Understanding The University Institution Idea Possibilities Foundations And Futures Of Education:

Understanding the University Ronald Barnett, 2015-12-22 Understanding the University constitutes the final volume in a trilogy the first two books having been Being a University 2010 and Imagining the University 2012 and represents the trilogy's ultimate aims and endeavours. The three volumes together offer a unique attempt at a fairly systematic and exhaustive level to map out just what it might be seriously to understand the extraordinarily complex entity that is known across the world as the university. Through examination of the conditions and possibilities underlying and affecting universities this work offers an understanding of specific ideas of the university which can inform policies, strategies and practices in relation to the university. This book is a must read for leaders and senior managers in universities as well as those undertaking postgraduate studies in the policy and practice of higher education. Being a University Ronald Barnett, 2010-10-06 The university both in its form and the ideas through which it is understood continues to evolve. In this book Ron Barnett questions just what is it to be a university and what might the university become. Developing Transformative Spaces in Higher Education Sue Jackson, 2018-03-19 Higher education has been presented as a solution to a host of local and global problems despite the fact that learning and assessment can also be used as mechanisms for exclusion and social control. Developing Transformative Spaces in Higher Education: Learning to Transgress demonstrates that even when knowledge may appear to be the solution it can be partial and disempowering to all but the dominant groups. The book shows the need to contest such knowledge claims and to learn to transgress rather than to conform. It argues that transformative spaces need to be found and that these should be about the creation of new opportunities, ways of knowing and ways of being. Working in and through spaces of transgression the contributors to this volume develop frameworks for the possibilities of transformative spaces in learning and teaching in higher education. The book critiques the ways in which Western higher education culture determines the academic agenda in relation to dialogue on social differences, minority groups and hierarchical structures including issues of representation among different groups in the population. It also explores the personal and political costs of transgression and outlines ways in which transitions can be transformative. The book should be of interest to academics, researchers and postgraduate students engaged in the study of higher education, education studies, teacher training, social justice and transformation. It should also be essential reading for practitioners working in post-compulsory education. Academic Activism in Higher Education Nuraan Davids, Yusef Waghid, 2021-03-24 This book argues for renewed understandings of academic activism, understandings that conceive of the ideas, arguments and scholarship of the academy as embedded within the practices of what the academy does. It examines why and how a renewed notion of academic activism informs a philosophy of higher education specifically in relation to teaching and learning. The book focuses on the theories and practices of teaching and learning in particular how such pedagogical actions are guided by social, political and cultural influences outside of the university as a higher education institution. The authors advocate for a living philosophy of higher education that is commensurate with real actions and imaginary fictions of what constitutes higher education and what remains in becoming for the discourse With a focus on South African social justice education the book imagines pathways for academic activism to manifest in revolutionised pedagogical actions or actions that bring into contestation what already exists with the possibility for the cultivation of renewal A Marxist Critique of the Ruined University Krystian Szadkowski, Jakub Krzeski, 2025-04-21 This book revitalizes the Marxian concept of critique for research into the transformation of universities It consists of a set of comprehensive and interconnected theoretical tools starting from the reflection on the political ontology of higher education through the critique of political economy of the sector to the analysis of activist struggles within the universities and back to the ontological concept of the common a foundation for the university alternative design The tools offered and discussed in context throughout the book allow for a productive use in overcoming the current crisis of the university as well as to avoid the pitfalls present in contemporary debates around it Unlike the dominant discussions on the university in crisis the authors argue that to grasp its nature one has to reach more profound than the level of appearances such as marketization and commodification Szadkowski and Krzeski offer a compelling reappraisal of critique as a mechanism to liberate intellectual work By linking critique to how knowledge is structured and commodified they help us transcend reductionist narratives of a crisis ridden University Prioritising ontological renewal they embrace the political and the common enriching our collective ways of knowing the world as a movement Pivoting around academic and student protests in Poland the book enables us to imagine spaces and times of critical hope that resist the capitalist subjugation of intellectual activity to knowledge production Richard Hall Professor of Education and Technology De Montfort University Leicester UK In the century since Antonio Gramsci new works in the Marxist tradition have made only modest contributions to social thought the combined result of the savage repression in the West of the dangerous revolutionary ideas plus the collapse in the East into jacobin conspiracy and dogmatism If a living vibrant Marxism had been part of the twentieth century mainstream then much catastrophe would have been averted Now the drive for capital accumulation sovereign individualism and rampant nationalism have brought us to the brink of ecological disaster and World War III Into the void step two emerging scholars Krystian Szadkowski and Jakub Krzeski with an original Marxist critique of higher education and the common good There is hope in this development vital resources for reflection discussion and action Simon Marginson Professor of Higher Education at the Universities of Bristol and Oxford UK Honorary Professor at Tsinghua University in China and Joint Editor in Chief of the journal Higher Education The Journal of the National Education Association National Education Association of the United States, 1925 Journal of the National Education Association, 1925 Resources in Education, 1990 The Congregationalist, 1925 The Rotarian, 1927-05 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel
