include Indigenous peoples within settler temporal frameworks Claims that Native peoples should be recognized as coeval with Euro Americans Rifkin argues implicitly treat dominant non native ideologies and institutions as the basis for defining time itself How though can Native peoples be understood as dynamic and changing while also not assuming that they belong to a present inherently shared with non natives Drawing on physics phenomenology queer studies and postcolonial theory Rifkin develops the concept of settler time to address how Native peoples are both consigned to the past and inserted into the present in ways that normalize non native histories geographies and expectations Through analysis of various kinds of texts including government documents film fiction and autobiography he explores how Native experiences of time exceed and defy such settler impositions In underscoring the existence of multiple temporalities Rifkin illustrates how time plays a crucial role in Indigenous peoples expressions of sovereignty and struggles for self determination

Phantom Past, Indigenous Presence Colleen E. Boyd, Coll-Peter Thrush, 2011-06-01 The imagined ghosts of Native Americans have been an important element of colonial fantasy in North America ever since European settlements were established in the seventeenth century Native burial grounds and Native ghosts have long played a role in both regional and local folklore and in the national literature of the United States and Canada as settlers struggled to create a new identity for themselves that melded their European heritage with their new North American frontier surroundings In this interdisciplinary volume Colleen E Boyd and Coll Thrush bring together scholars from a variety of fields to discuss this North American fascination with the phantom Native American Phantom Past Indigenous Presence explores the importance of ancestral spirits and historic places in Indigenous and settler communities as they relate to territory and history in particular cultural political social historical and environmental contexts From examinations of how individuals reacted to historical cases of hauntings to how Native phantoms have functioned in the literature of North Americans to interdisciplinary studies of how such beliefs and narratives allowed European settlers and Indigenous people to make sense of the legacies of colonialism and conquest these essays show how the past and the present are intertwined through these stories

Conformity and Resistance in America Jacek Gutorow, Tomasz Lebiecki, 2007 Conformity and Resistance in America a collection of thirty six essays from various fields of the U S studies addresses the American culture as a space of fruitful tensions between the generally acknowledged canons and the projects that have questioned and subverted its very foundations and archives The book seeks to give justice to those areas of American culture that traditionally used to be treated as marginal and negligible but which in fact have added up to its uniqueness This includes various areas of American cultural and literary studies gender and minority studies themes of diasporic communities multi ethnic and multicultural society problems of global economy and of competing worldwide ideologies The papers included in this book try to answer pressing questions of the American identity in the post 9 11 world and do so by pointing to the recent oehumanities crisis as well as revealing moments of heterogeneity and discontinuity in the making of any culture Contrary to Samuel Huntington TM s dictum telling us of the inevitable oeclash of civilizations the following essays concentrate on what Edward W Said called oehumanism TM s sphere the sphere of antagonizing discourses and narratives which challenge rather than confirm the bases of their legitimacy Wavering between conformity and resistance the essays propose possible formulas for the new American identity as it strives to define and project itself into the new century Dancing with Ghosts Patrick Joseph Gleason,2007 Cultural Studies in the EFL Classroom Werner Delanoy,Laurenz Volkmann,2006 Sherman Alexie Liz Sonneborn,2012-07-15 Sherman Alexie won the 2007 National Book Award for young people s literature with his acclaimed novel The Absolutely True Diary of a Part Time Indian The novel was inspired by the problems struggles and occasional triumphs he experienced as a teenager Alexie had a long career before writing a YA novel He has been a poet a short story writer a novelist a screenwriter a comedian and a musician No matter what medium he works in Alexie attracts fans that love exploring the gorgeous lonely magical and terrifying worlds he creates This enthralling narrative gives teen readers an intimate portrait of Alexie from his birth when he was diagnosed with hydrocephalus and youth on the Spokane Indian Reservation to his establishment as a rising star in American literature Among his acclaimed books are Lone Ranger and Tonto Fistfight in Heaven Reservation Blues and Indian Killer and his screenplay Smoke Signals He also wrote and directed the film The Business of Fancydancing He won the PEN Faulkner Award for Fiction in 2010 with War Dances a collection of short stories interspersed with poems Also included are fact sheets on Alexie and his writing critical reviews of his works and a timeline American Indian Biographies Harvey Markowitz,Carole A. Barrett,2005 Contains biographical sketches ranging in length from 300 to 3 000 words on figures in North American Indian history extending from the arrival of European colonists on North American shores to the early twenty first century American Literary Scholarship James Leslie Woodress,2005 American Ethnic Writers ,2009 Covers numerous ethnic writers and their works All major American ethnicities are covered African American Asian American Jewish American Hispanic Latino and Native American Writing the Future of Black America Daniel Grassian,2009 An insightful exploration into the works of African American writers born in the 1960s and 1970s Writing the Future of Black America explores the work of eight representative African American writers of the hip hop generation to assess their common themes and offer insights into contemporary race relations in America as expressed and challenged in their works In this groundbreaking study Daniel Grassian takes as his subjects a group of impressive novelists essayists poets and playwrights Paul Beatty Trey Ellis Terrence Hayes Allison Joseph Jake Lamar Suzan Lori Parks Danzy Senna and Colson Whitehead to chart the depths of their literary work against that of their predecessors in the civil rights generation and their predominantly white contemporaries of Generation X. Characterized by the pursuit of empowerment through hybridity, social criticism, and personal expression, hip hop has become the music and culture of choice for a sizable portion of America regardless of race or socioeconomic standing. Meanwhile, the writers of this generation have received little serious critical attention aside from singular book reviews and occasional essays. Grassian fills in a gap in the discourse with his thorough analysis of the works crafted by these distinguished hip hop writers, and he makes a case for the validity and value of studying their sophisticated engagements with race in contemporary America. Selected because their work addresses a broad range of African American life, these writers fathom such topics as what it means to be African American or multiethnic in an increasingly global society, what role art and literature play in affecting their communities, and what positive and negative authority has been assigned to popular culture and hip hop culture specifically in modern African American life. Choice, 2009
