Uncovering African Agency Angolas Management Of Chinas Credit Lines:

Uncovering African Agency Lucy Corkin, 2016-02-17 China's engagement in Africa is generally portrayed simply as African countries being exploited for their mineral wealth by a wealthy political and economic superpower. Is this always the case? Certain African countries have been able to use China's involvement in the region to grow their economies and solicit renewed interest from previously disengaged foreign powers by using their relationship with China to bolster their political capital. In this thought provoking and original work Lucy Corkin demonstrates how Angola has been amongst the most successful of African nations in this role. The concept of African agency covers a wide range of different countries with very different capabilities and experiences of engaging with China. In each individual country there are a myriad of actors all with increasingly discernible agencies. Uncovering African Agency: Angola's Management of China's Credit Lines casts a fascinating new light on China's involvement with her largest African trading partner and through this shows how different African states and the governmental actors within them are able to exploit the relationship to their best advantage.

Chinese Energy Companies in Africa T. Kasandra Behrndt-Eriksen, 2020-09-15 Over the last decade Chinese energy companies have engaged in the acquisition of oil and gas in Africa. This book investigates the activities of Chinese energy companies throughout a number of African countries including Nigeria, Angola, Sudan and Tunisia. Based on seven years of empirical research and hundreds of interviews with Chinese government and company representatives Chinese Energy Companies in Africa breaks original ground in understanding the emergence of domestic interest groups in foreign policy. It examines the impact of non state actors on Chinese foreign policy and in particular the increasing role played by national oil companies (NOCs). Supported by extensive data this is also the first publication of its kind to focus on the foreign policy behaviour of an authoritarian state and the role herein played by non state actors. In addition to the main cases put forward a chapter of comparative mini cases is included. This book creates important implications for both policymakers and scholars; it will serve as a valuable resource for those involved in the fields of foreign policy, international security and international relations.

Ugandan Agency within China-Africa Relations Barney Walsh, 2022-09-22 In this book Barney Walsh presents an in depth study of China's involvement in East Africa through specific focus on President Museveni of Uganda who has been uniquely influential in utilising China's presence to shape regional security dynamics in his favour. Focussing primarily on the period 2010-2015 Walsh places the spotlight on the Coalition of the Willing formed between Uganda, Kenya and Rwanda who undertook high profile exciting but controversial regional integration projects without Tanzania and Burundi. Key to those efforts were Chinese funded mega infrastructure projects such as the Standard Gauge Railway and Uganda's oil pipeline. Walsh's analysis of the East African Community (EAC) reveals China's role in ongoing security issues related to terrorism resulting from the country's role in small arms and light weapons (SALW) proliferation and the global ivory trade. Additionally China is heavily implicated in the region's oil sector as it is a market for oil involved in developing the sector and a key partner in mega infrastructure construction Throughout this though the EAC as an institution has been trying to stabilise regional security dynamics and strengthen its institutional role it has been unduly influenced by the personalities and presence of key African leaders Here Museveni's role in such processes has been crucial as he has made great efforts to utilise Chinese engagement in order to shape regional processes

The Specter of Global China Ching Kwan

Lee, 2018-01-03 China has recently emerged as one of Africa's top business partners aggressively pursuing its raw materials and establishing a mighty presence in the continent's booming construction market Among major foreign investors in Africa China has stirred the most fear hope and controversy For many the specter of a Chinese neocolonial scramble is looming while for others China is Africa's best chance at economic renewal Yet global debates about China in Africa have been based more on rhetoric than on empirical evidence Ching Kwan Lee's The Specter of Global China is the first comparative ethnographic study that addresses the critical question Is Chinese capital a different kind of capital Offering the clearest look yet at China's state driven investment in Africa this book is rooted in six years of extensive fieldwork in copper mines and construction sites in Zambia Africa's copper giant Lee shadowed Chinese Indian and South African managers in underground mines interviewed Zambian miners and construction workers and worked with Zambian officials Distinguishing carefully between Chinese state capital and global private capital in terms of their business objectives labor practices managerial ethos and political engagement with the Zambian state and society she concludes that Chinese state investment presents unique potential and perils for African development The Specter of Global China will be a must read for anyone interested in the future of China Africa and capitalism worldwide

Towards

Democratic Development States in Southern Africa Kanyenze, Godfrey, Jauch, Herbert, 2016-12-14 The dawn of the twenty first century heralded an apparent change of fortunes for most sub Saharan African economies with annual growth averaging over 5% for fifteen years However this was not accompanied by structural transformation poverty food insecurity unemployment and inequality persist Structural transformation has not been and indeed cannot be delivered by market forces and neoliberal economic policies it requires a state committed to development and to achieving it in a democratic way

To what extent do the countries of Southern Africa exhibit the characteristics of such a developmental state? What steps if any do they need to take in order to become one? The book answers the questions with respect to South Africa, Botswana, Namibia, Zimbabwe, Angola, and Malawi. Godfrey Kanyenze and his colleagues have assembled a distinguished team of writers to take the temperature of the regional political economy and chart a path for its future development.

Handbook of BRICS and Emerging Economies P. B. Anand, Shailaja Fennell, Flavio Comim, 2021

Ever since Jim O'Neill at Goldman Sachs coined the term BRICS in 2001, there have been many different assessments of these major emerging economies, with some even proclaiming that the promise of the BRICS comprising Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa is over. However, the so-called arranged marriage still seems to be working well, with the club having become a formal international forum with summit declarations, ministerial meetings, and numerous BRICS-wide fora. Is this euphoria misplaced? Is there a BRICS model of economic and human development? Are inequalities increasing, and is this the denouncement of the economic successes? The Handbook of BRICS and Emerging Economies presents a comprehensive and multi-faceted analysis of the BRICS countries and other emerging economies, exploring their economic, social, environmental, and governance dimensions and other challenges. It brings together multi-disciplinary perspectives from more than fifty authors to examine how education contributed to the emergence of BRICS, how BRICS are impacting African economies, and how other emerging economies including Chile, Mexico, Turkey, and others in Africa and Central Asia compare. It observes the impact of governance challenges both within individual countries and in the forum for co-operation amongst them, what issues related to gender and identity-based violence are prevalent, and what the security implications are, and the role of BRICS is in contributing to peace-keeping operations.

Working the System Jon Schubert, 2017-11-15

Working the System offers key insights into the politics of the everyday in twenty-first century dominant party and neo-authoritarian regimes in Africa and elsewhere. Detailing the many ways ordinary Angolans fashion their relationships with the system, an emic notion of their current political and socioeconomic environment, Jon Schubert explores what it means and how it feels to be part of the contemporary Angolan polity. Schubert finds that for many ordinary Angolans, the benefits of the post-conflict New Angola, flush with oil wealth and in the midst of a construction boom, are few. The majority of the inhabitants of the capital, Luanda, struggle to make ends meet and live on under 2.00 per day. The New Angola, as promoted by the ruling MPLA, Schubert contends, is an essentially urban, upwardly mobile, and aspirational project premised on the acceptance of the regime's political and economic dominance by its citizens. In the first ethnography of Angola to be published since the end of that country's twenty-seven years of intermittent violent internal conflict in 2002, Schubert traces how Angolans may question and resist the system within an atmosphere of apparent compliance. Working the System will appeal to anthropologists and political scientists, urban sociologists, and scholars of African studies.

The China Question Dragan Pavličević, Nicole Talmacs, 2022-05-03

The China Question: Contestations and Adaptations provides fresh perspectives on and empirics about China's international relations through the lens of the local and regional configurations and developments around the world While China's foreign policy strategies have received much attention and in particular the Belt and Road Initiative BRI the local contestations and or adaptations that China provokes in the countries and regions it engages remain under researched In this book a global collection of scholars examines how countries societies and individuals around the world are responding to China's rise

Corruption, Grabbing and Development Tina Søreide, Aled Williams, 2013-12-27 The book's sixteen case studies explore why certain practices constitute forms of grabbing what implications they have for the achievement of development goals and how policy options should take the characteristics of grabbing into account

China-Africa and an Economic Transformation Arkebe Ogubay, Justin Yifu Lin, 2019 This volume considers China-Africa relations in the context of a global division of labour and power and through the history and experiences of both China and Africa It examines the core ideas of structural transformation productive investment and industrialization international trade infrastructure development and financing

From Millennium Development Goals to Sustainable Development Goals Kobena T. Hanson, Korbla P. Pupilampu, Timothy M. Shaw, 2017-08-07 Millennium development goals MDGs and sustainable development goals SDGs have significant implications for global development in particular for African countries This book seeks to assist Africa's policy makers and political leaders MNCs and NGOs plus its increasingly heterogeneous media landscape to understand and better respond or negotiate the evolving development environment of the 21st century In this collection of nuanced essays the contributors interrogate the relationship between the MDGs and SDGs in key areas of African development to enhance our understanding and knowledge of the evolving nature of development They address issues of governance agriculture south-south cooperation in a context of foreign aid natural resource governance and sustainable development export diversification and economic growth as well as emerging topics such as the internet of things or the sharing economy climate change conflict and non-traditional security The varied yet interlinked foci present a holistic overview of Africa's development aspirations and ability to transform the SDGs universal aspirations into local realities This book will be of use to academics and students in Development Studies Contemporary African Studies Political Science Policy Studies and Geography and should also appeal to policy makers and development practitioners

Africa's Shadow Rise Doctor Padraig Carmody, Peter Kragelund, Ricardo Reboledo, 2020-09-17 For years economists have spoken of Africa rising and despite the global financial crisis Africa continues to host some of the fastest growing economies in the world Africa's Shadow Rise however argues that the continent's apparent economic rise is essentially a mirage driven by developments elsewhere most particularly the expansion in China's economy While many African countries have experienced high rates of growth much of this growth may prove to be unsustainable and has contributed to environmental destruction and worsening inequality across the continent Similarly new economic relationships have produced new forms of dependency as African nations increasingly find themselves tied to the fortunes of China and other emerging powers Drawing on in-depth fieldwork in southern Africa Africa

s Shadow Rise reveals how the shifting balance of global power is transforming Africa's economy and politics and what this means for the future of development efforts in the region The End of China's Non-Intervention Policy in Africa

Obert Hodzi, 2018-10-22 This book gives a compelling analysis and explanation of shifts in China's non intervention policy in Africa Systematically connecting the neoclassical realist theoretical logic with an empirical analysis of China's intervention in African civil wars the volume highlights a methodical interlink between theoretical and empirical analysis that takes into consideration the changing status of rising powers in the global system and its effect on their intervention behaviour Based on field research and expert interviews it provides a rigorous analysis of China's emergent intervention behaviour in some key African conflicts in Libya South Sudan and Mali and broadens the study of external interventions in civil wars to include the intervention behaviour of non Western rising powers Obert Hodzi is Visiting Researcher at the African Studies Center Boston University USA and Postdoctoral Researcher at the University of Helsinki Finland Exit from Hegemony Alexander Cooley, Daniel Nexon, 2020-02-28 We live in a period of uncertainty about the fate of America's global leadership Many believe that Donald Trump's presidency marks the end of liberal international order the very system of global institutions rules and values that shaped the international system since the end of World War II Exit from Hegemony Alexander Cooley and Daniel Nexon develop a new approach to understanding the rise and decline of hegemonic orders They identify three ways in which the liberal international order is transforming The Trump administration declaring America First accelerates all three processes lessening America's position as a world power China-Africa Relations Kathryn Batchelor, Xiaoling Zhang, 2017-06-26 The recent rapid growth in China's involvement in Africa is being promoted by both Chinese and African leaders as being conducted in a spirit of cooperation friendship and equality In the media and informally however a different less harmonious picture emerges This book explores how China and Africa really regard each other how official images are manufactured and how informal images are nevertheless shaped and put forward The book covers a wide range of areas where China Africa exchange exists including diplomacy technological cooperation sport culture and arts exchange The book also discusses the historical development of the relationship and how it is likely to develop going forward China Risen?

Shaun Breslin, 2021-02-18 This major new study examines the nature of Chinese power and its impact on the international order Drawing on an extensive range of Chinese language debates and discussions the book explains the roles of different actors and interests in Chinese international interactions and how they influence the nature of Chinese strategies for global change It also gives a unique perspective on how assessments of the consequences of China's rise are formed and how and why these understandings change Providing an important challenge to scholars and policy makers who seek to engage with China the book demonstrates just how far starting assumptions can influence the questions asked evidence sought and conclusions reached Development Theory and Practice in a Changing World Pádraig Carmody, 2019-04-09 Taking a critical and historical view this text explores the theory and changing practice of international development It provides an overview of how the field has evolved and the concrete impacts of this on the ground on the lives of people in the Global South Development Theory and Practice in a Changing World covers the major theories of development such as modernisation and dependency in addition to anti development theories such as post modernism and decoloniality It examines the changing nature of immanent structural conditions of development in addition to the main attempts to steer them imminent development The book suggests that the era of development as a hegemonic idea and practice may be coming to an end at the same time as it appears to have achieved its apogee in the Sustainable Development Goals as a result of the rise of ultra nationalism around the world the increasing importance of securitisation and the existential threat posed by climate change Whether development can or should survive as a concept is interrogated in the book This book offers a fresh and updated take on the past 60 years of development and is essential reading for advanced undergraduate students in areas of development geography international studies political science economics and sociology Magnificent and Beggar

Land Ricardo Soares de Oliveira, 2015-04-02 Magnificent and Beggar Land is a powerful account of fast changing dynamics in Angola an important African state that is a key exporter of oil and diamonds and a growing power on the continent Based on three years of research and extensive first hand knowledge of Angola it documents the rise of a major economy and its insertion in the international system since it emerged in 2002 from one of Africa s longest and deadliest civil wars The government backed by a strategic alliance with China and working hand in glove with hundreds of thousands of expatriates many from the former colonial power Portugal has pursued an ambitious agenda of state led national reconstruction This has resulted in double digit growth in Sub Saharan Africa s third largest economy and a state budget in excess of total western aid to the entire continent Scarred by a history of slave trading colonial plunder and war Angolans now aspire to the building of a decent society How has the regime led by President Jos Eduardo dos Santos since 1979 dealt with these challenges and can it deliver on popular expectations Soares de Oliveira s book charts the remarkable course the country has taken in recent years China's Trade and Investment in Africa Alpha Furbell Lisimba, 2020-12-21 The core argument of this book is that

China poses both challenges and creates opportunities for Africa and that the transformative potentials of China Africa engagements can be compared to Africa s experiences with European colonialism However it would be patently misleading to claim any equivalence between African experiences of European colonialism with Africa s engagements with China Although China does not replicate the exact colonial model its actions have all elements of dependent relations thus underpinning neo colonialism with Chinese characteristics Analysing China s growing economic relations with Africa this book posits that Africa s underdevelopment situation with China does not indicate a significant point of departure from the colonial model of development because China s actions in Africa although not exactly colonial have all possibilities of Neocolonialist model with Chinese characteristics As such the author argues that China s increasing trade FDI inflow and influence on the economic growth and development in Africa will result in a long term negative impact in development outcomes and capacity building governance practice democratic transition and human rights for future self reliance and sustainable development
