Monthly Index of Russian Accessions, 1958 Learning from Text Across Conceptual Domains Cynthia Hynd, 1998 This volume is an attempt to synthesize the understandings we have about reading to learn Although learning at all ages is discussed in this volume the main focus is on middle and high school classrooms critical spaces of learning and thinking The amount of knowledge presented in written form is increasing and the information we get from texts is often conflicting We are in a knowledge explosion that leaves us reeling and may effectively disenfranchise those who are not keeping up There has never been a more crucial time for students to understand learn from and think critically about the information in various forms of text Thus understanding what it means to learn is vital for all educators Learning from text is a complex matter that includes student factors social ethnic and cultural differences as well as varying motivations self perceptions goals and needs instructional and teacher factors and disciplinary and social factors One important goal of the book is to encourage practicing teachers to learn to consider their students in new ways to see them as being influenced by and as influencing not just the classroom but the total fabric of the disciplines they are learning Equally important it is intended to foster further research efforts from local studies of classrooms by teachers to large scale studies that produce generalizable understandings about learning from text This volume a result of the editor s and contributors work with the National Reading Research Center will be of interest to all researchers graduate students practicing teachers and teachers in training who are interested in understanding the issues that are central to improving students learning from text

Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension M. Anne Britt, Jean-François Rouet, Amanda Durik, 2017-07-06 Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension aims to systematically investigate how readers interpret reading tasks within a situation and how that interpretation influences reading behavior and comprehension Presenting a new model of REading as problem SOLVing RESOLV the authors describe reading comprehension in terms of how a reader adopts goals within a particular situation that then guide what is read when and how By applying the RESOLV model to a range of reading situations this book provides evidence to suggest that there is no unitary understanding of a task because individuals bring their own goals and characteristics to the situation as such it demonstrates the importance of understanding how a reader e g student test taker employee completing a work task represents the context and the specific assignment Written by internationally recognized learning sciences scholars Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension advances the state of the art in reading research but also seeks to inform a broader range of audiences including those interested in the teaching and the assessment of reading

The Psychology of Science Text Comprehension Jose Otero, Jos, A. León, Arthur C. Graesser, 2014-04-04 This volume s goal is to provide readers with up to date information on the research and theory of scientific text comprehension It is widely acknowledged that the comprehension of science and technological artifacts is very difficult for both children and adults The material is conceptually complex there is very little background knowledge for most individuals and the materials are often poorly written Therefore it is no surprise that students are turned off from learning science and technology Given these challenges it is important to design scientific text in a fashion that fits the cognitive constraints of the learner The enterprise of textbook design needs to be effectively integrated with research in discourse processing educational technology and cognitive science This book takes a major step in promoting such an integration This volume provides an important integration of research and theory with theoretical methodological and educational applications includes a number of chapters that cover how science text information affects mental representations and strategies introduces important suggestions about how text design and new technologies can be thought of as pedagogical features and establishes academic text taxonomies and a consensus of the criteria to organize inferences and other mental mechanisms Understanding Reading Frank Smith,2004-05-20
