It was written during 1883 but revised at the publisher's insistence in February 1884 and shortly before publication. It tells the story of a young educated man Osmond Waymark who survives by teaching. He answers a magazine advertisement placed by Julian Casti, a half Italian who had felt himself to be rejected by society for companionship and the two strike up a serious and deep friendship. George Robert Gissing (22 November 1857 – 28 December 1903) was an English novelist who published 23 novels between 1880 and 1903. Gissing also worked as a teacher and tutor throughout his life. He published his first novel Workers in the Dawn in 1880. His best known novels, which are published in modern editions, include The Nether World (1889), New Grub Street (1891) and The Odd Women (1893). Early life Gissing was born on 22 November 1857 in Wakefield, Yorkshire, the eldest of five children of Thomas Waller Gissing, who ran a chemist's shop, and Margaret nee Bedford. His siblings were William, who died aged twenty; Algernon, who became a writer; Margaret; and Ellen. His childhood home in Thompson's Yard, Wakefield, is maintained by The Gissing Trust. Gissing was educated at Back Lane School in Wakefield, where he was a diligent and enthusiastic student. His serious interest in books began at the age of ten when he read The Old Curiosity Shop by Charles Dickens and subsequently encouraged by his father and inspired by the family library, his literary interest grew. Juvenilia, written at this time, was published in 1995 in The Poetry of George Gissing. He was also skilled at drawing. Gissing's father died when he was 12 years old and he and his brothers were sent to Lindow Grove School at Alderley Edge in Cheshire, where he was a solitary student who studied hard. In 1872, after an exceptional performance in the Oxford Local Examinations, Gissing won a scholarship to Owens College, forerunner of the University of Manchester. There he remained solitary, continued his intense studies and won many prizes, including the Poem Prize in 1873 and the Shakespeare scholarship in 1875. Gissing's academic career ended in disgrace when he fell in love with a young woman, Marianne Helen Harrison, known as Nell. She is often described as a prostitute, but there is no evidence for this. It is reported that he gave her money in an attempt to keep her off the streets, but again there is no evidence. What is known is that when he ran short of money, he stole from his fellow students. The college hired a detective to investigate the thefts and Gissing was prosecuted, found guilty, expelled and sentenced to a month's hard labour in Belle Vue Gaol, Manchester, in 1876. In September 1876, with support from sympathisers, he travelled to the United States where he spent time in Boston and

Waltham Massachusetts writing and teaching classics When his money ran out he moved to Chicago where he earned a precarious living writing short stories for newspapers including the Chicago Tribune He lived in poverty until he met a travelling salesman in need of an assistant and Gissing demonstrated his products These experiences partially inspired his 1891 novel New Grub Street In September 1877 Gissing left America and returned to England

The Unclassed, by George Gissing Novel-Illustrated George Gissing, 2016-05-02 Although little known today George Gissing's 1856-1903 second published novel The Unclassed deserves to be read and remembered The book was written in 1884 and published as a three decker novel for which Gissing received the paltry sum of 30 pounds In 1895 when he had received some recognition as a novelist Gissing edited The Unclassed by cutting about one third of the initial text and writing a short Preface Although it seems to me the weaker of the two versions the second edition of The Unclassed is virtually always used when the book is reissued The novel was an ambitious effort for a young struggling writer of 26 with broad themes of love friendship social alienation and urban life It includes powerful scenes of the slums of Victorian London and a treatment of prostitution which for its day was frank and explicit With all this The Unclassed is primarily a love story Waymark is torn between two women the conventional prim and religious Maud Enderby and Ida Starr Ida is working as a prostitute when Waymark meets her The two establish a friendship as Waymark brings her books and encourages Ida's interest in educating and uplifting herself Casti is manipulated into marriage by a woman named Harriet Smales who also is a prostitute But in contrast to Ida Harriet is lowlife She ultimately destroys both Casti's manuscripts and his life and bears false witness to send Ida Starr to six months in prison With his terrible marriage Casti also falls in love with Ida one of the love interests of Waymark provoking both Waymark's and Harriet's jealousy The novel is at its best in the portrayals of the squalid parts of London where Waymark takes work as a collector of rents to support himself while he writes his long novel including the filthy tenements and the sordid bars Gissing also has a sense for portraying viciousness in the persons of Harriet and Smiley a denizen of the slums The book also shows bohemian literary life as it describes long conversations into the night between Waymark and Casti on art philosophy and literature Both Waymark and Casti are inveterate walkers at all hours of the London streets and Gissing captures their endless ramblings through the city Although restrained to meet Victorian expectations there is much discussion in this book about middle class sexual standards and expectations and about prostitution in the persons of Ida Harriet and some other women In the best known scene of The Unclassed Ida Starr immerses herself in the ocean on a dark night during a brief holiday in the hopes of cleansing what she sees as the stain of her way of life and beginning anew The book is frequently criticized for its idealistic romanticized portrayal of Ida Starr Gissing seems all too ready to assume her ability to rise in a short time to a high emotional and intellectual level given the life in which she finds herself The book also appears conflicted between its apparent goal of taking a realistic dispassionate look at slum life on the one hand and the preaching didactic and idealistic elements which permeate the story The book moves uneasily between a realistic novel and a novel of ideas But these conflicts are also part of the book s and the author s unique strength and character This form of divided sensitivity is still prevalent for many and is a source of the fascination and passion that a group of readers still has for Gissing
