prayer song scripture silence poetry visual arts storytelling group discussion and personal reflection water as baptismal element gains ascendancy No longer mere occasional refreshment Living Water inundates becomes life's very medium This text makes for excellent catechumenal preparation but is intended for use by all Christians those who are years into their journeys as well as those who are beginning Designed for small groups of adult Episcopalians the program is easily adaptable to other denominations to one on one spiritual mentoring to children young adult or intergenerational groups and even to individuals for private meditation American Book Publishing Record, 2004

Theological Fragments Rubén Rosario Rodríguez, 2023-05-23 The swelling ranks of religious nones those who do not identify with any particular religious tradition have demonstrated that traditional Christian apologetics set on delivering a universally accepted objectively verifiable system that proves the truth and superiority of Christian belief has failed Turned off by organized Christianity's hypocrisy and politics of intolerance millennials and Generation Z have rejected such domineering forms of reasoning aimed at winning converts through logical argument Not only is this misguided missional strategy argues Rubén Rosario Rodríguez but it's grounded in bad theology as well The propositional truth claims imply that if you accept the argument you must accept the Christian faith too Instead of this triumphalist understanding of Christian truth Rosario argues for a broken and contrite Christian theology that can help make sense of a fractured world Realizing that fragments of truth are often all we have he points out that the search for the truth of God and the self will most often be found while engaged in the struggle for justice Theological Fragments is not another set of strategies for how to win back millennials Rather it provides a foundational theological vision necessary to the work of inviting the nones to hear the gospel afresh

The Transfiguration of Christ and Creation John Gatta, 2011-01-01 The biblical story of Jesus Transfiguration on a high mountain bristles with meanings germane to present day concerns and spiritual longings Together with its later artistic representations this episode from the synoptic gospels seizes the imagination as an icon of mystical hope beauty and possibility What might such an iconic episode long honored liturgically in the Eastern church disclose not only about Jesus but also about the prospect of seeing our human nature transformed And as interpreted by Christian tradition since the patristic era what might it tell us about the worth of envisioning not just a conservation or preservation of natural resources but a transfiguration of all creation and about how this feast of beauty could re energize current discussions of Christianity s relation to environmental attitudes and policy Such questions are addressed in this book through an original blend of personal reflection with commentary on relevant theological and scriptural texts literary works music and art Dimensions of Madeleine L'Engle Suzanne Bray,2017-01-25

Calling Natasha Trethewey Mexico 1969 Why not make a fiction of the mind's fictions I want to say it begins like this the trip a pilgrimage my mother kneeling at the altar of the Black Virgin enthralled light streaming in a window the sun at her back holy water in a bowl she must have touched What's left is palimpsest one memory bleeding into another overwriting it How else to explain what remains The sound of water in a basin I know is white the sun behind her light streaming in her face as if she were already dead blurred as it will become I want to imagine her before the altar rising to meet us my father lifting me toward her outstretched arms What else to make of the mind's slick confabulations What comes back is the sun's dazzle on a pool's surface light filtered through water closing over my head my mother her body between me and the high sun a corona of light around her face Why not call it a vision What I know is this I was drowning and saw a dark Madonna someone pulled me through the water's bright ceiling and I rose initiate from one life into another Passions of the Earth in Human Existence, Creativity, and Literature Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06 Literature reveals that the hidden strings of the human passionate soul are the creative source of the specifically human existence Continuing the inquiry into the elemental passions of the soul and the Human Creative Soul pursued in several previous volumes of this series the present volume the Human Condition and mother earth In Tymieniecka's words the studies purpose to unravel the essential bond between
