European Union Economic Law and Culture Evangelia Psychogiopoulou, Sarah Schoenmaekers, 2024-05-02 This topical book provides fresh insight into the ways culture interconnects with and is treated by EU economic law and policy Contributing authors pose key questions pertaining to the nature scope and extent of the competence of the EU and its member states in the field of culture

Constructing the EU's Political Identity Sabine Saurugger, Mark Thatcher, 2022-10-23 This book examines the construction of the EU s political identity or identities variations in its strength and the nature of its content Drawing on studies both on European nation state formation and on the EU s identity the chapters take a top down approach and analyse how EU institutions in different major policy domains have themselves sought to create political identity through policy making The authors define the construction of EU political identity and set out empirically applicable indicators to assess political identity in policy making They analyse the construction of identity through a process oriented approach that explicitly includes contestation and the existence of rival political identities Comparing across policy domains the contributions suggest that the ability of EU institutions to construct an EU political identity has been limited not only by existing national identities but also by the coexistence of rival EU political identities within policy domains Hence it has been difficult for EU institutions to establish a strong identity with identity being strongest where there are clear external alternatives and limited rival identities within the EU Economic and Political Weekly, 2005-09

Building Europe Cris Shore, 2000 In this revealing study Cris Shore scrutinises the process of European integration using the techniques of anthropology and drawing on thought from across the social sciences The Cultural Politics of Europe Kiran Klaus Patel, 2013-06-07 Culture is one of the most complex and contested fields of European integration This book analyzes EU cultural politics since their emergence in the 1980s with a particular focus on the European Capital of Culture program the flagship of EU cultural policy It discusses both the central as well as local levels and contextualizes EU policies with programmes of other European organisations such as the Council of Europe By asking what Europe actually means for European cultural policy the book goes beyond the confines of official organizations and the political sphere to discuss the contribution impact and appropriation among a more diverse group of actors and participants such as transnational experts local bureaucrats cultural managers urban dwellers and the visitors Its principal aim is to debunk the myth of Brussels as the centre of cultural Europeanization Instead it argues that European cultural policy has to be seen as a relational multi directional movement involving a wide variety of stakeholders and leading to conflicts and collaborations at various levels This book combines the perspectives of political scientists sociologists anthropologists and historians at the intersection between EU urban and cultural studies and changes our understanding of Europeanization by opening up new empirical and conceptual avenues Challenging the dominant interpretation of European cultural policies The Cultural Politics of Europe will be of interest to students and scholars of European studies political scientists sociologists anthropologists geographers historians and cultural studies The politics of feeling in Brexit Britain Jonathan Moss, Emily Robinson, Jake Watts, 2024-01-16 During Brexit political questions were continually framed in emotional terms The referendum was presented as a conflict between reason and resentment fear and hope heads and hearts The Leave vote was interpreted as the triumph of passion over rationality and its aftermath triggered concerns about the divisive impact of feelings on political culture This book examines how these stories about feelings shaped public experiences and determined political possibilities The politics of feeling uses first hand accounts to explore how ordinary people understand their own feelings about the referendum and how they reacted to the feelings of others It shows how they drew on public narratives while also rejecting and reworking them The authors highlight a dangerous contradiction whereby feelings were simultaneously understood as dangerous and illegitimate and as an authentic reflection of our inner selves This had its own political consequences
